

New French Shell Is Terror of War

Explosive Wipes Out All Life Within 400 Yards, Is Reported—Sheep Killed as If Petrified in Early Test, Writes Englishman.

LONDON, Sept. 19. (By mail to New York).—Whether the French are really using turpentine, the newest war terror, reported to be in possession of England's ally, is a matter of great speculation in England. This new explosive, which has aroused the greatest discussion throughout the world, is declared to be so deadly in its effect that all life is exterminated within a radius of 400 yards of one of the exploding shells. Regiments of Germans are reported to have been found dead in their trenches, their rifles still in their hands, not a mark on their bodies, but with the long line of corpses standing as though in life.

COULD WIPE OUT NATIONS, CLAIM.

The Daily Express declares that a French note to the editor for years and months is generally well informed, has written as follows, concerning turpentine: "The new explosive was invented two years ago by M. Turpin, the 'parent' inventor of melinite and lyddite, and is undoubtedly the most terrific and most deadly death dealing high power explosive ever known. So lethal in its effect is the new shell in explosion, that it could wipe out entire nations, would be completely exterminated in the course of a few weeks. For this reason its use is probably prohibited by articles of the International Hague Convention, though M. Turpin, himself, denies claiming this is not the case." After telling of M. Turpin's dislike of the French war office methods and his advances following the government's acceptance of melinite and lyddite, the correspondent of the Express tells how Turpin set to work upon a new explosive which he endeavored to perfect. He would be practically useless. He worked for years, had a gun made himself, the shells being of different sizes and shapes, and then assembled and directed the making of the shells.

Sees Trial of New Explosive.

The mere chance enabled me to witness one of the early trials of the new explosive. For this reason I continued for a stretch of sand 500 yards from the water level a temporary sheep-pen had been erected, about 40 yards square, and filled with sheep. A dozen sheep and a couple of aged and worn-out horses.

One of the horses was contentedly munching away at some hay and the other was rubbing itself against one of the sides, when the sheep were huddled together in one corner. "This was what I saw through my glasses when the ridge some 200 yards away there came a sharp thud and the shrieking sound of a small explosion. In this space were a dozen sheep and a couple of aged and worn-out horses. One of the horses was contentedly munching away at some hay and the other was rubbing itself against one of the sides, when the sheep were huddled together in one corner.

Die As If Petrified.

When, ten minutes later, I reached the sheep looked for all the world as if they had been petrified. They were mostly standing up, one on top of the other. Three or four were lying down, but they were dead, with their eyes staring and their mouths open. It was absolutely chilling. Yet of all the animals only the old sheep had been mangled. The others were all standing up, but they were dead. The one that had been munching away at some hay was lying on its side.

Tried in Battle, Belief.

For special reasons which it would be unwise to divulge at the present moment, the French government has decided that these shells have not been used to any extent by the French in the field. Probably an actual trial of one of these shells was made, but the results were not published. It is believed that the terrible explosive will, however, be used in case of an eventuality. It is reported that the French have prepared a large number of these shells, and that they are being cast, this explosive, in the form of a shell, which is a five-six pound shell of which is made of a mixture of turpentine and nitro-glycerine. It is not to be used unless under the most desperate circumstances and only in the full confidence of France.

Secretary Garrison Names Army Retiring Board

A new retiring board, headed by Lieut. Henry G. Sharp, was designated Secretary of War Garrison today to pass upon the cases of army officers and to recommend their retirement. The other members of the board, which will be organized in Washington from time to time, are: Col. John L. C. Quartermaster, and Capt. Charles Richard, Medical Corps. Col. Richmond P. Davis, Coast Artillery, and Lieut. Col. Henry C. Fisher, Medical Corps.

Bad Complexions Peeled Off at Home

The girl with the poor complexion explains, "I have to touch up my complexion with make-up, and my skin is so dry that I have to use a lot of cream." Now, as a matter of fact, more women than ever before are turning to the use of ordinary mercurized wax as a means of removing their complexion. It has been found that the wax has wonderful solvent powers. It causes the faded or sallow complexion to peel off like a piece of old paper, and the new complexion, which is almost imperceptible, gradually, as to cause no irritation at all. In this way the old complexion is actually removed, and the new complexion is revealed. It is a clear, smooth, youthful, health-bringing wax, which can be used on the face, neck, throat, and body. It is a simple, safe, and effective method of removing the complexion. It is a simple, safe, and effective method of removing the complexion. It is a simple, safe, and effective method of removing the complexion.

IS REPORTED SLAIN

PRINCE ADALBERT OF GERMANY, Third son of the Kaiser, who has been reported as dead in a Belgium hospital. A Belgian physician leaving Brussels declares positively that the prince is dead, and that an autopsy showed death was due to a German bullet. This story is not verified, however, and is not fully accepted.

CASINO.

A country minstrel show that is a real show is playing at the Casino Theater this week by the Four Rubes and their orchestra. The show is a variety of music that will not soon be forgotten.

Two "Dry" Petitions Will Be Heard Next Friday

Hearings will be held Friday by the Excise Board on petitions filed by residents of Anacostia and Capital Hill districts, in which the sale of liquor is prohibited after November 1st. The hearing will be held at 2 p. m. Their petition bears the signatures of 290 signatories. E. S. Snowmaker, attorney for the Anti-Saloon League, will represent the petitioners at both hearings. The hearings will be the first of a series to be held by the board in connection with the granting of new licenses and new licenses for the next license year, beginning November 1st.

