LABOR, 3,000,000 STRONG, PLEDGES PRESIDENT AID

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 20.—"We are with you, Woodrow Wilson, 3,000,000 strong," is the message sent to the President by Samuel Gompers, the messenger will be W. B. Wilson, Secretary of Labor, who yesterday addressed the American Federation of Labor convention.

When shortly afterward Justin Godart, member of the French medical mission, and his associates entered the hall they were also received with vociferous expressions of pleasure. Godart said his countrymen in the trenches had only one object—to win the war. President Gompers, in reply, said Americans had reverence for the people of France, and that in peace or in war it had been always the gentlemen among nations.

He added: "It is a terrible brut your men are bearing, but we ask you to hold on. The American workers and soldiers are determined to see you through to victory. We will not come back until it is over." Resolutions calling upon President Wilson and the governor of California to use their powers to obtain a new trial for Thomas J. Mooney were adopted. Other resolutions asked that shipment of newspaper to other than enemy countries be prohibited during the war; demanded an investigation of all articles manufactured or produced by child labor, declaring the Supreme Court had erred in its recent decision.

ROAR OF 'HEAVIES' WILL RE-ECHO SOON OVER CAMP MEADE

CAMP MEADE, June 20.—Heavy artillery—the 4.7 howitzers—will add to the din in a few days. The 3-inch guns will keep up their target practice work from now on. The longest firing point for direct fire is 3,400 yards, but 4,000 yards has been mapped out for the heavies, which have the slow velocity and high angle and require the 4,000 yards for a good test.

The men of the 312th Heavy Artillery Regiment are glad to have their chance to make a noise, and they promise to make listeners understand that they are on the job. What makes the artillery work of interest to every soldier and visitor to camp is the fact that firing is from a point near the barracks, and thus the full volume of sound echoes through the camp. The guns in use are of older types. The artillerymen who have given a study to the development of the pieces are anxious to have the new ones which have some improvements over those here.

The chaplain of the division is now devoting a part of each day to gas mask drills.

thizers from Bisbee. Twenty-one prominent men here were recently indicted on charges growing out of the incident. "I wish my friends to know that I am anxious to protect them by again assuming all responsibility for the deportation," Wheeler's message says, "Would do the same thing over again under the same circumstances. No traitors or I. W. W. sympathizers over here—only Americans."

I. W. W.'S MILITARY DICTIONARY SHOWS CONTEMPT FOR U. S.

CHICAGO, June 20.—The Government has completed its presentation of evidence in the seditious conspiracy trial of 101 I. W. W. leaders. The I. W. W. "dictionary of military terms" was introduced to show the attitude of the organization toward America's war program. Among the definitions included in the "dictionary" were the following: Barbarians—Nations not the allies Congress—Woodrow Wilson. Huns—Devoted patriots of central Europe. Hugganuty—The treachery of the government. Justice—Straight and successful shooting at human targets. Kaiser—The ambition of the President. Patriotism—Hatred toward your neighbors. Registration—The funeral procession of liberty. Victory—Ten million men killed. Peacekeepers are a native American crop; don't let the Germans beat us at our own game. They are calling potatoes and conserving wheat.

Grandmother's way of rubbing cake soap on to fine fabrics was ruinous. Try the modern way—just dipping delicate things up and down in pure Lux suds. It keeps them like new.

As antiquated as Hoop Skirts

Are you still keeping on with the old-fashioned rub, rub, rub?

THE Princess Nausicaa and her maidens, poor dears, how their backs used to ache when they washed the clothes at the river.

What if she was the daughter of the King of Phaeacia, as the classical story goes, the Princess Nausicaa had to take her linens to the river herself and pound the dirt out with stones wash-boards. It ruined fine fabrics—so they wore only sturdy, heavy materials, except on high state occasions. It was hard, back-breaking work. So those that could afford it let servants launder even their fine things.

The modern way—no rubbing until she could have screamed from the pain in her regal little back. It was hard on the royal linens, too—the pounding of the rocks soon wore them out. But what else could a poor Princess do—she must have clean clothes, and that was the only way she knew to get them clean.

Grandmother's method is dead as a door nail

Then came our grandmothers. True, they had soap—but they still had to rub, rub, rub their clothes. First they rubbed in the soap—then they rubbed it out again against hard

And now comes the modern girl. How blithely she dons frail Georgette waists and chiffons—silk stockings and even silk underwear for every day.

She has learned the modern way—the Lux way—of washing delicate fabrics without rubbing, without

To wash silk blouses

Whisk a tablespoonful of Lux into a thick lather in half a basinful of boiling or very hot water. Add cold water till lukewarm. Dip your blouse through the foamy lather many times. Squeeze the suds through it—do not rub. Rinse in three waters of the same temperature as the water in which you washed it. Squeeze the water out—do not wring. Dry in the shade. When nearly dry press with a warm iron—never a hot one. Georgette Crepe blouses should be gently pulled into shape as they dry and also should be shaped as they are ironed.

yellowing or dimming their color. She wears her finest things often, and keeps them new with Lux.

With the delicate Lux flakes you can cleanse your sheerest, your silkiest, your most princely garments without the old-time princely back-ache. You can have all your loveliest silks, your softest woolens, your finest laces come out of the wash with all the beauty of absolutely new things.

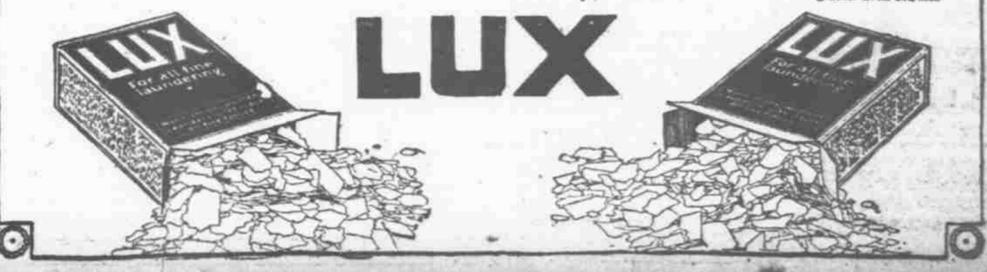

Just toss the Lux flakes into hot water and whip up the richest lather you ever saw. If you are doing silks or colored fabrics, add cold water until lukewarm. Then dip the garment up and down in the rich suds till the dirt has vanished.

Lux harms nothing that clear water alone will not injure.

Try it and know for yourself why grandmother's method of laundering fine things is as passé—as dead and gone—as Nausicaa's rocks.

If you have given up hoop skirts—give up that old-fashioned rub, rub, rub.

Use Lux and be happy. Get it at grocers, druggists or department stores—Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.
