

SECRETARY DANIELS RAPS IMPERIALISM

Praises Diplomacy of Dewey at Manila and Singles Out Notable Achievements.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 12.—Imperialism, as practiced by the United States following the Spanish-American war, came in for severe criticism by Secretary of the Navy Daniels here when he addressed the summer session of the Naval War College on the subject of diplomacy and its relation to United States officers abroad.

American history from John Paul Jones in Holland to Admiral Mayo at Tampico was reviewed to furnish examples of the naval officer as a diplomat. Without Commander Perry, followed by the Secretary as the greatest diplomat that ever wore the navy uniform and his feat of opening the way to a parallel in commerce with the Louisiana purchase.

Praises Perry's Diplomacy. "If all our diplomacy in the Spanish-American war had been modeled after that of Matthew C. Perry, the United States might not have yielded to the temptation of imperialism," continued the Secretary.

TELLS OF WRIGHT'S HAMILTON DECISION. Attorney L. H. David Details Refusal to Stay Hanging Pending Appeal.

The refusal of Justice Daniel Thew Wright to grant a stay of the sentence pending the appeal in the case of Hamilton, in 1905, and the subsequent reversal of Justice Wright's ruling by Chief Justice Sheppard of the Court of Appeals, was gone into today before the House subcommittee investigating the Wright impeachment charges by Attorney L. H. David.

Tells of Murder Case. At the outset of his testimony, Attorney David said that he had been a member of the District Bar for fifteen years. When asked to explain his connection with the case, Mr. David said that he was not in the courtroom when the defendant was arraigned for the murder of Lizzie Lyman. Justice Wright was sitting at the time of arraignment, and Assistant Clerk of the Court Smith sent for him and told him the man had attempted to plead guilty. He said that Justice Wright would not accept a plea of guilty in a capital case, and that the justice said he would assign to defend Hamilton. The clerk suggested my name, and Justice Wright asked me if I would defend him. I told him I would.

At the first trial before Justice Gould a conviction resulted, and when moved for a new trial, the court sustained my motion. The second trial was a new trial, and the conviction resulted. I presented a motion for a new trial and the justice overruled it. I decided to appeal the case, and on June 20 I was allowed a continuance for filing my bill of exceptions. The execution of Hamilton was set for November 15, 1905, and I felt that I would not get a hearing in the Appellate Court in time, so I sought a postponement of the execution.

Saw Justice Wright. "I debated which court I should go to for this stay in judgment. I saw Justice Wright and stated to him that I had appealed the case, and I would have an order staying the execution. I don't remember just what our conversation back and forth was, but I recall that Justice Wright said he would see Chief Justice Sheppard.

"I don't know whether he did or not, but at any rate, I filed my motion regularly for a stay of execution on October 13, 1905, in making out the order to be signed, I mentioned that it was agreeable with the district attorney that the postponement should ensue. This was not the desire of the district attorney, and that part of the order was stricken out. "My recollection is that there were no other bills, that the motion I don't know whether the court was absent or not. When I again saw the motion after filing it, it had been overruled by Justice Sheppard, and the higher court. "Overruled for the reason that there is no justification for the delay."

"On what ground did you seek a stay of execution? Justice Sheppard explained the matter to him, and the Court of Appeals stayed the execution until I had an opportunity to argue the case on appeal. The higher court affirmed the judgment of the lower court and Hamilton was hanged."

"Had your bill of exceptions been prepared promptly, the execution would have been sufficiently remote to permit arguments before the Court of Appeals," suggested Attorney Darlington.

"Yes, sir, I think so. If we had expedited the matter, we would have been in good time."

"Had you come within the rule of the court on appeal matters, you would not have had to expedite matters, and would have been in time."

