

U-Boats Are Beaten by Co-Operation of the Allied Fleets, Declares Admiral Sims

PAYS TRIBUTE TO U. S. SAILORS AND HEROISM OF THE BRITISH

least for the time being. I am sure that there is no American but who is thrilled to hear of these gallant deeds—unparalleled even in the annals of the British navy.

"We have mastered the submarine and proven it false. The boast that it would stop American forces from reaching the battlefields in France has been proven foolish. With the British navy, the French navy, and the Italian navy the American navy has co-operated, and I can safely say we are well on the road to winning."

"We shall do the job completely. Germany's hope of crippling the allies at sea is rapidly fading. When the German people know it will not be an easy job for the Kaiser and his junkers to lead them forward into a successive and hopeless shambles of blood and misery."

"The extremely effective way in which we have been able to co-operate with our naval allies is the best evidence that a united command is entirely feasible."

No Question of Precedence.
"There has been no question of precedence between us. If three American destroyers, say, and three British, go out on a mission, the senior officer is in command. If he is British, he takes charge of all. If American, he is in command of the entire flotilla. There has not been a single instance in which allied officers and sailors have not worked together as if they were one."

"I have no doubt that Russia can be reorganized as rapidly as it has been disintegrated if the proper methods are followed."

MOTORCYCLISTS ARE HURT IN TWO ACCIDENTS

Two motorcyclists today are suffering from painful injuries they received in accidents last night.

Carroll Farrell, twenty-two years old, 1211 Duncan street northeast, lost control of his cycle while riding on Tenth street, near C northeast, and crashed into a tree, throwing him to the street. He is at the Casualty Hospital suffering from concussion of the brain.

Falling from his motorcycle while on Branch avenue, near Alabama avenue southeast, William Ridgeley, twenty-three years old, of Good Hope, D. C., received lacerations on his face and his body was bruised. He was treated at the Casualty Hospital and later taken to his home.

REPORT GERMANS ROB AND RAVISH BEATEN RUSSIA

Swedish advices to the State Department today reported the resignation of Russian Foreign Minister Telichevich and the succession of Karachou, Russian delegate to the Brest conference.

Another message said 2,000 prisoners assembled at Kiev were dispersed by the Germans, that proprietors had been stripped of their rights, that the Germans were carrying off Ukrainian provisions and that towns and railways were dark for lack of petroleum.

Russian wireless dated May 1 reported attacks in the Black Sea upon merchant vessels and related the attack of a German U-boat upon a hospital ship near Norway.

Three persons were killed and two seriously injured when a submarine sank a passenger steamer in Waida.

Steal Billions.
As for Finland, advices said the White Guard and German armies were stealing all government and private property, and had already confiscated several billions of dollars worth of Russian securities.

News concerning French Trans-Caucasia was that the Germans had sent armed merchant vessels to bombard the coast where its authority was not recognized.

Russian fishing boats, passenger steamers, and hospital ships have aroused great discontent among the masses. It was stated, and Germany has been asked not to permit repetition and to take measures to punish guilty parties and indemnify losses.

Military intervention in Russia on a large scale is generally opposed by American army officers. Aside from the Japanese army, there is no force sufficiently large which can be spared for the purpose of the transport difficulties are too great. It would be unwise, it was pointed out, to send only Japanese troops. The effect probably would create antagonism in Russia.

Might Be Revived.
"A revival of the fighting spirit must be created in Russia," said a well-known general today.

"The allies can use propaganda methods to as great an advantage as the Germans. In addition, I think that very effective work could be done by sending officers of the allied army to join the loyal Russian forces there and work westward along the Siberian railroad, organizing an army as they go."

"I have no doubt that Russia can be reorganized as rapidly as it has been disintegrated if the proper methods are followed."

Godsol, His Attorneys, and His Prosecutor

MISSING AFFIDAVIT CAUSES A BIG STIR IN GODSOL HEARING

one," said Mr. Bailey, "and if the prosecution does not produce it I shall ask for a summons for Mr. Becker and have him placed on the stand."

Very white and angry, Mr. Laskey jumped to his feet and said "Mr. Bailey will have nothing to do with the conduct of the prosecution of this case. We know of no second affidavit from Mr. Thomas and shall introduce none. The affidavit which we have introduced and which came from Paris is the only one we have knowledge of and the only one we shall use."

