

COMING NEXT WEEK TO THEATERS HERE

Various Attractions on Program at Playhouses.

"THE FIREFLY" AT NATIONAL

"Joan the Woman" Again at Belasco—Other Bills.

As the attraction for the fifth week of their engagement here the Aborns will present for one week starting next Monday evening at the New National the comedy opera, "The Firefly," in which Emma Trentini scored so tremendous a success. The cast will bring to the Capital a stronger array of Aborn favorites than any of its predecessors, with Maud Gray in the title role, Fritzie Von Busing as Geraldine, Sylvia Thorne, Lillian Ludlow, Forrest Huff, James McElhenn, H. Flowers, George Shields, William Lynn, and Ralph Nichols.

The Messrs. Aborn have obtained the Hammett production of "The Firefly" for the presentation of this offering in the various cities of their circuit, assuring one of the most attracting productions of the season.

Belasco. Geraldine Farrar, in "Joan the Woman," now running at the Belasco, is being received with unusual enthusiasm and will continue to be shown again next week. Miss Farrar creates a new dramatic conception of the Maid of Orleans. She is seen as the sturdy daughter of a French peasant, the embodiment of the militant spirit of France.

The director wanted no time in developing of a new and interesting transition of the simple country maid to the avenging angel of an oppressed and prostrate France. This treatment of the subject is wholly unconventional and is crowned with success, showing the art of both the director and star.

All the resources of art in the selection of types, in the technique, in the psychology of motive, in the lighting effects, in dramatic sequence, are marshaled by a master hand to give these spectacle scenes great charm and power.

Altogether, "Joan the Woman" not only takes rank with the best film dramas, but in some respects establishes new records and new points of departure.

PLAY OF INDIAN LIFE SCORES HIT AT POLI'S

Players Applauded for Rendition of "The Heart of Wetona." Indian life in Oklahoma forms the basis of this week's performance at Poli's Theater, "The Heart of Wetona." The three acts and four scenes give ample opportunity for good acting, and judging from the applause the players were equal to the occasion.

"The Heart of Wetona" is a charming story of the love of Wetona, daughter of Quannah, chief of the Comanches, for a white man. Wetona's dream is shattered when her lover is proven false. To save his life, she refuses to reveal his identity and is forced by her father to marry another to save her honor.

Howard Lang has one of the strongest parts as Quannah, the chief. Considerable comedy is brought into the play by Ralph Remley, as Comanche Jack, and J. Hammond Dalley, as David Wells, post captain. George Carleton plays the part of "Tony Wells, son of the chaplain.

Louise Farnum as a missionary, Frances Williams as a squaw, and Annette Pillsbury, Hardie Meakin and Craig Ward as braves, complete the cast.

The scenes of the play are laid in Tennessee, just before the civil war, Murray Hammond, the boyhood chum of St. Elmo Murray, and St. Elmo's sweetheart betray him. St. Elmo challenges Hammond to a duel and kills him. The fight is witnessed by little Edna Earl, granddaughter of a worthy old Southern blacksmith. St. Elmo disappears. When he returns, many years later, he falls in love with Edna, who has grown into a beautiful woman. Her horror of the man she had seen take another's life is a barrier to the romance. In the end, however, St. Elmo overcomes the girl's prejudice and wins her heart. The production will be an elaborate one.

HOUSE ACTION ASSURES JAMESTOWN PURCHASE

Cuts Price $200,000 for Site of Naval Training Station.

Location of a naval training station and base on the site of the Jamestown Exposition is practically assured today by the action of the House in accepting, in modified form, a Senate amendment for the purchase of the necessary land. The House today approved $200,000 of the total of the Senate amendment and provided that the land might be acquired, if the price were $1,200,000, instead of $1,400,000, as proposed by the upper chamber.

Previously the House had rejected the Jamestown proposition. The compromise was worked out by the Naval Affairs Committee in the House. President Wilson wrote Chief Harbord yesterday that a naval station at Hampton Roads was regarded as essential by the Administration.

The House agreed to the conference report on the urgent deficiency bill—the $3,000,000,000 war budget—with an amendment modifying the Senate proposal, and it is believed both the Senate and the property owners will accept the lower figure for the Jamestown property. An additional sum of $1,000,000 was provided for equipping the naval station.
