

STATE DEPARTMENT PUTS STOP TO COURT ATTACKS ON CAPT. BOY-ED

SERBS DRIVEN UPON BORDER AS GERMANS PRESS SOUTH

Main Army of Defenders Retreats Toward Montenegro From Kossovo Plain, As asserts Berlin.

Northern Campaign Practically Over—Austro-German Advance Designed to Drive Out French and British.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—That the Italians have captured Goritz, as reported in Milan advices to the Daily Telegraph, lacks confirmation today. The city's Austrian defenders were desperately pressed at latest accounts.

BERLIN (via London), Nov. 26.—What is left of Serbia's northern army is trying to get into Montenegro today.

The Serbs did not offer battle along the Mitrovitz-Pristina line. There was a little skirmishing between outposts, but no big engagement.

Austrian forces have crossed the upper Iher river from the northward, and Germans are pushing to the northwestward up the Drenitz valley toward a junction between the Kossovo plain and the Serbo-Montenegrin border. They are making many captures, but it is admittedly doubtful if they will be in time to cut off the main army's retreat.

PRESSING SOUTHWARD

Guerrilla fighting is expected for some time, but so far as regular military operations are concerned, the northern Serbian campaign is considered practically over.

With their position secure in the north, Austro-German forces are on their way now to join the Bulgarians in their struggle to expel the British and French from southern Serbia. Their advance detachments are reported in places within thirty-five or forty miles of the southern frontier.

Germans Seek Line of Defense for Winter on North Russian Front

LONDON, Nov. 26.—Convinced that the Germans are engaged in a general retreat all along the Dvina, military men are interested today concerning the Kaiser's probable choice of a line of defense for the winter on the northern section of his Russian front.

That the retrograde movement marks definite abandonment of all thought of Riga capture before spring is considered certain. The Russians announced some time ago that they deemed the city safe for the present. The latest development is the first sign that the Germans have come to the same conclusion.

The German offensive's break-down is attributed to three things: The increase in the Russian ammunition supply. A German shortage of munitions. The weakening of the German line for the Balkan campaign.

Anglo-French Army in Vardar Valley Facing New Peril From North

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The Anglo-French army concentrated in the Vardar valley from Kiritovik to the Greek frontier is faced by a new menace from the north and northwest which continues.

Soldier Weds, Then Rushes to Barracks

With Leave Expiring at Noon, Fort Myer Trooper Takes Bride at Eleven.

With his leave of absence ending at noon today, Private George Brownhill, of Company M, Fifth Cavalry, at Fort Myer, was one of the principals in a hurry-up marriage service in the Press Room of the Police Court building at 11 o'clock.

Immediately after the Rev. L. Morgan Chambers pronounced the final word making Mrs. Sadie A. Wright, an employe of the Treasury Department, the wife of the soldier, Brownhill made a hasty flight for the Fort Myer car, which he expected to carry him to the barracks before his leave had expired.

Witnessing the rapid-fire ceremony were Sergeant J. W. Ward Green, of the Third precinct, and Detective Smith, Miss Roberta Wright, daughter of the bride, and newspaper men, who volunteered their "work shop" for the nuptials. In procuring the license, the age of Mrs. Brownhill was given as thirty-eight and Brownhill's twenty-six.

PLAY "FIRE ENGINE" ON WILSON'S LAWN

"The President Won't Mind?" Asks Head of Kiddies' Impromptu Picnic.

Strictly speaking, it was against the rules. Had they been grown-ups the chances are that the law would have been down on them with both hands.

There was Eva Friedel, aged eleven years, who was the little "mother" of the whole crowd. Little curly-headed, eyes, aged two years, Lee, a waddling sort of figure, and a host of other youngsters, who just couldn't keep awake and watch the fun; Edwin Wall and his brother Adolph, who had an express wagon over which they fought; and Gertrude and Elizabeth McNally, who were in charge of the go-cart.

