FOE HURLED BACK BY HEAVY FRENCH COUNTER ATTACKS

villages and Hill No. 163, in the sector of Neuilly St. Front (north of Chateau-Thierry).

In the capture of Fere-en-Tardenois, on the eastern flank, which the French announced Thursday, the German war office claimed the acquisition of "a Franco-American depot," including "over half a million shells, incalculable supplies of pioneer and telephone materials, and over a thousand vehicles." This probably refers to munitions manufactured in America which were used by the French armies.

Fresh allied reserves, which are reported to include Americans, are moving toward this highly important fighting field.

"Sunday was a good day for the allies," declared the French war critic, Henri Bideou. "One may now feel that our reserves are in place there and are able to raise a solid dyke against which the German waves will break."

200,000 Refugees From War Zone Reach Paris

PARIS, June 3.—Nearly 200,000 refugees, mostly women and children, have arrived from the Marne districts and have been sent into Normandy and Brittany.

American motor trucks are aiding in transportation of thousands of refugees from the city into the country districts to the northwest. The scenes at the stations are pathetic. Paris citizens meet the children and aged persons with gifts of food and clothing.

4 U. S. Aviators in Battle With 7 German Machines

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, June 3.—Although air fighting Sunday was below normal, the close of the day was marked by an encounter northwest of Toul in which two machines—one German and the other American—were shot down. As the German squadron numbered six machines against the Americans' four, it may be considered a victory for the Yankees. The Americans, while patrolling within the American lines encountered the Boche squadron and the battle which started at once lasted several minutes. Thirty-six officers and men have been cited by a divisional order for bravery and gallantry. Among them were:

Capt. H. W. Worthington, Lancaster, Pa.; Lieut. E. B. Hope, Walterboro, S. C.; Lieut. T. E. Wood, Philadelphia; Lieut. J. P. Ratajczak, Lieut. A. C. Parkinson, of Petersburg, Va.; Lieut. J. B. Bush, and Lieut. M. R. Harrison; Sergt. F. J. Wade, Sergt. T. Y. Hammer, of Riverdale, N. J.; Sergt. A. M. Johnson, and Corporal T. W. Fritts.

FEW DROPS AND CORN LIFTS OUT

Says there is no excuse for cutting corns and inviting lockjaw.

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can harmlessly be lifted right out with the fingers if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of freestone, says a Cincinnati authority. It is claimed that at small cost one can get a quart of an ounce of freestone at any drug store which is sufficient to rub one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection. This simple drug, white sticky, dries the moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue. This announcement will interest many women here, for it is said that the present high-heeled footwear is putting corns on practically every woman's feet.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, June 3.—Bombing warfare on the most colossal scale is seen on the British front tonight. British and Prussians do not stop dropping high explosives from sunset to sunrise.

Astride the line and far into the back areas, the countryside literally rocks with stunning superconductions, while the star-blit sky is adicker with Archie bursts.

British hospitals continue to receive the full force of German hate. Another base hospital, one of the biggest in the war zone, and as far behind the lines as it was possible to install it, has been bombed by Germans, who first dropped a flare to illuminate the target, then let fly with bombs. A number of attendants were killed.

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES ON THE MARNE, June 3.—The Germans' progress having been checked to the eastward and southward, they are now concentrating their efforts south-

WHO WILL WIN HIGH SCHOOL CADET DRILL?

Capt. Paul Francis Dowling, of Company K, McKinley Manual Training School, who lives at 1355 Monroe street northwest, says:

"Company K will win, I think. I cannot say positively that it will, but I will say that it has worked in such a way that no other company can outshine it. It is an eight squad company, the largest in the brigade, and some company K."

CAPT. PAUL F. DOWLING.

westward on the front between Noyon and Chateau Thierry, seeking to advance along the three great valleys of the Oise, Our, and Marne.

But along every one of these roads, now that the intentions of the German high command are revealed, the resistance is increasing hourly. As a result, the enemy's progress is proportionately decreasing.

