WILL RECONSIDER COLOMBIA TREATY

Efforts to force action on two matters affecting Pan-American relations are brewing in the Senate. Early revival of the Colombian treaty in some form is likely. Demand for action with regard to the offer of the Costa Rican government of the use of its harbors for American ships will be made early next week.

Secretary Lansing, Hitchcock and Lansing conferred for some hours last week.

It is understood a new proposal is being made with regard to the Colombian treaty, to settle a question that has proved annoying for years. It involves payment of $25,000,000 to Colombia for land used in the construction of the Panama canal, but does not contemplate any apology to Colombia, such as a former proposed treaty contained.

Senator Lodge is eager for action on the Gallinger resolution to accept the Costa Rican government's offer. But acceptance would involve recognition of the Tinoco revolutionary government. German influence in Central America enters broadly into the question.

From Dr. R. V. Houston, of Southern Drug Co., 13th & G Sts. N. W.

August 24th, 1918.

Cacapon Co. Gentlemen: I was nearly helpless from paralytic rheumatism of long standing when I began drinking CACAPON a few weeks ago. After a few days use of CACAPON I began to regain the use of my right hand and now have complete control of it except for a slight stiffness in the thumb, which is also disappearing. My left hand and arm were in even worse shape and are also improving, though the effect is, naturally, slower. I have no doubt of a complete recovery and am continuing the regular use of CACAPON and recommending it to others. I did not believe that anything in the world was capable of curing a case as bad as mine and feel so grateful to you for bringing CACAPON within reach of the public that you are free to print this if it will help others. Truly Yours, R. V. HOUSTON, Phar. D. Southern Drug Co., 13th and G Sts. N. W. Washington, D. C.

Drinking Cacapon is more important than bathing, because poisons in the body are more dangerous than those outside.

DR. ALFRED WHELEN, of Philadelphia, wrote: 'The Capon Spring Water is tonic, diuretic, alterative and aperient. I have known of no case of renal calculi or gravel which has not been cured by an intelligent and sufficiently long use of this water. Gout and rheumatism and their dependent conditions are always benefited or cured. Liver and stomach ailments are much benefited and I have seen supposed incurable liver disease entirely and permanently cured. In catarrhal affections of the uterus, lungs, bladder and intestines, the effects are always beneficial and often wonderful.' DR. PAUL B. BARRINGER, formerly Chairman of the Faculty of the University of Virginia, and President of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, wrote: 'Capon Springs is not a 'cure-all,' but in that class of diseases to which it is properly applicable, it is, to my mind, 'A WATER WITHOUT A RIVAL ON THIS CONTINENT.' It is so free from irritative influence on the kidneys that the urinary tract may be flushed with safety, to a greater degree and for longer periods than with any other water I know. This makes it applicable in gout, rheumatic gout, chronic rheumatic affections, urinary calculi, cystitis and all the ills that spring from the so-called 'uric acid diathesis.' WHERE I HAVE FOUND IT TO STAND SUPERIOR TO ANY KNOWN REMEDY, NATURAL OR ARTIFICIAL, is in certain cases of sub-acute and chronic nephritis (Bright's Disease). In three or four of these cases I have seen the albumen and cysts and all other evidences of the disease disappear absolutely after a few weeks' use.'

For Over Two Centuries Leading Physicians Have Prescribed Cacapon (Healing Water) for Many Diseases, Including Some Thought Incurable. Its Strongest Endorsements Come From Those Who Have Tested It Longest, as Dr. Bedford Brown, President of the Medical Society of Virginia, After Over Forty Years Use.
