Government Files Brief in Shipbuilding Co's Suit

The Government today filed a brief with the Supreme Court in the case of the Cramp Shipbuilding Company against the United States, which was appealed from the Court of Claims and which had its inception twenty-six years ago at the time the battleship Massachusetts was ordered by the navy. The shipbuilding company filed suit in the Court of Claims for $48,757, alleging this loss resulted by reason of the Government's delay in furnishing armor for the vessel.

The Government holds that the shipbuilding company released it from all claims at the time the vessel was launched in 1890. The case was dismissed by the Court of Claims, despite the fact that the shipbuilding company alleged that the release of claims was ambiguous and did not represent the true nature of the Government's agreement.

WOMAN ENDS 50TH YEAR IN U. S. SERVICE

Congratulations Are Showered Upon Miss McCully, in Treasury Department.

Congratulations are being showered upon Miss Emma A. McCully, clerk in the accounts division of the Bureau of Internal Revenue in the Treasury Department, who fifty years ago today was appointed to the Government service by President Johnson and has served continuously ever since. Chief Clerk Myers of the Bureau of Internal Revenue has written a letter congratulating her on her long and faithful service, and it is expected that when Secretary McAdoo returns to Washington he also will take cognizance of her unusual record.

At the time of Miss McCully's appointment there were but twenty-two women clerks in the Treasury Department. She was seventeen years old, and came from Columbia, S. C., where her family had suffered heavily during the war. Her brother enlisted in the Confederate army and died from exposure; her home was burned during Sherman's march to the sea.

French Soldier Makes Rosary From Shrapnel

LONDON, Sept. 28 (by mail).—The Bridgetine nuns of Zion Abbey, in Devonshire, tell a war story in the little monthly magazine they publish.

A French soldier who had nearly been killed by shrapnel conceived the idea of using the pellets that had nearly cost him his life as beads of a rosary to be sent to his mother. In the hospital he collected bits of shrapnel extracted from the wounds of others, and made a very serviceable rosary. His mother uses it now at her prayers.
