A War-Time Request!

Please Consult the Telephone Directory Before Calling "Information"

“INFORMATION” is called over 5,500 times daily in Washington alone for numbers that can be found in the TELEPHONE DIRECTORY. Such calls greatly reduce operating efficiency at the Information Bureaus. Much additional equipment and many more operators are thus required than would be needed if the directories were used as much as they should be.

In order that we may satisfactorily meet the difficulties due to war conditions, and conserve our resources for use in essential war work, we are obliged to request our patrons to consult the directory for telephone numbers before asking “Information” for them.

To assist in bringing this about, our “Information” operators, when answering calls for numbers appearing in the directory, will request the calling parties to look in the Telephone Book for the numbers. Will kindly co-operate with us in this necessary war economy?

Always Look in the Telephone Book Before You Ask “Information” for a Number.
