

WAR DEPARTMENT SENDS GOOD NEWS TO CAMP AT RADIO

Still Contemplates Ordering District Organizations to Border Is the Message.

DATE STILL IS UNCERTAIN

Colonel Young Hunting for Field for Sham Battle Near Alexandria.

Rumors of being mustered out of the service within two weeks were dispelled today at the District mobilization camp near Fort Myer by the welcome news that the War Department still contemplates sending the organizations of the District militia to the Mexican border within a short time.

Although hopeful that these orders will reach them by the end of this week, thus permitting entrainment by the first of next, none of the officers was willing to make any definite forecast as to when they will arrive.

That their "faith" still lies with the War Department, and not with the department of the east, is shown by the fact that a letter has been received in camp from the commander of the eastern department, which states definitely that he has received nothing from the War Department permitting him to say how long the District militia will remain in camp or when he can forward orders for entrainment.

Reply to Officer's Inquiry. This letter was in reply to one from an army officer, requesting information as to when orders might be expected, as more blankets and extra clothing would have to be issued to the militiamen, should they be required to stay in their present encampment much longer.

Col. Glendie B. Young, Lieut. Col. Anton Stephan and Capt. A. L. Smith today rode out of camp in the direction of Alexandria to inspect a suitable spot for a sham battle contemplated for the District militia sometime this week.

They will investigate a stretch of land bordering on the river which contains woods and fields and presents an excellent spot for holding maneuvers. These maneuvers will be more realistic than any yet held, and will include the troop of cavalry, the battery of artillery, and the Third Regiment.

The war game may occupy three or four days, and will give the men renewed experience in camping in the open, and relying on outposts and sentries to save them from night attacks and surprises.

Company and platoon drill were the order of the day for the Third Regiment, while the troop of cavalry and the battery of artillery were engaged in the usual mounted movements on the Fort Myer parade ground.

Teaching Care of Mounts. Capt. C. A. Ferris, United States army artillery instructor, is teaching the men of Battery A the proper care of their mounts while on the march, and when stationed at a permanent encampment.

It has not been definitely decided whether or not these animals will be taken to the border. The fact that many of them are unfit for strenuous work leads to the belief that they will be left behind when the battery goes to the border, and that the horses will be issued to them on their arrival.

The largest crowd of visitors since the encampment attended the religious services in the Y. M. C. A. tent last night. The tent was filled with visitors from the city, while militiamen were packed outside and stood to stand through the entire services.

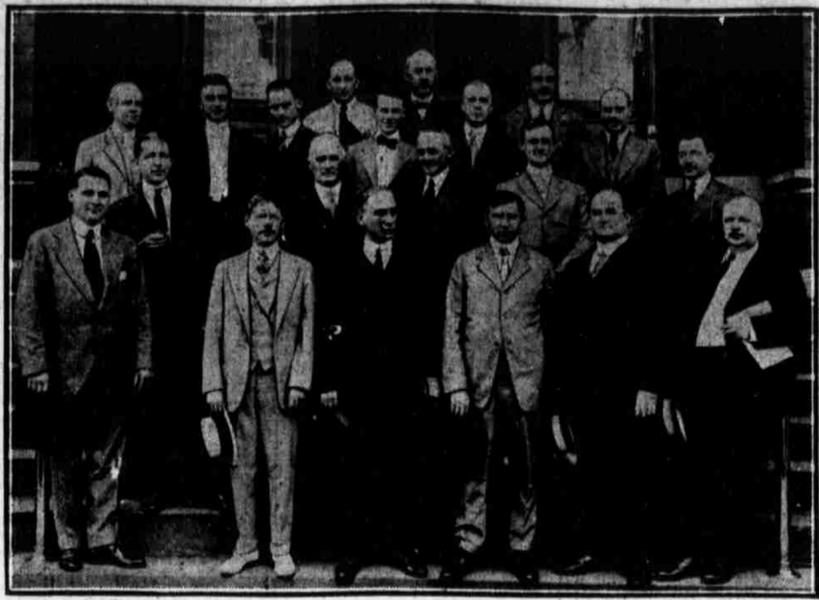

MARYLANDERS LOSE HOPE OF RETURNING. Learn They Will Not Come Home From Border Yet.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Miss Dorothy A. Foster, an actress, formerly in "It Pays to Advertise," and William H. Holden, of Squadron A, N. G. N. Y., were married by Mayor Edwin W. Flake, of Mr. Vernon.

Holden, who has been on duty on the border, got a furlough and traveled 2,300 miles to claim his bride.

The only witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Flinn, the parents. The bride insisted that the ceremony be conducted by Mayor Flake, whom she has known since she was a little girl. The wedding was hastened because the bridegroom must hurry back to the border.

