

GERMAN BASE IS ENCIRCLED; DRIVE GOES ON IN FLANDERS

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Fighting was resumed on the Cambrai-St. Quentin front this morning, Field Marshal Haig announced.

The Germans have set fire to Cambrai, which important base position is almost completely enveloped. Fighting is going on in the streets.

“English and Canadian troops, closing in upon Cambrai yesterday, captured Provilla (a mile southwest of the city), and Tilloy (a mile north of the city), despite strong hostile resistance, the statement said.

“Cambrai has been set afire by the enemy.

“This morning fighting recommenced north of St. Quentin and in the Cambrai sector.

“North of St. Quentin the attack continued yesterday afternoon. We captured Levergies after sharp fighting in the neighborhood of the village. To the north we made progress toward Joncourt (two miles north of Levergies) and gained Vendhuile (a mile west of Le Catelet).”

FLANDERS DRIVE STILL GOING ON

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, Sept. 30 (night).—The Belgian-British advance in Flanders is continuing rapidly, despite some of the most terrific fighting of the war.

Four fresh divisions are reported to have re-enforced the Germans opposite the Belgians, who took Dixmude, including the 10th Regiment, which sacked Dinant early in the war.

All enemy guns in Douthout forest were captured.

One British division advanced 12,000 yards (about seven miles) in one day.

AMUSEMENTS

FILM FEATURES

LEADER TODAY AND ALL THIS WEEK—ELAINE HAMMERSTRAIN IN “HER MAN.”

PLAZA TODAY—DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS IN “BOUNDED IN MODOCCO.” TOMORROW—MARGUERITE CLARK IN “WILD FLOWER.”

GARDEN TODAY—EMILY STEVENS AND KING BAGGOT IN “KILDARE OF STORM.” TOMORROW—HEDDA NOVA AND J. FRANK GLENDON IN “BY THE WORLD FORGOTTEN.”

STRAND TODAY AND ALL THIS WEEK—ELMO LINCOLN AND BENI MARKER IN “THE ROMANCE OF TARZAN.”

POLES TODAY—ALL THIS WEEK—MATT THURS AND SAT.

BUSINESS BEFORE PLEASURE 7 Times More

WITH Barney Bernard & Alexander Carr Next Week—The Kiss Burglar

SHUBERT-BELASCO Nights 8:20. THEATRE. Mata 2:20. Tonight, 10:00. 10:30-11:30

NORA BAYES In a Smart New Musical Play “LOOK WHO’S HERE” Big Advance Sale For Every Performance.

NATIONAL Tonight 8:20. Wed. 10:30. Sat. 10:30. “THE CROWDED HOUR”

N FLO-FLO And Her “Perfect 36” Chorus. Prices 50c to $2.00, Except Saturday.

SANDERSON CAWTHORN “THE CANARY” SAM HARDY, DOYLE AND DIXON.

THE ROMANCE OF TARZAN FIRST NATIONAL'S MONTH SEQUEL TO “TARZAN OF THE APES” EXTRA

At both Strand and Garden, daily changes of world's foremost stars in Liberty Loan special productions donated by the United States Government.

GARDEN TONIGHT AND TUESDAY EMILY STEVENS in “Kildare of Storm”

Somebody Is Always Taking the Joy Out of Life

By Briggs

The British are well east of Morsledo (four miles southwest of Roulers) and hold Terhand. A British general entered Gheluvelt astride a captured German pony.

AMUSEMENTS

CRITERION THEATER

9th and D Today and Tomorrow Gladys Brockwell in “KULTUR”

The Rape of Democracy A Daring Exposure of Scandals and Crimes in the Royal Courts of Berlin and Vienna.

Who was the mysterious and powerful beautiful woman behind the throne of Franz Josef of Austria?

What went on behind the scenes of the palace doors?

COMING NEXT SUNDAY THEDA BARA in WHEN A WOMAN SINS

DARE DEVILS

The Talk of the Town American League Park TONIGHT at 8 p. m. Popular Prices

B.F. KEITH'S

Daily 2:15 and 8:15. Sun. 2:00, 8:00, 8:15. Holydays 2:00, 8:00, 8:15. Yours for the Fourth Liberty Loan

Including Ethlyn Clark and Forty in “The Song Bird Revue.”

FOURTH LIBERTY BOND “DRIVE” Speakers, Band, Matinee 2:00, 8:00, 8:15. GUS VAN AND JOE SCHENCK, Ellmore and Williams, Oliver and Oip, &c.

LOEW'S COLUMBIA

Continued 8:20 a. m. to 11 p. m. NOW PLAYING

WILLIAM S. HART in “The Border Wireless”

GAYETY

310 1/2 Street Below F. THE MAIDS OF AMERICA WITH AL K. HALL and BOBBY BARRY

STR. CHARLES MACALESTER

FOR

Mt. Vernon Daily exc. Sunday at 10 a. m. & 2:30 p. m.

