

Goldberg Satirizes New Films In First Reel of "Boob Weekly"

Times Artist-Humorist Starts
Motion Picture Career With
New Type of Burlesque

TEARS IN PICTURES, TOO
Cartoonist Shows Public How He Accomplishes His Work and Gives Fashion "Hints"

Goldberg—The Times humorist-artist—has entered the motion picture world in an entirely new guise. He is one of the first real burlesque artists—using both terms both ways—and his first motion picture venture is a burlesque of the news weeklies under the title of "The Boob Weekly."
The reel starts with the entrance of Goldberg himself to his office. He is dressed in a frock coat and striped trousers, the dignity of which is belied by his contagious smile, and the title which follows:
"When you see the cartoonist you will probably think the secret of his genius lies in the peculiar cut of his coat. But it doesn't—it is not his own coat!"
Makes Porter Weep Ink.
He sits down to draw, but finds he has no ink. This is an awful state of affairs, and he calls the colored porter to his aid. So pathetic does he make his plea that the dusky one is moved to tears—and saves the situation, for he gets the precious fluid. Goldberg weeps enough to work with and dismisses the porter with this injunction:
"Cry a little later on, I might want to shine my shoes."
Then comes the cartoon itself, a few of the titles of which may give a faint idea of the action they describe:
"Simp City, Texas."
"One week old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hannibal M. Sawdust, showing the result of the new scientific method of bringing up a child on powdered pool balls and sterilized bay rum. This infant at the age of one week uses a safety razor and plays a good game of pinocle."
"Study in Natural History."
"Trapping the wild African collar button in the haberdashery boiler of the Umslopogoe. The collar button is near sighted and easily fooled."
"Paris Fashions From Hoboken."
"Something smart and snappy to be worn while being beaten by your husband."
"Shoplifter's Muff."
"It can hold anything but a grand piano."
"Pearl White Not To Marry."
Pearl White, the widely known motion picture star, is now starring in the "Boob Weekly." The "Iron Claw," she denies emphatically the widely published report that she intends marrying Frank Moran, the heavyweight pugilist.
The "peerless, fearless girl," as she is dubbed by the Paris press agent, announces that she is contemplating matrimony with any one and is wedded only to her art. The pangs of jealousy gnawing the hearts of many masculine photoplay fans all over the country should now be healed.

RECITAL GIVEN FOR CHEVY CHASE GIRLS

The Chevy Chase Seminary had an unusual privilege during its closing exercises in hearing a song recital by Mrs. Marie Jahr, contralto, of Chicago, which was given in the school auditorium last Friday evening.
Mrs. Jahr is a concert artist whose experience in German opera has made her German songs a particular delight. Her voice is rich, having depth and wide range, and her interpretations of a very exacting program stamped her an artist of broad culture.
Mrs. Jahr's program included two arias, "Ah, mon Dieu," from Meyerbeer's opera, "Prophet," and the "Cher faro" of Gluck. The German songs were "Ruhe, meine Seele" (Strauss), the La Forge "To a Messenger" in German, "Still wie die Nacht" (Dohnanyi) and "Alte die alte Mutter" of J. S. Bach. The French selections were "D'une Prison" of Hubert and Missernet, "Ave Maria" and in English she gave "Call Me No More" (Caldman), "Sacrament" (MacDermid), "Cry of Rachel" (Saiter), and "Love Never Falteth" (Root).
Miss Besie Belle Jamison, assistant piano teacher of the school, was the accompanist, and Miss Elisabeth Wilbur played a violin obligato.
Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Hemensway, of Colorado Springs; Mrs. Charles Well, of Brookline, Mass.; Mrs. G. H. Straight and Mrs. Lee Straight, of Fond du Lac, Wis.; Mrs. T. F. Langhans, of Pittsburgh; Mr. Leonard A. Spaulding and Mrs. Edwin F. Riley, of Omaha, Neb.; Mrs. William C. Davis, of Kalamazoo, Mich., and Eugene F. Jahr, of Chicago.
Mr. and Mrs. Jahr came to Washington to attend the graduation of their daughter, Miss Henrietta Jahr, who is the president of the graduating class of the seminary this year.

GEORGETOWN 165
YEARS OLD TODAY

Georgetown is 165 years old today. The anniversary will be celebrated at a meeting of the Georgetown Citizens' Association tonight. William A. Gordon, a life-long resident of Georgetown, who has devoted many years to its history and research on the subject, will deliver an address on old Georgetown and its history.
Members of the other citizens' and civic associations and the public have been invited to hear this address.
In connection with the anniversary, a Georgetown weekly publication is conducting a canvass to determine authoritatively which is the oldest building in Georgetown.
Though it was established as a trading post many years before, the town of Georgetown was not created until May 15, 1781, during the reign of King George III when the province of Maryland decided on the erection of a town at the mouth of Rock Creek, to be known as George Town, in his majesty's honor.
Georgetown was in Frederick county until the conclusion of the war of the Revolution. The State of Maryland decided to split this big county, and its southeastern end was lopped off and incorporated as Montgomery county.
Georgetown was in this county until George Washington created the District of Columbia.
It was many years later that Georgetown was incorporated in the City of Washington, but it has not lost its identity.

FORESTS AS PART IN U. S. PREPAREDNESS

Expert Sees Need of American
Readiness to Meet Demands
After the War.

A warning that the forests and forest products of this country will play a large part in economic preparedness as a result of the great war was sounded today by Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Forestry Association, with national headquarters in this city. He stated that England is now cutting down her old and famous woodlands and forests to provide for her immediate and pressing timber needs and is already planning to acquire millions of acres of forest land in Russia to supply her demands after the war which are expected to be tremendous.

LOCAL FIRM OFFERS BIG SUIT VALUES

Friedlander Bros. Sell Suits
Worth Up to $16.50
for $10.

Hundreds of Washington men are taking advantage of the remarkable $10 Suit Sale now in progress at the store of Friedlander Bros., 425 Ninth street northwest. While this firm has always held the record for bargain leadership, and its patrons have learned to expect unusual bargains there, this sale has capped the climax.
In view of the rapidly increasing cost of woollens and the imminent dye famine, this sale is all the more noteworthy. The firm is to be congratulated on its enterprise in obtaining such a large lot of fashionable suits, well worth as much as $16.50, to retail at $10.
Every variety and shade, such as Worstedes, Cassimeres, and Serges, in blue, brown, gray, silk mixtures, shepherd plaids, etc., are embraced in the lot. The styles represent the season's best, and the workmanship is unexcelled. Whether the individual taste of the man runs to the conservative or to the extreme, he can find a suit exactly to his liking among them.
Don't delay buying your suit until the best values are gone. Better come in today—this you think about it. Make a note of the name and address—Friedlander Bros., 425 Ninth street northwest.—Adv.