QUITS HIS PULPIT FOR SOCIAL WORK

Rector Charges Bishop With Entering Into "Covenant" to Oppose Him.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Classifying his parishioners who disagreed with his views as "old skins," the Rev. Mercer Green Johnston preached his farewell sermon yesterday morning as rector of old Trinity Episcopal Church, Newark, N. J.

Mr. Johnston also accused the Right Rev. Edwin S. Lines, Bishop of Newark, of having entered into a covenant with the vestry of Trinity Church to oppose him. Bishop Lines declined to make any comment.

The clergyman and his wife left Newark today for Baltimore, where they will remain until January 1 next. They will live in the summer home of William F. Cochran, at Sherwood Forest, near Annapolis, Md.

Mr. Johnston, who is head of the Open Forum of Baltimore, became interested in Mr. Johnston through the Rev. Richard Wallace Hoag, who was forced out of the rectorship of the fashionable Episcopal church of Baltimore for his socialistic ideas.

Three Months of Quiet. After yesterday's service Mr. Johnston told a reporter that he would use these three months of quiet to make out his program of action for the future. He said that there were now twelve to fifteen Episcopal clergymen who had the same "ideas" as he had, and they were going to labor without money in the interest of a national industrial democracy.

The Right Rev. William A. Guerry, Bishop of South Carolina, has decided that Mr. Johnston be transferred into his diocese, because he is in sympathy with the views of the Newark rector. Mr. Johnston will request Bishop Lines to give him the certificate of transfer.

When Mr. Johnston preached yesterday the church, which is the oldest and most historic Episcopal parish in North Jersey, was comfortably full. Only three members of the vestry were present. These were Henry M. Darcy, Judge Howard C. Grice, and Oscar B. Mockridge.

"The vestry believes, and I am persuaded, that the bishop of Newark is believing, that the bishop of this diocese is with them," said Mr. Johnston in his sermon. "I am sorry to say that I am not."

"Covenant of Death." "When he entered into a covenant with the vestry of this church, he entered into a covenant of death. He signed the death warrant of this parish. He ordained the vestry of the parish to be pallbearers. He removed this church from the living forces which are working in the twentieth century."

"It may seem that I am mistaken. The parish may be galvanized into a kind of life by the motion of the hands and lips. But this parish so far has spent its forces. It is dead, as dead as Lazarus. It is dead, as dead as the dead man, said to Jesus Christ: 'Lord, by this time he stinketh; for he hath been dead four days.' (St. John's Gospel, xi, 39.)"

"What has happened here is just the parable of the wine skins. Jesus said: 'What is what has happened in this parish. I came filled with the new wine of the spirit.'"

G. O. P. FINDS MUCH COMFORT IN MAINE

Leaders Assert That 90 Per Cent of 1912 T. R. Vote Was Theirs.

Attention was called today in Republican committee circles to the fact that about 90 per cent of the Progressives who voted for Roosevelt in 1912 voted with the Republicans in the Maine election.

The Democrats got 10 per cent. The Democrats, on the basis of the 1912 vote, needed about 25 per cent of the Roosevelt vote to win.

It is pointed out by the Republican leaders who are managing the Congressional campaign that if a like percentage obtains in other States in the November election, Hughes will sweep New York and will carry such States as Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Wisconsin.

Hughes also, on the same basis, would carry practically the whole country west of the Mississippi.

The real test of the result in November, therefore, will be whether the Democrats can get more of the Progressive vote than in Maine. Republican managers insist they cannot, and the Democrats insist they can on the theory, "Wilson is stronger than his party."

Hippodrome Girls Pick Perfect Woman. Name Composite That Would Make Perfection—Anna Pavlova's Legs Lead.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Take the legs of Anna Pavlova, the body of Charlotte, Hippodrome skater, hands of Elele Ferguson, eyes of Jane Cowi, mouth of Billie Burke, hair of Margot Kelly, neck of Mary Garden, Martha Hedman's nose, the chin of Miss Marsh, Dixie Gerard's shoulders, and Anna Pennington's feet, and you would have a perfect woman.

At least this is the opinion of the majority of the chorus girls at the Hippodrome. A ticket to the world's series was hung up as a prize for the best selection made from eleven stage stars to form an ideal composite woman.

Pavlova's legs ran far ahead in the contest. Annette Kellerman's body was a close second to Charlotte's, and Anna Held, Maxine Elliott and Julia Marlowe crowded Jane Cowi for the eye honors.

IMPROVEMENT LIST FOR N. E. SUBMITTED

Request for $300,000 for Eastern High School Heads Items.

Evan H. Tucker, president, and W. J. Frizzell, chairman of the committee on public utility and mail service of the Northeast Washington Citizens' Association, called on the Commissioners today to submit a list of improvements desired in northeast Washington for consideration in connection with the preparation of the annual estimates.

