TENLEY TOWN GIRLS

HAVE ACTIVE TROOP

Under Leadership of Mrs. Walworth Cady Scouts Have Perfected Organization.

Girl Scout Troop, No. 11, is now conducting meetings every Wednesday afternoon at 8 o'clock.

On July 11, when Mrs. Walworth Cady, captain, held a meeting to form a troop of Girl Scouts in Tenleytown there were only twelve girls present.

On July 15 the troop had increased to sixteen girls, all of whom passed their "tenderfoot" examinations successfully.

At first the troop was without funds. Uniforms and Indispensables were needed.

With this and in view the troop gave a lawn party on July 22 and obtained enough money to meet the necessary expenditures of the troop.

The troop is now progressing rapidly, and has a membership enrollment of twenty-one. Dark blue is the color of the uniforms.

The members of the troop are Emily Barick, Rosa Brown, Edna Barick, Thelma Burrows, Christal Bangerter, Evelyn Colburn, Florence Derrick, Frances Eaton, Helen Hodges, Evelyn French, Julia Jones, Ruth King, Marie Kolb, Margaret Long, Leila Parks, Ivy Riley, Alice Humphreys, Marguerite Smith, Sarahott, Patia Smith, and Edna Linder.

More rapid-fire developments in the New York political situation are expected this week.

The Democrats will hold their State conference at Saratoga beginning Wednesday. It will probably then develop who is in the lead for the governorship.

The Progressive party will have a meeting at Utica on Thursday to nominate a State ticket.

Colonel Roosevelt will not run for governor, and either William H. Hochstetler or State Senator Davenport may be named.

The Republican situation has become more mixed than ever by the conference last week.

Colonel Roosevelt turned down former State Senator Hinman for governor on a coalition Republican-Progressive ticket.

Hinman is believed, will withdraw from the field. The Republican nomination for governor rests between J. E. Hedges and Charles D. Whitman.

On the United States side, indications are that James W. Wadsworth, Jr., will win out over Congressman Calder.

To add to the complications, John A. Hennessy continues to be an independent candidate for governor, and former Congressman "Bill" Suiter plans to run as an Independent.
