

WATERPOWER FIGHT TO GO TO SENATE

Conservationists in and out of Congress today were lining up for a battle on the so-called "recapture clause" of the waterpower bill which recently passed the House.

The fight will be carried to the Senate, through conference, and finally to President Wilson, who will be urged to veto the measure if it is objectionable provision remains in it.

Clifford Pinchot has assured members of the House who fought to amend the bill before it was passed that he will aid their fight. Provides Fifty-Year Leases. The bill as written provides for fifty-year leases of waterpower sites with the further provision that the public may take over the sites at the end of that time by paying the private lessees the net investments private lessees the net investments as construed as meaning all the money that has been put into the plant during the fifty years.

Conservationists want the public to pay to private lessees only the "fair value, which in no case shall exceed the net investment." The "fair value" construed as meaning the actual value of the plant at the time it is taken over.

Call Bill Impractical. Opponents of the bill as it now stands declare it will be practically impossible for a city or State to vote a bond issue to pay two or three times what a waterpower lease is worth to a private monopoly which has already reaped millions in profits through Government lease.

Prisoners Give Warning of Gas. German prisoners, fearing they would be overcome, warned American soldiers of impending gas attacks immediately upon their arrival in our lines north of Thiaucourt (St. Mihiel front).

The alarm was given and sure enough five minutes later the German artillery began to shower gas shells upon the American positions. Many horses that were abandoned by the Germans in their flight were utilized by the American soldiers in getting to the dressing stations. Our wounded were extremely cheerful. They smoked cigarettes and joked with each other as they were carried rearward in ambulances.

On the Marne it was necessary to travel two hours before reaching the front. "That's what you get for having such a big beer," remarked one Doughboy. Among the German prisoners who had worked in a beer garden on upper Broadway, (New York City) "I would not have been here," he remarked, "if I had not been with this bunch of dubs," indicating his comrades. "They did not know whether they were to run or fight. No officers could be found at all. And while everybody was chewing the rag along came you guys and took us."

TO ADDRESS COUNCIL. A meeting of the Business Women's Council will be held tomorrow evening at the Wesley Chapel, Fifth and F streets northwest. Miss Kathleen Burke, of the Scottish Women's Hospital, who has been serving in the hospitals in France will speak. This is the last time she will make an address before leaving this country for England.

How to Make Your Own Complexion Treatment at Home. A Free Ointment Prescription Does Its Work Overnight. New York: "It is my own discovery and it takes just one night to get such marvelous results," says Mae Edna Wilder, when her friends ask her about her wonderful complexion and the improved appearance of her hands and arms. "You can do the same thing if you follow my advice," she says. "I feel it my duty to tell every girl and woman what this wonderful prescription did for me. Just think of it. All this change in a single night. It has brought about such remarkable results. Here is the identical prescription that removed every defect from my face, neck, hands and arms. Until you try it you can form no idea of the marvelous change it will make in just one application. The prescription which you can prepare at your own home as an ointment. Go to any grocery and get ten cents' worth of ordinary oatmeal, and from any drug store a bottle of derwillo. Prepare the ointment as directed in every package of derwillo and apply night and morning. The first application will astonish you. It makes the skin appear transparent, smooth and velvety. I never tire of recommending it for a sallow skin, freckles, tan, sun spots, coarse pores, rough skin, ruddiness, wrinkles and in fact, every blemish the face, hands and arms are heir to. If your neck or chest is discolored from exposure, apply this ointment there and the objectionable defect will disappear as if by magic. It induces a healthy growth of hair. No matter how thin and unattractive the hands and arms, or what abuses they have had through hard work and exposure to sun and wind, the oatmeal-derwillo combination will work a wonderful transformation in 12

Washington Man Killed In Action

DAVID T. O'CONNELL. Killed in action in France.