Following are the appropriations requested: Not less than $300,000 for a new Eastern High School; for a site and construction of new school in the sixth division; for the purchase of the Patterson tract for a public park, provided there shall be no assessments for benefits on owners of adjacent property; for extension and improvement of New York avenue from First street northeast to the intersection of Bladen-wood road; for the erection of a fire-truck house in the northeast section; for the widening of Benning road to a width of 100 feet from Fifteenth street northeast to Oklahoma avenue; for grading and improvement of West Virginia avenue from Florida avenue to New York avenue extended.

The real test of the result in November, therefore, will be whether the Democrats can get more of the Progressive vote than in Maine. Republican managers insist they cannot, and the Democrats insist they can on the theory, "Wilson is stronger than his party."

Urge Use of Paper Bottles by Dairies. Philadelphians Want Sanitary Milk Containers to Follow Drinking Cups.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18.—Sanitary milk bottles will soon follow sanitary paper drinking cups into public favor, if plans to amend the law governing delivery of milk in glass bottles are successful.

At present, use of glass bottles is obligatory upon milk dealers. It is being argued that the new paper bottles will be far more sanitary than the glass milk bottles, as they will be used but once and then thrown away. The glass bottles are used and washed on an average of seven or eight times before being smashed or lost.

The paper bottles may be bought for less than 1 cent each in large quantities, and will prove less expensive than the glass bottles in the long run, as the loss from breakage of glass is great, and it is expensive to wash the glass bottles in a thorough manner.

State Dairy and Food Commissioner Foust has approved the change from glass to paper, and Chief City Milk Inspector David Clegg says it will mean a much more sanitary delivery of milk.

Opposition to use of paper milk bottles has developed among dairymen who insist, in many cases, that the cost will be too high. It is admitted by them, however, that they will gladly welcome the change if paper bottles can be bought cheaply enough.

"PEOPLE MUST PAY" NEW G. O. P. SLOGAN

Jonathan Bourne, Jr., Cites Basis for Terms in Democratic Administration's Acts.

"The People Must Pay!" This, in the opinion of Jonathan Bourne, Jr., in a statement given out today at the Washington headquarters of the Republican Publicity Association, is the campaign slogan which the Democratic Administration has provided for the Republicans.

The statement says: "The Democratic Administration has given the Republican party a slogan that will embarrass President Wilson and his Congressional echoes before the campaign is over."

"Yielding to the demand of four labor unions representing 20 per cent of the railroad employes, the Administration enacted legislation compelling the railroads to pay the members of those unions a ten-hour wage for an eight-hour day. President Wilson evidently thought the people of the country do not care how hard the railroads are 'stuck.'"

"But it now is clear that the railroads must be given an increased freight or passenger rates to cover the increase in wages, and 'The people must pay.'"

Other Bases for Slogan. "That, however, is not the only instance in which this Administration has given a basis for the new slogan. They increased enormously the ordinary appropriations of the operations for the Government, and 'the people must pay.'"

"After pledging a reduction in the number of offices, this Administration added 2,000 positions to the Government payroll, and 'the people must pay.'"

"Twenty million dollars was appropriated for a Government nitrate plant somewhere in the South, and 'the people must pay.'"

"Wilson forced through Congress a $50,000,000 ship-purchase bill, and 'the people must pay.'"

"The Democratic Congress passed and President Wilson signed a river and harbor bill brimful of 'pork,' and 'the people must pay.'"

Diplomacy Costly. "President Wilson has spent unknown sums in the mismanagement of our diplomatic relations with European countries, without maintaining the rights of American citizens, and 'the people must pay.'"

"President Wilson took sides in the internecine affairs of Mexico, then invaded Mexico, without protecting American citizens on either side of the border, and will now issue bonds to the amount of $100,000,000 to cover the expense, and, ultimately, 'the people must pay.'"

"Rural mail service was demoralized, delivery services curtailed, mails delayed, but, 'the people must pay.'"

"By the overthrow of the merit system in both our diplomatic and consular service, and in the classified civil service at home, the claims of deserving Democrats substituted for efficiency, and 'the people must pay.'"

"Then the long line of extravagant and wasteful acts shall be brought to the attention of the people of the country, and when the new and improved Democratic administration will be wide-spread protest against an Administration that ignores the fact that, 'the people must pay.'"

Man "Came Back" In Wrong Theater. Goes Out to Get a Drink and Lands in Wrong Playhouse.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—"Getting in wrong" is a common thing these days, and a young woman who was a young woman to see "The Man Who Came Back" at the Playhouse, went out to get a drink, and returned to find the playhouse empty.

