85 DEATHS FROM "FLU" HERE IN DAY

thing in his power to co-operate with the health authorities to prevent further spread of the disease. No one should become panicky, but on the other hand no one should fail to realize the actual danger.

"The wearing of gauze masks by everyone coming in contact with many people is earnestly advised by the Public Health Service. I believe the general compliance with this advice will materially help in checking the spread of the epidemic. It is important to avoid crowds, to keep cool when walking, to keep warm when not exercising, to maintain a high standard of personal hygiene, and to cover every cough or sneeze.

"Volunteer nurses, nurses' aids, cooks, and general helpers are urgently needed. Every well person who can help is urged to report at once to the recruiting headquarters in the Wyatt building, Fourteenth and F streets. Volunteer today. You may save a life by so doing. You certainly will prevent suffering and relieve distress.

To Restrict Influx. All Government Departments and bureaus today are co-operating in an effort to restrict the bringing of additional war workers into this city until such time as the influenza epidemic is under control.

At the request of the District Health authorities and the United States Public Health Service, an appeal has been sent to the heads of the Government departments asking that appointments of employees be restricted. This appeal was sent out yesterday by the Civil Service Commission, and inquiry today developed the fact that it is meeting with approval on the part of departmental chiefs.

Civilian appointments are being held down to an absolute minimum in the Navy Department, and a similar rule is in force at the Department of Commerce. Secretary McAdoo has directed that no new employees be brought to Washington until further notice. A like order was issued yesterday by Secretary of Interior Lane.

Protest in House. Further protest against bringing additional clerks to Washington was started in the House today by Congressman Sears of Florida. Mr. Sears said he had looked into the conditions among Government workers here. He described them as extremely serious.

Following is the text of the letter sent out yesterday by the Civil Service Commission to the various Government departments and bureaus: "Upon the request of the Commissioners of the District of Columbia, the Public Health Service, and the District Health Service that appointments of Government employees be restricted in view of the prevailing epidemic of influenza, the commission has the honor to suggest that your department make requisition upon the commission only for those clerks and other employees absolutely necessary at this time for the maintenance of the war program."

Vardaman to Aid. Senator Vardaman of Mississippi today appealed to all members of Congress to take a hand in caring for the victims of the disease. In a statement to The Times, Senator Vardaman said:

"I would like very much to have the men and women who have come to Washington from Mississippi recently to engage in war work to communicate with me if they need help or are uncomfortably situated on account of the abnormal conditions existing in the city today.

Have Died From Neglect. "I have noticed that so many young people, inexperienced and unfamiliar with the ways of the world, have suffered and died from neglect, and I desire to render such help as I may to those from my own State who need it.

"I think it would be well if the Senators and Representatives from the different States of the Republic would interest themselves in this matter and see that those from their respective States who are unable to provide for themselves the necessities of life during this epidemic get attention."

Patients in New Hospital. Dr. E. S. Mustard, of the public health service, today announced that he is ready to care for all influenza patients who cannot gain admission to the city hospitals or cannot procure proper treatment and care at home.

The first influenza hospital opened by the public health service at 612 F street northwest is caring for 100 patients, its capacity, and has been declining requests for admission since Sunday. But the second new influenza hospital, in the building at Ninth and F streets, and Virginia avenue northwest, recently vacated by the quartermaster's office, today is receiving patients. Eleven patients already have been admitted. The hospital offers accommodations for 500. In case of necessity, the building can be made to accommodate at least 700 patients.

These two new hospitals are greatly relieving the strain on the local hospitals, which have been taxed to their capacity ever since the epidemic grew widespread here. The new influenza hospitals are designed especially to care for Government employees, and particularly those who have no relatives here. The chief difficulty today is procuring an adequate number of nurses for these new hospitals.

GERMAN VANDALS PLAIN DESTRUCTION

German newspapers, officially inspired, assert today that the devastations of territory from which their armies retreat is "military necessity," according to a cablegram to the French war mission this afternoon. Vandalism of the retreating Germans is pronounced "widespread" and not the result of military necessity. French official cables replied. It was declared that the sudden fall of St. Quentin had driven the Germans to the limit of their military and special crimes. Large holes for blasting powder had been drilled in the columns supporting the cathedral. Many evidences of plain destruction were uncovered in ruined Cambrai. "We know for certain that these deeds of vandalism, intended and premeditated, are an odious blackmail," the French cabled added.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How To Treat Medical authorities state that nearly nine tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, bloating, nausea etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe, to a lack of digestive juices. The digestive stomach lining is friable, digestion is delayed and food sour, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well. Alkalic digestion is necessary. This is why in such cases and may do real harm. ROULERS HEARS ANTHEM

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY ON THE FLANDERS FRONT, Oct. 14.—When the French entered Roulers they found the city less damaged than Cambrai had been. A French major, surrounded himself with a few civilians, played the "Marseillaise" on a piano he found. There were some German prisoners in the crowd that looked on. Do You Think There is No Competition?

If anyone thinks there is no competition amongst the big packers he ought to go through a day's work with Swift & Company.

Let him begin at the pens when the live stock comes in; let him try to buy a nice bunch of fat steers quietly and at his own price, without somebody's bidding against him.

Let him realize the scrupulous care taken at the plant that not one thing is lost or wasted in order that costs may be held to a minimum.

Let him go up into the office where market reports are coming in,—and reports of what other concerns are doing.

Let him watch the director of the Swift Refrigerator fleet, maneuvering it over the face of the country like a fleet of battle-ships at sea.

Let him take a trip with a Swift & Company salesman and try to sell a few orders of meat.

Let him stay at a branch house for an hour or two and see the retail meat dealers drive their bargains to the last penny as they shop around among the packers' branch houses, the wholesale dealers, and the local packing plants.

And then, when the day is over, let him have half an hour in the accounting department, where he can see for himself on what small profits the business is done. (Less than 4 cents on each dollar of sales.)

If he still thinks there is no competition in the meat business it will be because he wants to think so.