AT CAPITAL THEATERS THIS WEEK

NATIONAL.

Resisting the temptation offered by the modern ragout of snibbones and shoulders, with which celebrated sirens and political vaudeville artists circumspectly charge of common sense and John C. Fisher presented Hazel Dawn as a star to a surprised and appreciative audience of "Debutants," a light opera by Victor Herbert and the well-known Smith family at the National. The last night with due appreciation of the natural and artistic claims Miss Dawn provides as an inspiring role. The title of the opera may have been more strongly "Debutants" and that it is Miss Dawn's success in which Mr. Fisher is most interested, at the same time reflects the feeling of most of the people who heard the first presentation of the work, because it seems a return to the old idea of presenting a story in the effort of following the story.

When the first of the musicians and poets revolved at the somberness of the accepted form of intervals was not only provided melody, but a musical theme, in view of the modern convention flashed a spoken line or two of wit without being uproariously farcical, they called for a more serious and sustained effort along with its many enemies. As time progressed and the high price of motor cars made it necessary for artists to convert their voices into concert work and the vaudeville specialists to get more money than the former, the music of the intervals used for the display of the product of the cloak and suit trade or the studios of the actors and actresses, were called to help fill the intervals with the vocalists or the ode or buck dancers were not on the stage under the name of "Debutants" but as "Debutants."

POLI'S.

Though "The Seven Sisters" is the title of the play the Poli Players produce this week, if numbers are to be used to designate the real merit of the production, the award of merit should be distributed over the entire company. The tale maintained the most agreeable and seven dancers who must marry them off in turn or lose cast, while some of the most masterly husbands, was delightfully presented.

COSMOS.

A good bill at the Cosmos Theater this week is headed by Harry Houston and his orchestra. The show is a variety of music that will not soon be forgotten.

COLUMBIA.

"A man who marries a second time," remarks one character, "does not deserve to lose his first wife." Apparently that rule does not work both ways, for the woman in "The Rule of Three," at the Columbia last night, married again, and yet again. But retribution overtook her when both previous husbands arrived unexpectedly upon the scene of her Vermont honeymoon. With the third, she thereby banes the tale. Jeanne, daughter of husband No. 1, adjusted herself gayly to this state of affairs by terming the first "father," the second "papa," and the third "dad." But the much married woman did not solve the problem with so much ease. She had to strive valiantly until she had married husband No. 3, and presumably happily, to new wives.

The hotel where this family reunion took place had been deserted by other guests because of a measles epidemic. This gave the taciturn wife opportunity to curb the fire of husband No. 3, for a brief time, by placing him under quarantine for a supposed infection. But he broke out too soon, though not without a rather elaborate display of a revolver, and two bullets, until it was satisfactorily proven that the early start of the husband was not due to his wife's charms, and the couple were consigned to other husbands.

GAYETY.

Two snappy burlesques entitled "Diabolical" and "War as Juares," are presented this week at Gayety by the Dreamland Burlesquers. Will H. Ward heads the company and manages to extract a lot of fun out of the lines provided for him. Inez de Verdel and Nemo Catto have the principal female roles, and sing and dance in a pleasing manner.

CRANDALL'S.

Crandall's Theater this week presents a varied program of moving pictures, which will delight the most captious. Yesterday's bill, which is being repeated today, included "Kiss and Erloger's 'Woman Against Woman,'" and "Alice Joyce in 'The Viper.'" Tomorrow and the day after will present "The Secret of the Ring," and "The Village Orphan."

Phi Mu Sigmas to Meet.

Initiation ceremonies for a candidate for membership in the Phi Mu Sigma Fraternity will be held tonight in the fraternity house. At this meeting a team will be chosen to represent the chapter in the Phi Mu Sigma Bowling League. Plans for a straw ride on Halloween will also be discussed.

BELASCO.

Real farces are few and far between but they do exist. "A Pair of Sixes," which opened to a capacity house last night at the Belasco is one of them. This three-act play by Edward Peple, is universal in appeal and clever of line and climax. If you have ever felt deep in your heart the unforgiving hatred which accumulates after long association with one individual, whether it be mother, wife, daughter, son or business partner, "A Pair of Sixes" will mean much to you.

George P. Nettleton (Ralph Hertz), T. Boggs John (Hale Hamilton), were business partners, and the gradual venom which had slowly accumulated between them, as a result of their friendship, mind you, can only be likened to the strange hate which sometimes comes after the first few years of a married life, and the shortcomings of one's life partner stand out in shadow like disproporitions.

B. F. KEITH'S.

Irene Franklin is the headliner at B. F. Keith's Theater this week, singing in her own inimitable style a half dozen songs, with change of costume for each number. With her husband, Bert Green, at the piano a pleasing repertoire of songs is given. "Beauty is Only Skin Deep," by a capable cast, again scores a hit. The rest of the bill is composed of "Blackface," Eddie Ross; Slim Collins and Lewis Hart; The Harry Leuder singing and talking pictures; Mantion and Harris, and the Heart-Sellig motion pictures.