DAVID T. O'CONNELL KILLED IN FRANCE

David T. O'Connell thirty-one years old, 1402 W street northwest, is reported in today's casualty list as "killed in action." His mother Mrs. Elizabeth O'Connell received official notice of her boy's death a week ago. O'Connell was a first class private in the Twenty-third Infantry, Company F, and enlisted early in July, 1917. He was at first stationed with the overseas ammunition train, Motor Truck Company D, and was transferred to the infantry at his own request. He was killed July 18, after he had served about one year. In his last letter home, written July 14, he spoke of his transfer, saying that he wanted to do his full duty and get into the "big fracas." He spoke in high praise of his officers and said he had a German rifle which he was to send home as a souvenir. He also had a piece of stained glass taken from one of the ruined cathedrals a thousand years old, in a town which the Yanks had held for 480 District men yesterday. He told of a night patrol who had found a cow in No Man's Land and brought it behind the lines. The company had it for mess for several days. O'Connell attended the St. Dominic School. He is survived by his widowed mother, six sisters, and a younger brother.

QUESTIONNAIRES GO INTO MAILS FRIDAY

Mailing of questionnaires to men of the 18 to 45 year class will begin Friday. It is expected that every man who registered September 12, will have their questionnaires by next Tuesday. Questionnaires must be returned to the local board within a week, exclusive of Sundays or holidays. With complete returns of the registration in the District in the hands of the provost marshal general, the District is now ready for the drawing, which is to take place October 2. The first call for Class 1 men of the new draft is expected about the middle of October. General Crowder's call for 450 District men yesterday completely exhausted the list of Class 1 men of registrations before September 12.

HERTEL SAVES CHAPLAIN

St. Clair Hertel, United States naval reservist and graduate of Georgetown University, 1915, is receiving the congratulations of friends at the training station at Jacksonville today over his rescue of a Catholic chaplain from drowning. Assisted by Carl Brodemeyer, another reservist, Hertel pulled the chaplain from the water as he was going under for the third time. Hertel was a basketball player of note at the Hilltop.

LOU HALL INDICTED IN EVA ROY CASE

(Continued from First Page.) To the calendar month will be the fourth Monday in November. The charge to the grand jury and setting of cases was Judge Lichten's first appearance on a Fairfax county bench. He was only recently appointed judge of the circuit, having been prosecuting attorney for several years.

Six-Hour Session. The grand jury was in session for six hours before returning the several true bills, the evidence of which had been presented to them by Commonwealth Attorney C. Vernon Ford, Ronald Blake, farmer and road supervisor, was foreman of the body. It consisted of five farmers, one telegraph operator and a miller. The coroner was the first witness summoned before the grand jury by the Commonwealth. He was followed by Peter Roy, father of Eva Roy, and Mrs. Jerman, sister of the murdered girl. At the afternoon session Mrs. Lou Hall, her father, Joe E. Taylor, and several of those who saw on the day of the murder were called to testify. The evidence which would be given by either his wife or father-in-law would be detrimental as their expressed opinions against him have always been since he was arrested about the case.

The search for the murderer has been energetically prosecuted by Commonwealth Attorney C. Vernon Ford and his assistant, William I. Farr, together with many professional detectives under the direction of Morgan Bradford, William J. Burns, the detective of international fame, was employed on the case for several days and gave out the statement that the crime was committed by some one familiar with the local surroundings in the woods near Burke station.

Story of Crime. Little Eva Roy, the fourteen-year-old daughter of Peter Roy, was assaulted and slain while looking after her father's cows in the woods near Burke Station and by some one thought to be familiar with the crime. Her body was dragged some distance and her head tied to a tree in a strangling position as if she had committed suicide. Peter Roy, the father of the girl, yesterday expressed himself as being satisfied that the man who had returned an indictment against the right man, C. Vernon Ford, the Commonwealth attorney, had nothing to say, while Walter Oliver, attorney for Lou Hall, is of the opinion that later developments will prove the innocence of his client. There were eight others indicted by the grand jury, including C. J. Armat, chief of the Tribe of Israel in the county, and who is charged with "borrowing" the wife of another member of the tribe.