NEW LYCEUM

Penn. Ave. Eleventh St. Franklin St. 2568. THE PALACE OF BURLESQUE. All This Week With Matinee Daily

The Frolics of the Nite

Folly Theater

PENNA. AVE. AT 9TH ST. BURLESQUE TWICE DAILY

RALPH GREEN DIES FOR HIS COUNTRY

By LOUIS VARNUM WOLFE.

Liberty is one of the sublime words of our language. Liberty is that for which our forefathers fought and for which they sacrificed their lives.

Liberty is a defended principle which gives character to a nation. Liberty teaches love of country, love of government, love for republican institutions.

Liberty is fundamental to progress and civilization.

To keep Liberty manifest, to make it an ever-living, expanding influence for good is the master task of this day and hour.

To this end there is a bond, a Liberty Bond, a tie between the people and its government in which all patriots, rich and poor alike, may have a generous share.

Backed by the resources of the United States, it is a war-sustaining security; it reflects the faith of citizens in a high ideal; it is valid proof that Americans believe that its century-old traditions should remain an unbroken, historical record.

Let the listening world hear the echo of concerted support—America is obstinate for peace, justice, fraternity, victory, and the friendship of all free people. Liberal purchases of fourth-tamped Liberty Bonds will break the “iron will.”

The answer he to all European warriors against freedom: America is united for Liberty—united by States—united for the cause which seals the doom of autocracy—united in all things which make for the Parliament of Man, and, as a nation, is determined to suppress forever the tyrants against the rights of humanity.

BUY—KEEP—AND KEEP ON BUYING—LIBERTY BONDS

here and graduated from Technical school he took a position with The High School in 1912. After leaving Times, which he left to join the army.

Green, who formerly was employed by The Times, enlisted in the 12th Field Artillery, Battery E, June 5, 1917. He was sent to St. Asaph, Va., for training and later was ordered to Camp Merritt, N. J., for special training.

Soon after his arrival in France he was made first sergeant, and according to the members of his regiment who were here to boost the Third Liberty Loan he was an able leader and one of the most popular men in the outfit.

He left for France last Christmas day. On his arrival he was immediately sent to a development camp and in a few weeks his battery was ordered to the front line. He was gassed later and was sent to a hospital. After his recovery he was again sent to the front, where he had been only a short time when he was wounded and sent behind the lines to recuperate.

Green was in the battle of Chateau Thierry and other battles of which he made no mention in letters to his mother. It is believed he was killed in the recent activity of Americans between the Sulphe and Meuse rivers.

He was born and raised in the District.

LIBERTY BONDS

By LOUIS VARNUM WOLFE.

Liberty is one of the sublime words of our language.

Liberty is that for which our forefathers fought and for which they sacrificed their lives.

Liberty is a defended principle which gives character to a nation.

Liberty teaches love of country, love of government, love for republican institutions.

Liberty is fundamental to progress and civilization.

To keep Liberty manifest, to make it an ever-living, expanding influence for good is the master task of this day and hour.

To this end there is a bond, a Liberty Bond, a tie between the people and its government in which all patriots, rich and poor alike, may have a generous share.

Backed by the resources of the United States, it is a war-sustaining security; it reflects the faith of citizens in a high ideal; it is valid proof that Americans believe that its century-old traditions should remain an unbroken, historical record.

Let the listening world hear the echo of concerted support—America is obstinate for peace, justice, fraternity, victory, and the friendship of all free people. Liberal purchases of fourth-tamped Liberty Bonds will break the “iron will.”

The answer he to all European warriors against freedom: America is united for Liberty—united by States—united for the cause which seals the doom of autocracy—united in all things which make for the Parliament of Man, and, as a nation, is determined to suppress forever the tyrants against the rights of humanity.

BUY—KEEP—AND KEEP ON BUYING—LIBERTY BONDS

here and graduated from Technical school he took a position with The High School in 1912. After leaving Times, which he left to join the army.

Green, who formerly was employed by The Times, enlisted in the 12th Field Artillery, Battery E, June 5, 1917. He was sent to St. Asaph, Va., for training and later was ordered to Camp Merritt, N. J., for special training.

Soon after his arrival in France he was made first sergeant, and according to the members of his regiment who were here to boost the Third Liberty Loan he was an able leader and one of the most popular men in the outfit.

He left for France last Christmas day. On his arrival he was immediately sent to a development camp and in a few weeks his battery was ordered to the front line. He was gassed later and was sent to a hospital. After his recovery he was again sent to the front, where he had been only a short time when he was wounded and sent behind the lines to recuperate.