To Overcome Sunburn Tan, Freckles, Wrinkles. "If your skin is unduly reddened, freckled or tanned, dab a liberal amount of mercurized wax on the face and allow it to remain over night. When you wash off the wax in the morning, freckles, almost invisible particles of cuticle, come quickly to the surface, but so gradually that you are not aware of their presence. Even the stubborn freckles are affected. The underlying skin which forms the new complexion is so fresh and youthful-looking, you'll marvel at the transformation. It's the only thing known to actually disperse an aged, faded, muddy or blotchy complexion. One ounce of mercurized wax, procurable at any drug store is sufficient in most cases."

'Dynamiter' Freed; Was Dead 14 Years

Luke Dillon, Alleged Irish Plotter in Attempt to Destroy Welland Canal, Pardoned—Identity Kept Secret When Sentenced to Life Imprisonment.

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—Mourned as dead for fourteen years, Luke Dillon, sixty-five, Irish patriot, and a former bank cashier, just released from the Kingston, Ontario, prison, was expected to rejoin his wife and children at Atlantic City today. Mrs. Dillon, sixty, and her five sons and daughter received word yesterday that their husband and father had been pardoned from his life sentence for alleged complicity in a Fenian plot to destroy the Welland canal.

THOUGHT DEAD BY CHILDREN. Luke Dillon's death was announced by his wife in 1900, when it was believed that he would end his days in prison. His children were reared in the belief that their father was dead.

When the feeling was running high in Canada over the Boer war, lock 24 of the Welland canal was destroyed. At this time Dillon, a member of the Clan-na-Gael, disappeared from Philadelphia. The Irish-Americans intensely hated the Canadians for their assistance to the home government in the Boer trouble. When arrested for complicity in the dynamite conspiracy he gave a false name to shield his family.

His release was secured by Matthew Cummings, of Newport, Mass., former national organizer of the Order of Hibernians, who urged that Dillon's work in bringing to justice the murderers of the Fenian plot be considered ground for leniency.

CITY PLAYGROUNDS WILL CLOSE TONIGHT

Children Will Lose Recreation Places Through Holding Up of Appropriation.

All save two of the municipal playgrounds will be closed at sundown tonight. Because of the lack of funds, due to the delay in the passage of the District government, today were ordered discontinued indefinitely by the Commissioners.

The Bruen Home, 2300 O street northwest and the Neighborhood House, in N street southwest, will remain open. Through the generosity of Arthur C. Moses, president of the Washington District government association, who has given a check for their operating expenses, these grounds will continue to be operated for a couple of weeks yet.

5000 Attendance Daily. The total average daily attendance at the playgrounds is 5,000. The locations and the average daily attendance at each are as follows: Roedeale, Seventeenth and Kraemer streets northeast, 450; Gardell Park, Third street and Belmont, 300; Virginia avenue, Eleventh street and Virginia avenue southeast, 230; Carletoz (colored), First and J streets southwest, 225; Neighborhood Center, 400; southwest, 200; Bruen Home, 2300 O street northwest, 200; New York avenue, 100; Northwest, 100; Howard (colored) Fifth and W streets northeast, 55; Gallinger, Nineteenth and E streets northwest, 55; and Bryant streets northwest, 50.

Instructors Dropped. Six assistant directors were dropped Thursday, which compelled the closing of the Garfield playgrounds. Thirty-one employees will be laid off tonight when the other playgrounds suspend operations. All the playgrounds will be opened as soon as additional funds are provided for Congress for their maintenance.

The bathing beach was open today, sufficient money having been subscribed through private donations to permit of its operation until July 15, when it is expected to be closed. Congress either will have passed the District appropriation bill or will have provided by a second continuing resolution for the District government. Today was "ladies' day." Fifty women and girls stand with their bathing suits open at 7 o'clock this morning. The boys began to appear at 8:30, an hour and a half before the hour of their admission to the pools. At 10 o'clock the number had increased to 150.

That this beach has been reopened has not yet become general news to the juvenile population," said an official of the institution this morning. "Twenty-five boys have been sent to the institution when the pools open at 10 o'clock."