BIG FARM FOR TROOPS

LANCASTER, Mass., Sept. 17.—Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer, multi-millionaire, has offered her 200-acre farm, one of the finest in the country, to the Government for the use of the troops stationed at the New England cantonment, Camp Devens. The farm is stocked with all the latest devices for cultivation, and includes a fine herd of Jersey cows, each of which has a pedigree as long as a descendant of the Pilgrim Fathers. The broad meadows and streams which are a part of the estate have long formed one of the beauty spots of this old town. There is garden space sufficient to raise all the vegetables the boys at the camp could consume. There are no strings to the offer and no conditions, except that it be returned to the owner at the end of the war in as good condition as it is in now.

CHILEAN ENVOY QUITS

SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 17.—Ambassador Eduardo Suarez Mujica, who had delayed his trip to Washington to await more favorable conditions in the international situation, has presented his resignation to the President because of discord created by the independent party with respect to the Foreign policy.

PRaises LABOR'S BIG PART IN WAR

Ninety-nine per cent of the credit for production of ships and other necessities of war belongs to labor, according to Senator McKellar of Tennessee. While he did not intend to detract from the credit due to the captains of industry who are directing the shipbuilding and other gigantic war enterprises, the Senator declared they should not claim all the glory of achievement. He said: "We are building ships at the rate of perhaps 6,000,000 tons a year. We must build them faster than the enemy can sink them. It is labor that builds these ships. It is labor that digs the raw materials and forges these raw materials. It is labor that rivets, screws, nails, and morties the various parts and materials into a completed whole. To labor is due 99 per cent of the credit. "And as in the case of ships so it is virtually with all the rest of our war services and war activities. Our munitions of war, the bullets, cannon shells, guns, machine guns, rifles, railroads, clothing, uniforms, canteens, war vessels, and food are manufactured and produced by the unremitting and patriotic toil of labor. "And more than that, it is labor's sons in the largest degree who actually use these materials on the field of battle." Senator McKellar declared himself opposed to the regulation of prices of labor. "The war has raised prices on everything," he said. "It has brought untold prosperity to manufacturers. Why should we begrudge prosperity to the laboring man, who brings prosperity to others?" Let the noise of quarters and dollars pouring into the U. S. Treasury announce to the world that this country is united. Buy War Savings Stamps.

WINNIPEG FOUNDS CHURCH FOR LABOR

A new development in the Canadian labor movement has been the establishment of a "Labor Church" in Winnipeg. Meetings are held every Sunday evening in the labor temple of that city, and the sermon topics are matters of immediate and vital interest to the workingmen. On one Sunday evening, for example, problems of the home will be discussed; on the next, perhaps, the place of the church in the labor world. The "Labor Church" has its own minister, but clergymen of all denominations in Winnipeg have become much interested in the project and are giving their whole-hearted assistance to the movement, according to communications from Winnipeg, which have reached the Department of Labor.

BATHING BEACH CLOSED.

The bathing beach at the tidal basin is closed for the season. Col. C. S. Ridley, superintendent of public buildings and grounds, stated that there were not enough people using the beach to justify holding it open any longer. Next Monday, when school opens, the hours for bathing in the playground pools will be changed, though the new hours have not, as yet, been announced.

GIVEN ADMIRALTY JOB.

The appointment of Mrs. A. Campbell, of San Francisco, as special assistant to the attorney general in admiralty matters has been announced by the Department of Justice. Campbell will be charged with the duty of overseeing the work of the admiralty staff which the Department of Justice is organizing in the principal ports of this country.

WOULD NOT STAND FOR NATIONAL AIR

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Sept. 17.—George Sharer, of Montana, a sailor, on duty at a munition plant here, knocked a young man down with his fist for refusing to stand at attention while "The Star-Spangled Banner" was being played by the Municipal Band in the city park. When the band struck up the national anthem Sharer immediately stood at attention and called to the man, who was sitting on a railing, to show his loyalty. "To — with it," the man replied. Sharer's fist shot out and caught him under the ear. Regaining his feet, the fellow fled.