Green was in the battle of Chateau Thierry and other battles of which he made no mention in letters to his mother. It is believed he was killed in the recent activity of Americans between the Sulphe and Meuse rivers.

He was born and raised in the District.

here and graduated from Technical school he took a position with The High School in 1912. After leaving Times, which he left to join the army.

Green, who formerly was employed by The Times, enlisted in the 12th Field Artillery, Battery E, June 5, 1917. He was sent to St. Asaph, Va., for training and later was ordered to Camp Merritt, N. J., for special training.

Soon after his arrival in France he was made first sergeant, and according to the members of his regiment who were here to boost the Third Liberty Loan he was an able leader and one of the most popular men in the outfit.

He left for France last Christmas day. On his arrival he was immediately sent to a development camp and in a few weeks his battery was ordered to the front line. He was gassed later and was sent to a hospital. After his recovery he was again sent to the front, where he had been only a short time when he was wounded and sent behind the lines to recuperate.

Green was in the battle of Chateau Thierry and other battles of which he made no mention in letters to his mother. It is believed he was killed in the recent activity of Americans between the Sulphe and Meuse rivers.

He was born and raised in the District.

here and graduated from Technical school he took a position with The High School in 1912. After leaving Times, which he left to join the army.

Green, who formerly was employed by The Times, enlisted in the 12th Field Artillery, Battery E, June 5, 1917. He was sent to St. Asaph, Va., for training and later was ordered to Camp Merritt, N. J., for special training.

Soon after his arrival in France he was made first sergeant, and according to the members of his regiment who were here to boost the Third Liberty Loan he was an able leader and one of the most popular men in the outfit.

He left for France last Christmas day. On his arrival he was immediately sent to a development camp and in a few weeks his battery was ordered to the front line. He was gassed later and was sent to a hospital. After his recovery he was again sent to the front, where he had been only a short time when he was wounded and sent behind the lines to recuperate.

Green was in the battle of Chateau Thierry and other battles of which he made no mention in letters to his mother. It is believed he was killed in the recent activity of Americans between the Sulphe and Meuse rivers.

He was born and raised in the District.

here and graduated from Technical school he took a position with The High School in 1912. After leaving Times, which he left to join the army.

Green, who formerly was employed by The Times, enlisted in the 12th Field Artillery, Battery E, June 5, 1917. He was sent to St. Asaph, Va., for training and later was ordered to Camp Merritt, N. J., for special training.

Soon after his arrival in France he was made first sergeant, and according to the members of his regiment who were here to boost the Third Liberty Loan he was an able leader and one of the most popular men in the outfit.

He left for France last Christmas day. On his arrival he was immediately sent to a development camp and in a few weeks his battery was ordered to the front line. He was gassed later and was sent to a hospital. After his recovery he was again sent to the front, where he had been only a short time when he was wounded and sent behind the lines to recuperate.

Green was in the battle of Chateau Thierry and other battles of which he made no mention in letters to his mother. It is believed he was killed in the recent activity of Americans between the Sulphe and Meuse rivers.

He was born and raised in the District.

here and graduated from Technical school he took a position with The High School in 1912. After leaving Times, which he left to join the army.

Green, who formerly was employed by The Times, enlisted in the 12th Field Artillery, Battery E, June 5, 1917. He was sent to St. Asaph, Va., for training and later was ordered to Camp Merritt, N. J., for special training.

Soon after his arrival in France he was made first sergeant, and according to the members of his regiment who were here to boost the Third Liberty Loan he was an able leader and one of the most popular men in the outfit.

He left for France last Christmas day. On his arrival he was immediately sent to a development camp and in a few weeks his battery was ordered to the front line. He was gassed later and was sent to a hospital. After his recovery he was again sent to the front, where he had been only a short time when he was wounded and sent behind the lines to recuperate.

Green was in the battle of Chateau Thierry and other battles of which he made no mention in letters to his mother. It is believed he was killed in the recent activity of Americans between the Sulphe and Meuse rivers.

He was born and raised in the District.

here and graduated from Technical school he took a position with The High School in 1912. After leaving Times, which he left to join the army.

Green, who formerly was employed by The Times, enlisted in the 12th Field Artillery, Battery E, June 5, 1917. He was sent to St. Asaph, Va., for training and later was ordered to Camp Merritt, N. J., for special training.

Soon after his arrival in France he was made first sergeant, and according to the members of his regiment who were here to boost the Third Liberty Loan he was an able leader and one of the most popular men in the outfit.

He left for France last Christmas day. On his arrival he was immediately sent to a development camp and in a few weeks his battery was ordered to the front line. He was gassed later and was sent to a hospital. After his recovery he was again sent to the front, where he had been only a short time when he was wounded and sent behind the lines to recuperate.

Green was in the battle of Chateau Thierry and other battles of which he made no mention in letters to his mother. It is believed he was killed in the recent activity of Americans between the Sulphe and Meuse rivers.

