

RED CROSS WORK IS VAST.

How the women of America have contributed toward making things comfortable for Uncle Sam's boys overseas is told in a report just made public by the war council of the American Red Cross. A total of 291,044,999 necessary articles have been produced by American women. These include 233,196,400 surgical dressings, 14,059,000 knitted articles, 1,484,000 dresses, 1,484,000 hospital garments, and 22,255,000 hospital garments and supplies.

MEMORIAL TREES PLAN IS INDORSED

Robert S. Conklin, commissioner of forestry for Pennsylvania, in a letter to the American Forestry Association, gives hearty approval to the association's plan for planting memorial trees in honor of the sailor and soldier heroes of the world war.

The association of which Dr. Henry S. Drinker, of Lehigh, and Dr. J. T. Rothrock are among the leading members, has plans under way which include trees not only for those who gave their lives in the war, but trees in honor of the allies, an "avenue of the allies" being suggested. In his letter to Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the association, Mr. Conklin says:

"There is no more suitable method of commemorating the deeds of heroism of our soldiers and sailors. Let the memorial trees be planted; let them be put in prominent places; let the cult which commemorates heroism and sacrifice be preached anew and our whole people be brought to a realizing sense of the terror and threatened destruction through which, happily, we have just come. The value of the memorial tree over the insinuate stone or bronze lies in the fact it is a living thing and a more potent agency in keeping afresh the memory of the dead than any other memorial that could be erected by human hands."

Another phase of the plan is to plant memorial trees along the great motor highways of the country. The General Federation of Women's Clubs has taken this up, as have the automobile clubs in many cities.

HELD UP AT PISTOL POINT AND ROBBED OF HIS PURSE

Held up at the point of a pistol by two colored men at Twenty-second and Pennsylvania avenues northwest last night, Wallace Martin, 109 D street northwest, was robbed of a pocket-book containing $15 in bills and a registration card.

The negroes made their escape by disappearing in an alley near Twenty-second and G streets northwest.

S. H. Ballentine, of Camp Humphreys, Va., reported to the police today that he had been robbed of $50 while at Ninth street and Mt. Vernon square northwest.

PRESIDENT LAUDS JEWS' WAR WORK

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—A letter from President Wilson praising the Jewish Welfare Board's work among soldiers and sailors was read yesterday at the board's first annual meeting, which was attended by prominent Jews from all parts of the country. Messages of congratulation from Marshal Foch, General Pershing, and Secretary of War Baker also were read.

"The annual meeting of the Jewish Welfare Board," wrote the President, "affords me an opportunity to express my personal appreciation of the admirable work which this organization has been carrying on with our troops at home and abroad."

KIDDIES MAKE HIT AT SUNDAY SING

The "Sunday Sings" that have become such a popular institution in Washington, were resumed in the Central High School auditorium yesterday afternoon, with Gilbert Wilson, song-leader of Quantico, as soloist and as director of a large gathering of singers. There had been an incorrect notice of the hour printed, so that some of the audience was late in arriving, but Mr. Wilson announced that all future "sings" which will be held each Sunday, will begin at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Wilson sang the crisp marching song he wrote for the Eleventh Regiment of Marines—all of whom are in France today. The 4,000 boys at Quantico now, he says, are singing with inspiration such songs as "Homeward Bound."

Edwin Boye, tenor, gave several solos, and a group of 25 small kiddies quite captivated the audience by their singing of some of the camp songs, such as "All Liza Jane," "Good morning, Mr. Zip, Zip, Zip," and "Katy."

Heart-songs and cheer-songs were given by the audience, creating a truer feeling of comradeship than a group of strangers can get in almost any other way. With the great days for singing that are coming, the "Sunday Sings" should play an important part.

1 DEAD, 2 HURT, IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Samuel McDaniels, of Vienna, Va., died at the Emergency Hospital last night from injuries incurred last Friday when he was knocked down by an automobile truck owned by the Standard Oil Company, and operated by Charles Hargett of 1213 C street southeast, at Eighth and Pennsylvania avenues northwest. Hargett was arrested but later released on an order from the coroner to appear at an inquest today.

John R. Sizer, of Laurel, Md., was removed to Casualty Hospital last night suffering from a broken collar bone caused by being thrown out of an automobile when it was struck by a street car of the Capital Traction company at Eighth and E streets northeast.

An automobile operated by Daniel Friedman of the War Trade Board, collided with an automobile operated by Dr. H. M. Dixon, 2013 I street northwest, at Eighteenth and I streets northwest. Both machines were badly damaged.

Mrs. Charlton Buckingham, 40 years old, 19 T street northeast, was cut by flying glass last night when her automobile, operated by Earl Buckingham, collided with an automobile operated by Capt. Samuel Herbert of the Ordnance Department, at Eighth and M streets northwest.

DREAMS HIS SON DENIES HE'S DEAD

His son appeared in a dream Friday night and whispered to him, "I am alive. Tomorrow you shall hear from me."

The next day (Saturday) he received a letter from his son, dated October 23. The letter said, "Don't worry, I'm feeling fine."

But the father had been officially notified on October 16 by the War Department that the son had died of wounds on September 1.

Now Daniel P. Hyland, 810 Twentieth street northwest, refuses to believe that his son, Henry W. Hyland, is among the dead of Pershing's army.

"I dreamed that he was still alive. It was a convincing dream. The letter supports the vision," said Mr. Hyland. "I know my son is alive. There is a mistake. There is a mistake somewhere."

Mr. Hyland is endeavoring to trace his son through the casualty lists. He refuses to believe his son is dead.

Hyland is reported as a lieutenant on the casualty list, but is a field clerk.

He is twenty-three years old, a graduate of Business High School and a former Government stenographer. He has been in France since last August.

A brother, Private Daniel P. Hyland, jr., is in France with an infantry unit.

2 D. C. OFFICERS KILLED IN ACTION

News of the death of two Washington men, both "killed in action," has reached relatives in this city.

Col. Robert S. Walsh, who served in the war with Spain as a lieutenant, was killed while leading his troops in the St. Mihiel sector.

Colonel Walsh was ordered overseas last August and had been in practically all the important battles since that time. During the Philippine insurrection he was a lieutenant in the regular army. He had seen service in Mexico prior to leaving for France. He was forty-nine years old, and leaves a wife, Mrs. Helen Walsh, and a daughter, who reside in the Avondale apartments.

Lieut. Charles H. Flske, 1907 B street northwest, also is listed in today's casualty list as "killed in action."

Both Lieutenant Flske and his father, who also is a lieutenant in the army on detached service in the inspector general's office, has seen active duty in France since the latter part of 1917.

WITH AMERICAN AVIATORS IN FRANCE, Sept. 20, (Correspondence of The Associated Press) "... the aviators went silently to their quarters for their great, heavy Arctic clothing. In the turn of a hand they were back on the field, swathing and swaddling themselves to the eyes, tucking chocolate in their pockets (for they get hungry up in the air), or breaking open a fresh package of chewing gum, which helps to alleviate nervousness, and has a steadying effect."

—NEW YORK TIMES

Please remember some soldier boy over there received that package of your favorite Adams gum, when you found it missing from the counter. If you can't get Adams Black Jack, try Adams California Fruit, Adams Pepsin, Adams Yucatan or any other Adams brand.
