EDWARD W. TOWNSEND.

York. Near train time Hughes called for his friend and found him in his hotel room knitting and sweating over his suit case.

Should Be Big City.
Of course, a general retort to what I've been saying would be that it is as desirable that city members should know the country as that country members should know the city.

Into Jaws of Death.
"Say," remarked Hughes wearily, "if you carry that cannon into Manhattan the first cop we meet will spot it, take it away from you and slap you on the wrist."

Lack of Pep Evident.
No one votes in the district; the polling place is unknown, the ballot box is more a thing of substance than is Pender's.

Rural Ideas Persist.
It would be idle for Congress constantly to have administered to it this dopey mental gas were all its members men who had had their observation quickened by much travel.

HYATTSVILLE.
Next week will be known as "poultry week" at the Maryland Agricultural College, the feathered tribe being the subject of the short course that will commence Monday and continue during the balance of the week.

FAMILY PARTY WILL COME TO WASHINGTON

"Ma" Sunday Tells of Courting
Days and Early Married Life
With Evangelist.

By J. R. HILDEBRAND.
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 15.—Billy Sunday, Jr., thirteen, and Paul Sunday, seven, are bound for Philadelphia to join their father and mother on their visit to Washington next Monday.

Dear Ma—Have you been too busy to get my game of table tennis yet? You know you and Pa said Paul and I could go to Philadelphia for a few days. I would like to go so I could go to Wash with you if it would be all right.

Dear Billy—Your loving WILLY.
P. S. All well Howard is fine. He says he'll be in Philadelphia for a few days. I would like to go to Wash with you if it would be all right.

Married Life.
Under the influence of this scribbled missive the businesslike Mrs. Sunday did something she does not often do for strangers, she told of her children, of the happy summer vacations she and her husband spent near the west side of Chicago.

Met in Chicago.
It was after Sunday's conversation at the Garden Rescue Mission, in Chicago, that he joined the Christian Endeavor Society of the Jefferson Park Presbyterian Church in Chicago.

Was Ardent Rooter.
Sunday continued to play ball for three years more. It was not until 1891 that he decided to enter Y. M. C. A. work.

Convinced that the eight-hour law for female employees places a burden both on women workers and the merchants of this city, the members of the Retail Merchants' Association are today pledged to endeavor to strip the legislation of its alleged hardships.

WANT HOUR TO PARK CARS.
Mr. Andrews declared traffic in Washington has not yet developed to the point where vehicles should be limited to a fifteen-minute stop, and recommended that the association continue its efforts to obtain an amendment of the regulation which would permit the parking of vehicles for one hour at least.

May Hold Dinner.
A postal card canvass will be made of the membership to determine the attitude of the members on the Washington Birthday holiday, and to ascertain their wishes with regard to a "get-together" dinner.

Declares Business Good.
Mr. Andrews upbraided those merchants who are prone to be pessimistic, declaring that notwithstanding the much-talked-of business depression in the United States he had found, upon pinning the members of his association to the point where their business in nine cases out of ten had been better during the year 1914 than in the previous year.

To Promote Business.
Mr. Andrews endeavored to impress upon his auditors the true purpose of the association by reminding them they were organized to promote the retail mercantile business, and consequently should be more deeply concerned in that object than in other public improvements for the city.