He was born and raised in the District.

here and graduated from Technical school he took a position with The High School in 1912. After leaving Times, which he left to join the army.

Green, who formerly was employed by The Times, enlisted in the 12th Field Artillery, Battery E, June 5, 1917. He was sent to St. Asaph, Va., for training and later was ordered to Camp Merritt, N. J., for special training.

Soon after his arrival in France he was made first sergeant, and according to the members of his regiment who were here to boost the Third Liberty Loan he was an able leader and one of the most popular men in the outfit.

He left for France last Christmas day. On his arrival he was immediately sent to a development camp and in a few weeks his battery was ordered to the front line. He was gassed later and was sent to a hospital. After his recovery he was again sent to the front, where he had been only a short time when he was wounded and sent behind the lines to recuperate.

Green was in the battle of Chateau Thierry and other battles of which he made no mention in letters to his mother. It is believed he was killed in the recent activity of Americans between the Sulphe and Meuse rivers.

He was born and raised in the District.

here and graduated from Technical school he took a position with The High School in 1912. After leaving Times, which he left to join the army.

Green, who formerly was employed by The Times, enlisted in the 12th Field Artillery, Battery E, June 5, 1917. He was sent to St. Asaph, Va., for training and later was ordered to Camp Merritt, N. J., for special training.

Soon after his arrival in France he was made first sergeant, and according to the members of his regiment who were here to boost the Third Liberty Loan he was an able leader and one of the most popular men in the outfit.

He left for France last Christmas day. On his arrival he was immediately sent to a development camp and in a few weeks his battery was ordered to the front line. He was gassed later and was sent to a hospital. After his recovery he was again sent to the front, where he had been only a short time when he was wounded and sent behind the lines to recuperate.

Green was in the battle of Chateau Thierry and other battles of which he made no mention in letters to his mother. It is believed he was killed in the recent activity of Americans between the Sulphe and Meuse rivers.

He was born and raised in the District.

LUDENDORFF HARD PRESSED FOR MEN

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Oct. 1.—General Ludendorff is breaking up many of his divisions on other fronts and in rest camps to obtain man power to fill up his divisions on the front line here.

This became known when it was learned that many of the German replacement divisions in the Meuse-Argonne sector comprise drafts from disorganized divisions resting in Alsace, Ardennes and Briey. Some of the units formerly policed Roumania. It was officially confirmed today that Douglas Campbell, of San Jose, Cal., shot down a German aeroplane downing ten enemy planes.

Eddie Rickenbacker yesterday attacked a German observation balloon being brought up to the front on a motor truck with a semi-inflated gas bag. Rickenbacker machine-gunned the crew and set fire to the truck.

Frank Luko has brought down two more observation balloons.

FAVOR LIBERTY MOTORS

De Havilland's with Liberty motors are popular with American flyers abroad, according to a report of an air service captain to Major General Kenly, aviation chief, today.

The captain said the first De Havilland were delivered as early as May 13 in France, and that since then they have been coming in increasing quantities.

France has said she would take any excess motors the United States could produce.

GROTTO INITIATES 43

The fall ceremonials of Kallio Grotto, No. 13, were marked last night by the initiation of forty-three candidates, which took place in the Washington Hotel.

The men were later entertained at vaudeville stars playing at various theaters.

ADVERTISEMENT.

TONIC UPBUILDER

Stubborn Coughs, Weak Lungs and Colds. Try

Eckman's Alterative

For many years this Calcium preparation has maintained an ever-increasing reputation for accomplishing good, and other remarkable results.

$1 Size now 80c Price includes War Tax. Eckman Laboratory

$2 Size now $1.50 All Drug Stores

Come Here and Get a Dandy Watch!! Choice of Only the Best Makes!! Terms to Suit!! Put your spare change in an elegant Watch. A few cents-a-day-out-of-your-pay.

Now You Can Own a Good Watch!! No wonder we pride ourselves upon our exceptionally complete stock of Watches. Ladies! Gentlemen!! Choice of Hundreds of Beautiful Diamond Rings $25, $37.50, $50

Perfected Credit Service!! What is Credit anyway? If used the Castalberg way it is a mighty convenience! Our Terms to All On $25 or less we ask only 50c weekly On $25 to $50 we ask only $1.00 weekly On $50 to $75 we ask only $1.50 weekly On $75 to $100 we ask only $2.00 weekly

THE LARGEST CREDIT JEWELERS IN THE WORLD 935 PA. AVE. CASTELBERG S

Stenography Typewriting Shorthand Reporting Multigraphing Mimeographing Expert Stenographers furnished by hour or day. Office open day and night. Rexford L. Holmes, Inc. 321-323 Southern Bldg. Telephones: Main 8178 and Linc. 2323