Penalty Provided.
Mr. Bailey, replying, said: "I know there is another and since the prosecution has announced the fact that the one which he has come from Paris I will say that the law of New York provides a severe penalty for the divulging either by attorney or witness of the substance of an affidavit as this has apparently been divulged by being sent to France."

Reading of the documentary evidence in the case was terminated this morning.

District Attorney Laskey then called to the stand William Charles Archer, assistant chairman of the board of directors of the Chatham and Phoenix Bank, of New York city. Archer produced three signature cards of the bank, covering the accounts of the Godsol Traders Corporation, the Alliance Motors Corporation and Frank J. Godsol's private account. His testimony showed that Frank J. Godsol was the only person who could withdraw money from either of the three accounts.

Recalled To Stand.
Frederic Allan, practicing French attorney, now legal adviser to the French high commission in this country, who was on the stand yesterday, was recalled today.

He started to explain the French court procedure, and applied the details thereof to the Godsol case, explaining how this case would be handled in the French courts.

His evidence brought out that Godsol would be tried before a military court-martial of six officers in France, but that the law provides that, if convicted, he could be given no more severe penalty than the civil courts could impose, namely, a prison sentence of from one to five years and a fine of from 50 to 2,000 francs.

He was still on the stand when recess was taken at 12:30. He resumed his testimony when court reconvened for the afternoon session.

Whether or not Godsol's attorneys will be allowed to introduce testimony to controvert the affidavits is a moot question over which there is likely to develop a sharp contest when the question arises.

G. W. U. ORGANIZING RED CROSS CHAPTER

George Washington University is helping the Red Cross financial drive by organizing a Red Cross chapter at the institution.

Students today are canvassing the nine departments of the university with membership cards, urging those students who are not already members of Red Cross chapters to join the new organization at the university.

Members of other branches are entitled to shift their membership to the university organization, it is understood. The initiation fee is $1.25.

Both Emmett and Eugene Underwood are in charge of the movement.

If You Want This Wool From the President's Sheep Write or Wire Brownlow

The two pounds of wool given by President and Mrs. Wilson from the White House flock of sheep for the benefit of the Red Cross district fund, to be sold by Commissioner Brownlow, was delivered to him this morning, and he will receive bids by mail or telegraph up to Monday afternoon, May 27, the closing day of the Red Cross campaign.

The president of each State and the President of the Board of Commissioners of the District have been asked by the Red Cross to take charge of the auction in their respective jurisdictions. Henry White, manager of the Potomac division of the Red Cross, yesterday afternoon asked Mr. Brownlow to act as auctioneer.

In order that everybody may have an opportunity to bid the sale will be conducted by letter and wire. The names of the bidders and the amounts offered will be announced daily in the press.

Commissioner Brownlow hopes to receive several bids by wire this afternoon, and confidently expects a great many bids by letter tomorrow morning.

In many States it is said that the price of wool per pound will range into the thousands of dollars.

The successful bidder will receive with the two pounds of wool a letter from President and Mrs. Wilson, acknowledging the aid given to the Red Cross by the purchaser.

RED CROSS HAS PASSED QUOTA; IS OUT FOR MILLION

A total of $74,269,825 has been reached in the second war fund drive of the American Red Cross, according to reports received at national headquarters today.

Washington today holds another war record in the oversubscription of the amount allotted the National Capital in the second war fund drive of the American Red Cross.

With its quota of $500,000 over-subscribed at noon today the team workers who have canvassed the city since Monday went determinedly at the task of making it a million dollars for Washington.

Official announcement at the meeting of the team workers showed a total collection of $593,390.85. Of this $74,148.87 was collected this morning. Yesterday's record was $101,378.

The team of Mrs. Foulke led in the amount of subscriptions secured, $10,988 being reported by her workers.

Canadian Official Here.
Col. Charles R. McCullough, official representative to this country of the Canadian Red Cross, arrived here today. He will speak at "Canadian Night" at Liberty Hut at 8 o'clock. Joseph Edward O'Toole, assistant secretary of the Senate, will speak at Keith's Theater tonight in the interest of the drive.

The beginning of the new team campaign of a house-to-house canvass and the benefit baseball game between Washington and Detroit at American League are the major efforts of the team workers for today. President Wilson has notified officials he will attend the benefit game. Ty Cobb and other diamond stars will solicit subscriptions for the fund.