Baby Goes To Sleep. They arrived in the grounds, all eight of them, in a disorganized cavalcade shortly after 10 o'clock, and for more than an hour they played while Baby Lee slept peacefully on the grass, to the horror of untruly ladies who feared he would catch cold.

Wagon Breaks Down. The President didn't seem to be minding, for he was so immersed in the dry task of completing his annual message to Congress that the chances are he never heard them. But just the same, after a while the law—or the regulations—couldn't stay blind any longer, and the kiddies were told to leave by Sergeant McQuade. Lee, still asleep, was lifted into the wagon, and then the accident happened. The express wagon, fired out from its strenuous role of a fire engine, suddenly collapsed at the place where Edwin had used strings instead of bolts. Lee was hurt—he hardly woke up—but the sergeant took the wagon over to the White House tool shop and had new bolts put in.

MD. DEPUTIES JOIN POLICE IN FIGHT ON SPEED

Authorities of District and Suburbs Co-operate in "Safe Road" Crusade.

ROE SAYS HE WILL HELP

State Commissioner of Automobiles Asserts He Will Put End to Speeding.

Arrested by continued reckless driving on the Washington-Rockville pike, which culminated in the death yesterday of Harry A. Lattimer, of Drummond, Md., the Maryland State authorities along with Montgomery county officials and the Washington Metropolitan police are co-operating today in an effort to make the highway safer for all kinds of travel.

Harry Roe, State commissioner of automobiles for Maryland, said today he would do all in his power to put a stop to speeding on that and other roads leading into Washington.

No Arrest Made Yet. No arrest has been made in connection with the death of Mr. Lattimer, who was struck just after he stopped from an electric car at Drummond, but Deputy Peake, who, with Sheriff J. J. Whalen, has been working on the case almost continuously since Saturday night, said today he expected to get the driver of the machine.

Wilson Message to Be Finished Today. Still pounding away on the message he is to deliver to Congress on December 7, President Wilson today remained in his study, again excluded from visitors.

Women Make Final Appeal To President To End War

Peace Advocates Promise to Carry Plea to Trenches If Effort Here Fails.

MASS MEETING AT BELASCO

Party Deluges White House With Telegrams Urging Action by This Government.

Today women peace advocates are making their last appeal to any government to end the European war. If this Government does not respond they threaten to carry their case to "the thinking men of all belligerent nations and through them to the men who are doing the fighting."

Deluge of Telegrams. While the peace advocates are pleading their cause, and presenting to those at their meeting a resolution calling upon the President to take this step, the White House will be receiving a final deluge of telegrams, in addition to the 20,000 that already have poured in there, demanding that President Wilson "work for peace, the mothers of America demand it."

Mrs. Schwimmer's statement this morning came at the close of nearly a year's strenuous effort in this country to get the United States to lead neutral powers in calling a world peace conference to arbitrate the affairs of the warring nations.

ATTACHE SAYS VAST SUM WAS PROVIDED FOR HIM BY BERLIN

Statement Made by Diplomat Heightens Interest as Hamburg-American Line Trial Is Resumed.

Rumors That Juror in Case Had Been Proven Undesirable to Government Denied by Assistant Prosecutor.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—That certain evidence regarding Captain Boy-Ed, German naval attaché, will not be introduced in the trial of four Hamburg-American line officials for illegally furnishing supplies to German commerce raiders, because of the attitude of the State Department, was hinted today.

The State Department, it is reported, has informed United States District Attorney Marshall that Boy-Ed was acting within his rights in distributing certain funds. It has been suggested to Marshall, it is understood, that the State Department will be displeased if Boy-Ed's name is given prominence again in the present trial.

Boy-Ed's connection with the scheme for sending shiploads of supplies to German warships was mentioned today, but by counsel for the defense.

COAL MAN CALLED. The Government offered as a witness George W. Atkinson, of Baltimore, who sold coal to the steam Maria Quezada. Captain Boy-Ed's name was mentioned as paymaster for the Maria Quezada enterprise on Wednesday, but Attorney Hand, for the defendants, had steadfastly denied that the Hamburg-American officials had anything to do with the ship.
