Gallaudet Starts Year On Gridiron Tomorrow

GEORGETOWN TEAM HAS SIGNAL WORK BEFORE BATTLING

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 12.—Georgetown and the Y. M. C. A. Training School meet here today on the gridiron and from surrounding cities and towns football lovers are pouring into Springfield. The reputation of the Washington, D. C. eleven is well known here, especially since that victory over Dartmouth last season, and there is every indication of a large crowd.

The Southerners arrived here last night, going at once to the Kimball Hotel, where the players were tucked away in bed by Trainer O'Reilly. During the evening many alumni of Georgetown called at the hotel and chatted with Graduate Manager Charles R. Cox, Coach A. A. Exendine and Trainer O'Reilly.

In order to get a line on the light at the playing field, the Georgetown players ran through signals this morning, and at the conclusion of the practice, Coach Exendine admitted that he hoped for victory.

The Y. M. C. A. Training School has a heavy, experienced eleven this season, and Springfield is looking for a triumph.

PLENTY OF SPORT OFFERED FOR ALL GRID FANS HERE

Pleanty of football is offered for tomorrow in college and scholastic circles.

Gallaudet, coached by Fred Moore, former quarterback, opens its season against the Western Maryland eleven at Kendall Green. The Maryland State College team journeys to Annapolis to tackle Gilmour Dobbs' team.

Both Gallaudet and State will be up against it. The teams, realizing their deficiencies, spent the afternoon yesterday in a practice game. The coaches were on the field and lent aid to the players.

Navy is progressing rapidly, and as State has been in regular workouts less than a week, the Midshipmen should have a fairly soft time of it. State has lost practically every first string player of last year's team. The eleven threw a scare into the Navy last season, losing a 14-to-7 battle.

The big scholastic game of the season for Central will be fought out on the field at the new stadium when the Episcopal High School eleven comes up from Alexandria. Central is possessed of a first-rate eleven and Episcopal always has the reputation of furnishing opponents with a remarkably hard brand of gridiron drubbing.

Eastern High is to play the Army and Navy eleven on Friends Field, while Business goes to Briarly Hall to engage the team coached by Capt. Sid Lodge. Briarly Hall is giving Business plenty of opposition, according to reports from the Maryland community.

Technical, minus the services of Capt. Johnny Barnes, is tripping over to Baltimore to tackle the Baltimore Poly. As the Baltimore lads were recently defeated 22 to 6 by Central, Tech is more than anxious to get a big score on the Monumental City lads.

Western was slated to play the St. Albans eleven, but the game was called off and will be played on Monday afternoon.

BOYS FROM MANY STATES ON PREP FOOTBALL SQUAD

Army and Navy Preps have a thoroughly representative team in that the players come from as far West as California and from practically every section of the country.

The team plays Eastern tomorrow, and has listed several attractive games for the remainder of the season, winding up the list with the big game with Georgetown Prep.

After Eastern is encountered tomorrow, Tome School at Port Deposit, Md., will be next October 20. The team then takes on Tech, October 27, and Baltimore Polytechnic Institute in Baltimore, on November 9. Episcopal is battled at Alexandria on November 16, and Georgetown Preps November 23.

Western has been handily defeated, 28 to 0, and the team is ready to clean up for Eastern tomorrow. Coach Newberry has selected the following men for the eleven: O'Shea, left end, a former Brookline High player, of Massachusetts; Thompson, left tackle, Kansas; Rosenthal, left guard, who played with the Preps last year; Arnold, of the Kingsley School, center; Stevenson, of Plainfield, N. J., right guard; Kyle, captain, who was with the team last year, right tackle; Motley, right end, of Hill School last year; Hogan, of California, quarter; Payne, Hill School, left half; Cooper, Clarkburg, W. Va., right half, and Williams, Minnesota, fullback.

The substitutes are Pilling, Blaisdell, Squires, Smith, Nisban, and Schorer, of Williams, the Minnesota lad, played with the university eleven there last year, and was a member of the second string.

TENER'S MAGNATES CONSIDER FEDERAL ATTACK IN COURT

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—A National League meeting, at which the suit brought by the old Baltimore club of the Federal League against organized baseball was discussed, was held here prior to the playing of the fourth world's series game.

Every club in the circuit was represented. August Herrmann, chairman of the national commission, also attended. John K. Tener, president of the National League, presided.

Other phases of organized baseball's peace agreement with the Feders were considered.

The Baltimore Federals recently filed suit in the United States court in Washington for $200,000 under the Clayton act, seeking triple damages amounting to $600,000. The action was based on the club's claim that its rights had been injured under the so-called peace agreement.

Previously the Baltimore club similarly sued, but after two days of the trial in Philadelphia it withdrew its action "without prejudice" to its case.

Mr. Goldheim Talks

"Business brisk?"

"As brisk as the weather," replied Mr. Goldheim, "and Barrage Overcoats are the briskest sellers."

"Any new arrivals?"

"Yes, we've recruited the ranks several times with many stunning effects in Heather mixtures—blue, brown, and green—with satin lined sleeves and yoke. They are sturdy coats with deep military collar, belt all around, bellows or vertical slashed pockets—plenty of style pep to please smart dressers."

"Prices?—the starter is $20."

"For conservative dressers we are showing a silk lined Oxford Overcoat that any man might wear with pride."

"It struck me that almost a steady stream of men and young men come to this shop for seasonable underwear of popular makes, shirts, hosiery, and other haberdashery."

"They surely show they 'know.'"