Lloyd Harris, chairman of the Canadian War Mission, and Capt. G. D. Hunter, Canadian aviator, will be the speakers at Liberty Hut tonight. Captain Hunter was for nine months a German prisoner. He will relate his experiences in Hun prison camps.

Private Whale and Private Lambert, who were sent by Canada to aid the Red Cross drive, and Mrs. Sidney Dunn, of Hamilton, Canada, whose son has been decorated many times, will also be on the program.

Girls who were on duty in hotels selling candy and flowers did a record-breaking business for the Red Cross yesterday. The largest individual checks received yesterday for the fund were $10,000 from Duncan Phillips, $10,000 from Mrs. Duncan Phillips, and $5,000 from James I. Phillips.

E. F. Keith's Theater hung up another proud mark in Red Cross collections yesterday.

Marshall Make Appeal.
Vice President Marshall was the speaker last night. After his speech the audience subscribed $3,107.97, bringing the day's total to $3,684.88.

SODA FOUNTAINS MUST GO DRY FOR LACK OF SWEETS

A number of Washington's soda fountains, particularly the ones which have been busiest will have to close down within the next few days.

A limit has been put upon the use of sugar for syrups by District Food Administrator Clarence R. Wilson. A number of drug stores and other fountains have already used the full amount allowed for consumption up to July 1. When their present syrups are gone, they will be without any.

The sugar must be conserved for canning and preserving and the soda fountains and soft drink manufacturers can under no circumstances use more than 90 per cent of the amount of sugar this year, that they used last year.

American cheese, whole milk, per lb. 20 21
Lard, nearby fresh, per 25 lb. 80 87
Beans, dried lima, per lb. 11 11 1/2
Beans, white, dry, per lb. 11 11 1/2
Beans, pinto, per lb. 11 11 1/2
Beans, in whole cans, per lb. 11 11 1/2
Peanut, almond, bulk, per lb. 40 40
Honey, standard, per lb. 80 87
Egg potatoes to ease the surplus stock of potatoes and to save seed. If any dealer charges more for potatoes than the prices quoted above, he should be reported to the Federal Food Administrator, 901 Sixteenth street, N. W.

Due to the variable demand and supply of new potatoes, a variation in price under them usual is stated, depending upon the price paid by the retailer.

KCB's Town Gossip

A LONG time ago
OUT IN the West
THERE WAS a boarding house.
WHERE I used to live.
AND THERE was a fellow there.
BY THE name of Jack.
AND ONE night
HE CAME home in a hack.
AND HE had his sister.
AND A lot of grips.
AND SHE'D just come out
FROM WHERE she lived.
BACK IN Wisconsin.
TO PAY him a visit.
AND HER name was Lil.
AND FOR two weeks.
SHE WAS the queen.
OF THE boarding house.
AND THERE came the night.
SHE WAS going away.
AND I was upstairs.
GETTING ALL dolled up.
SO AS to look good.
WHEN WE went to the train.
AND WHILE I was there.
THE GANG left.
IN A couple of hacks.
AND WHEN I came down.
AND FOUND them gone.
I GRABBED my hat.
AND DID a sprint.
ACROSS THE lawn.
AND THAT day.
SOME MURDERERS.
HAD PUT an iron pipe.
ABOUT A foot from the ground.
ALONG THE sidewalk.

AT THE edge of the lawn.
AND I hit it.
DOING A hundred yards.
IN TEN flat.
AND IT never budged.
AND THREE days later.
WHILE I was lying there.
IN MY hallroom bed.
WITH MY leg in a splint.
I GOT a post card.
AND IT said:
"IT'S A wonder.
"YOU COULDN'T find time.
"TO SAY good-by"
AND WAS signed "Lil."
AND I sent one back.
AND IT said:
"I NEARLY killed myself.
"JUST TRYING to"
AND SHE didn't answer.
AND I got well again.
AND FORGOT about her.
UNTIL YESTERDAY.
AND I ran right into her.
ON THE avenue.
AND GRABBED hold of her hand.
AND MY hat blew away.
AND I went after it.
FOR A block and a half.
AND WHEN I got back.
I COULDN'T find her.
AND MAYBE it's best.
BECAUSE, ANYWAY.
SHE'S A sort of a hoodoo.
THE TROUBLE I have.
EVERY TIME I see her.
I THANK YOU.
