

"UNCLE JOE," KNEE
SPRAINED IN FALL,
IS UNPERTURBED

"Uncle Joe" Cannon confronted with an X-ray picture of his injured knee-cap grimly smiled, at noon today, and continued to read the morning newspapers. He had predicted his early recovery. Before the picture bore out his impression that he had not suffered permanent injury. The veteran legislator, eighty-two years old, who fell yesterday morning as he left his home, 2029 Connecticut avenue, while on his way to the Capitol was cheery this morning.

A good night's rest, some strong coffee and a Hooverized breakfast added to the good humor of the Republican war-horse and former Speaker of the House. Biting into a big black cigar, Uncle Joe soon lost himself in his morning smoke as he rapidly read the news of the day.

Congressman Cannon's right knee-cap is sprained. The X-ray picture showed no bones dislocated or shattered. His daughter and wife were with him today urging him to take things easy. He expressed regret that his hurt would keep him away from Congress for a few days. "They can't keep me away," he told his secretary who called to see him today.

A year ago, "Uncle Joe" fell in the corridor of the Capitol and sprained his wrist. He was back in harness after a few days' rest.

SAMMY'S PROUD
OF LIEUTENANT
OUTWITTING FOE

AMERICAN FIELD HEADQUARTERS, FRANCE, Dec. 16 (by mail).—"I'll follow Mr. Short anywhere."

A young, slightly built Sammy paid this tribute to his lieutenant within a few hours after his return from the trenches. He was sitting on a mile post at the roadside before the barn where he sleeps, oiling the rifle that he carried in night patrols into No Man's Land with Mr. Short.

The lieutenant himself was making an informal inspection of his man, an inspection that seemed more like a friendly visit. As he passed on down the muddy lane, the soldier let his eyes wander after him admiringly.

Mr. Short discovered that the barb-wire in front of our sector had been cut during the night," said the youngster. "I supposed he would send for the engineers to come up the next evening and put new wires in the hole. But the lieutenant was a wise man—he said 'no.'"

All day we lay in the dugouts with our shoes and socks and breeches soaked and no dry clothes to put on. Another bunch stood watch in the little ditch of a front line, keeping their heads down and ready with their rifles and a machine gun in case the old Boche would come over.

Ready for Business.
"At 5 o'clock in the evening Mr. Short woke us up. We had a cup of scalding coffee and started up the communicating trench. It was raining and snowing and the water in the communication trench was up to our ankles over the duckboard."

Was Top Sergeant.
Mr. Short, he it known, is an old "top sergeant."