"As I entered the lobby of the theater on my return, the ticket taker told me the curtain was up, and without asking for my pass check he opened the door and I went. Mr. Woodworth explained, 'We were sitting in the sixth row in the center of a long row of seats. I went to the sixth row and noticed the amazed look on the faces of the persons when they rose to let me in. I went to the door and saw James T. Powers, I had got in the wrong theater, and it was all due to that very obnoxious doorman who didn't ask to see my pass check.'"

Widowed Twice By Sea Disasters

Seattle Woman Also Lost Brother on Ocean—Wonders If More Are to Follow.

SEATTLE, Sept. 18.—All disasters, great or small, are said and almost universally believed to come in a series of three, says the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

This thought, even in the hour of darkest sorrow, is some slight comfort to Mrs. John Jackson, widow of the chief engineer of the ill-fated steamship Admiral Clark, which foundered, with twenty of the crew, August 16 in a gale in the Caribbean Sea.

Twice widowed by the sea and her brother also a victim of its fury, Mrs. Jackson has paid her share of the toll exacted by Neptune.

Her first husband, Edward Lockwood, one of the best known of Canadian, Oriental, and Puget Sound steamship men, was drowned on the Clialiam in the Strait of Juan de Fuca one stormy day in 1904.

Fire broke in the District during the month of August amounted to $10,589, covered by an insurance of $1,023,825, according to the monthly report of Chief Frank J. Wagner, of the Fire Department.

There were three fires which caused a loss of $1,000 or more. Sixty-four alarms were received, ten of which were false.

The minister of Cuba, Dr. Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, will accompany the body as far as Washington, and the body will be taken to the funeral home of his father, mother, and brother, also will be on the special train. The first funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow at St. Dominic's Church at 9 o'clock.

Major Howard Edmonds. Funeral services for Major Howard Edmonds, who died yesterday in his seventy-seventh year, will be held at All Souls' Church, Cathedral avenue, tomorrow, at 10 o'clock. Interment will be made in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Valuable Coach Horses Are Rescued From Blaze. Three valuable coach horses were rescued from a fire which did $1,000 damage to the premises stable of A. Hears the Clock Tick First Time. Prominent Pittsburgh Lady Has Her Hearing Restored by Plant Juice.

When one suffers from a broken limb or fractured skull, the afflictions are so apparent that one is forced to take the proper treatment and precaution. Cases of catarrhal affections of the mucous membrane are far more prevalent, but the remedy keeps itself so well hidden in cover that dangerous symptoms do not show themselves until too late. Such catarrhal affections are now daily being robbed of their dangers owing to the wonderful system tonic, Plant Juice, which is now being introduced here.

"Among hundreds testifying daily to the efficacy of this purely herbal preparation is Mrs. Emma Davis, who resides at No. 219 Fulton st., Northside, Pittsburgh. Mrs. Davis is a member of the Union Ave. Presbyterian Church, and is known and loved by a large circle of friends, who will be glad to know of her recovery to health. She stated: 'Not because I want to see my name in print, but in the hope that my statement will induce some sufferer, and they may receive the benefit from medicine that I have caused me to permit the publication of my testimonial. For the last two years I have suffered from stomach, liver and kidney troubles; food fermented, pains in back; could not rest or sleep and I thought I could never be well again. I had been in the hospital and had taken various remedies but never received any benefit from them. For a year I had been growing slowly very hard of hearing with head-noises and buzzing in my ears. I began to take Plant Juice about two months ago, upon the advice of a friend and noticed an improvement from the very first day. I am now feeling fine and am able to return to work. The most wonderful thing of all is that I can hear the clock tick for the first time in 2 1/2 years. I can hear human voices and all the noises of the street, which formerly I was unable to do. God has sent me better health from Plant Juice and I will always praise it, for I feel I would have been dead by now were it not for this medicine.'"

GREAT SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA PLANNED

Dr. Cogswell Plans to Enlarge on Community Organization of Last Year.

The organization of a symphony orchestra of sixty-five pieces, together with the promotion of the study of the better class of music and the presentation of a series of concerts, form part of the plans of the Community Symphony Orchestra, which is to have its first rehearsal at the Strong John Thomson School, Twelfth and L streets, tomorrow night.

Dr. Hiram E. Cogswell, director of music in the public schools of the District, is the director of the orchestra, and so much success was had last year with the organization when it was limited to District employes that Dr. Cogswell has been authorized to invite all the instrumentalists in the city to join the organization.

Dr. Lewis H. Chernoff is the concertmaster, and Sidney Roche is secretary. Applications for membership are to be made to the secretary, whose office is in the District building.

An effort is to be made to get all the musicians of the District interested in the organization and to obtain the best of them as active members.