In the battles on the extreme left of the new front the German efforts to reach the Oise are barred by an immense chain of high, forest-covered hills, including the forests of Laigues, Compeigne, and Villiers-Cotterets, which constitute a natural fortress. The Rheims defenses are barring German progress on the extreme right.

On the western flank the Germans are thrusting simultaneously on the Audinour-Fontenoy line, and on the Crise river line, farther to the south, with the double object of attaining the Oise valley and encircling the Villiers-Cotterets forest. The latter now constitutes the Boches' principal immediate objective. Here they are employing their famous infiltration methods, consisting of attacking not where French resistance is strong, but in seeking out the points where French defenses are weakest, and then by means of their vast numerical superiority, in filtering into interlocking valleys, ravines, and other natural cover until they can outflank the French resistance.

Allied Line Strength.

The steady arrival of French reserves, however, is strengthening the entire line and rendering infiltration constantly more difficult. This is particularly noticeable at Chaudin, where the Germans sought to filter through the gap between the forests of Compeigne and Villiers-Cotterets.

With their efforts to reach the Oise thus checked and their advance westward along the Marne meeting with determined resistance, the Boches naturally are throwing the bulk of their efforts into the valley of the Our.

The entire battle front now measures 120 kilometers (74.52 miles), divided into three sectors—Noyon to Soissons, 30 kilometers (18.63 miles); Soissons to Chateau-Thierry, 45 kilometers (27.94 miles); and Chateau-Thierry to Rheims, 45 kilometers.

The Germans to date have engaged fifty divisions (600,000 men).

PRESIDENT WILSON AIDS ALLIED CAUSE IN RUSSIA

PETROGRAD, June 3.—President Wilson's declaration of sympathy toward Russia, together with Arthur Henderson's attitude in backing Wilson, has greatly strengthened the allied cause in Russia.

The newspaper Novoye Domozy defends the allies and expresses gratitude to President Wilson for his friendly utterance.

ANTI-BOLSHEVIKI PLOT SPREADING THROUGH RUSSIA

LONDON, June 3.—Widespread plots to overthrow the Bolsheviks in Petrograd and Moscow have been discovered, according to a wireless report from the latter city. Moscow has been declared in a state of siege. The plots are said to extend throughout Russia. In the Kuban and Don regions the counter revolutionary movement menaces the flour depots. This, added to the loss of the Ukraine granaries, is seen as part of a plan to drive the Russians into a famine.

Many arrests have been made. A special anti-Bolshevik force has been sent to the workmen and peasants in the Petrograd, Moscow, Don and Kuban districts to combat the counter revolutionary forces.

The mutiny of an army corps of Czechs-Slovaks, who captured several important railways and junctions, is attributed to the spread of the plots.

DRIVE WESTWARD PLAN OF GERMANS, EXPERTS SAY

AMSTERDAM, June 3.—German military writers believe that the general staff plans to halt at the Marne and carry out a concentric movement westward over the Charpent plateau, toward Paris.

General Ardennes writes that the theory of the battle is the same as penetrating armor plate—many hits close together leading to a weakening of resistance. Major Schreiberhofen, in the Hamburger Nachrichten, that developments will be influenced by the French reserve force which Foch has brought up from great distances and which he bestates to throw into the battle.

PARIS PRESS PREDICTS ALLIED COUNTER BLOW

PARIS, June 3.—The morning papers believe the situation is becoming stabilized, and that allied reserves have been so placed as to neutralize the enemy's numerical superiority.

The Matin and Petit Parisien continue to predict an allied counter blow. The Homme Libre declares the enemy's objectives will not be reached, and that Compiegne and Meaux "will not suffer from German desolation."

NO U.S. DEPOTS CAPTURED SAYS PERSHING'S REPORT

General Pershing's communique of June 2, made public today, denies the German official report that Franco-American depots were captured by the enemy.

"The German official communique," Pershing said, says: "Franco-American depots of numerous extent entered into our possession at Fere en Tardenois."

"This statement is absolutely untrue, there being no American depots in that region."
