AMUSEMENT LIST FOR WASHINGTONIANS

Varied Program Is Offered by Theaters and Resorts for Capital Residents.

Belasco. The attraction at the Belasco Theater for the week beginning October 2 will be the new Oliver Morosco success, "The Cinderella Man," from the pen of Edward Childs Carpenter.

The author describes his theme as the "essence of romance," and the play is a worthy successor to "Peg o' My Heart," which was also one of Mr. Morosco's successes.

In selecting the cast Mr. Morosco has used the same infinite care that is always noticeable in all of his productions. The cast includes: Shelley Hull, Phoebe Foster, Frank Bacon, Bertton Churchhill, Theodore Babcock, Reginald Jessell, Charles Lane, Harry Moore, Hubert Wilke, Louise Hial, and others who appeared at the Hudson Theater, New York, during its season last there.

National. Starting the second week of its two weeks' engagement at the New National Theater, the American English Grand Opera Company will present the ever popular "Rigoletto" next Monday night and on Saturday evening will again offer it as the closing performance.

Tuesday evening the offering will be "Lola-Parral," a modern English melodrama and intensely dramatic story of which captivated its first Washington audience last Monday night as it has everywhere else it has been sung.

Wednesday matinee "Trovatore" will be sung with "Madama Butterfly" as the offering for that evening. Thursday evening "Lucia de Lammermoor" will be given. "Madama Butterfly" has been offered for Friday evening and "Lohengrin" for Saturday matinee.

The cast includes Louis D'Angelo, Salvatore Giordano, Edith Helena, Bianca Saroya, Marie Louise Biggers, George Shatto, Lillian Eubank, Milo Picco, and others.

Keith's. Fritz Scheff will be the popular attraction at the B. F. Keith Theater next week. The extra added stellar feature will be Isabella D'Armand, assisted by Bobby O'Neil, "The Demi-Tasse Revue." Al Herman, blackface comedian, is another special card.

Those who have followed the fortunes of Jiggs Mahoney, the father of "Bring 'em Up Father," George McManus' famous cartoon of the same title, will no doubt be more than interested to know that Manager Gus Hill will offer a new stage version of the cartoons, entitled "Bring 'em Up Father." It is a comedy in three acts, and will be the attraction next week at Poli's Theater, with matinee Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, and a Sunday night performance.

Several new characters are introduced, one in particular being Buck Harding. The introduction in "Politics" is designated the gentleman from life, and "those who have seen him say that he is a real character in the Adirondacks. Fun is rampant from curtain to curtain, and it is promised, and it is declared that the action is spirited, and not a dull moment is permitted to creep in during the three acts.

An absorbing and interesting story is told in the only billings to permit the introduction of "Politics" in the comedy. It is a comedy in three acts, and will be the attraction next week at Poli's Theater, with matinee Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, and a Sunday night performance.

Gayety. Blutch Cooper's "The Sightseers," an all-star aggregation of burlesquers, headed by Cooper, and including Jack Miller, is next week's attraction at the Gayety Theater. They are supported by Harry P. Kelly, Bobby Van Horn, the Carnival Four, Florence Davis, Babetta Keller, Kitty Foray, Lottie Blackford, and Kathryn M. Bayonne.

During the course of the burlesque several burlesque specialties will be interpolated. A large and attractive singing and dancing chorus is a distinct feature of the show. The original electrical and mechanical effects, together with an elaborate scenic investiture are promised.

Casino. The first photoplay of the E. H. Sothern series, "The Chatter," has attracted capacity audiences at the Casino Theater this week, and will be continued at the Seventh and F street house until Saturday night, inclusive. It will be followed by Sunday for four days' showing by "The Return of Eve," a five-act photoplay that pictures demure little Edna Mayo in the stellar role.

This important new film sets forth the story of two babies, a boy and a girl, who are left to grow up in a wilderness. When they reach the age of nineteen years they are removed from the hazy gayeries of modern society. The results provide an absorbingly interesting story that gives Miss Mayo an opportunity to show her charms and acting ability which won the stellar rank for the youthful stage beauty in "The Blindness of Virtue," "Gruantark," and "The Strange Case of Mary Page."

This film will hold the Casino screen until Thursday of next week, and will be followed by the first of the Barney Bernard photoplays, "Phantom Fortunes." Bernard will be recalled as the star of the original "Potash and Perimutter" production.

Loew's Columbia. Theodore Roberts and Anita King will be co-stars for the first time in "Anton, the Terrible," the Loew's Columbia production of this week, beginning Thursday. This film was prepared for the screen by Marion Fairfax and Charles Sarver. It tells an unusual story of the Russian secret service; an attempt to betray Russia to Germany; the love of two young people and how they (while in jail) work out by secret code their salvation as well as that of their country. The cast also includes Horace H. Carpenter, Harrison Ford, H. B. Koch, Edythe Chapman, Della Trombly.

The program arranged for the coming week at the Garden Theater will be headlined by Sunday and Monday by Bessie Barricade, who will be pictured in a novel comedy drama entitled "Hime." It is a vivid little play of contrasts, in which Bessie Barricade, returning home from abroad, where she has been educated, finds her family in a state of chaos. Her brother is going to a woman of the demimonde; her sister is contriving to win the affections of a young nobleman, and her father and mother have developed into out and out snobs of the first order. In turn she shows them all whom their true selves, and in the end reestablishes the household as it once was, and home is once again home.

Other attractions on these days will include Rosemary Thoby and Harry Meyers in "Artistic Atmosphere," and a Mutt and Jeff cartoon comedy. On Friday and Saturday evenings "Love and Wilfred Lucas" will be featured in "Hell-to-Pay Austin."

Other pictures will be included on the programs each day, and there will be special musical accompaniments by the Garden Symphony Orchestra.

Strand. Audrey Munson will hold the screen at Moore's Strand Theater all next week.

Combing Won't Rid Hair Of Dandruff. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you dehydrate it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, soft, and so on, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Adv.

week in a stupendous art production entitled "Purity." Miss Munson came into film prominence some months ago in the sensational photoplay "Inspiration," which only served to pave the way to bigger and better things. "Purity" tells an enterprising story of a young girl who is persecuted by an artist. Her form and face attract the artist's attention, and she agrees to pose for him for his forthcoming picture "Purity." This work brings her sufficient money to have her sweetheart's poems published, but when he sees the figure of his lady love in the model for the artist, a cloud of unhappiness overtakes them both. However, the artist brings them together, and tells the poet that the girl is purity itself. Practically an all-star cast appears.

Lyceum. "The Panama Beauties," Max Armstrong's lively burlesque company, is announced as next week's attraction at the Lyceum Theater. A two-act burlesque on life on the Mexican border is the piece de resistance they offer, which serves incidentally to introduce a score of models in classic poses. Bert Souders and Mike Casey, two well-known character comedians, take care of the comedy, while Bertha Carl, prima donna, a stately beauty, heads the feminine contingent.
