

The Perfect Man Measured. Mrs. Nolan a Real Fighter. Between Now and 1921—Pleasing, Pitiless Publicity.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE. (Copyright 1919.)

Mrs. Mary A. Nolan, eighty years old, has been arrested twice, but not sentenced to prison, for taking part in "watch fire" demonstrations before the White House.

She burned copies of the President's speeches as a protest because so many American women are still unable to vote. This seems foolish, since Mr. Wilson has done so much for woman suffrage. You are inclined, however, to sympathize with Mrs. Nolan and be glad that the judge did not send her to jail when you read her statement made in court:

"I have fought this fight for many years, and I am willing to do or suffer anything to bring victory to the long, courageous struggle. I have seen children born and grow into womanhood to fight at my side. I have seen their children grow up to fight with us."

Miss Bertha Arnold, who helped Mrs. Nolan, was sent to jail for five days. And thirteen women that applauded old Mrs. Nolan in the courtroom were sentenced to forty-eight hours in jail.

This is probably necessary, but regrettable. That courageous old woman has made a fight as brave as almost any soldier. To send women to jail for applauding her seems to be straining a point for judicial dignity.

American women have made many sacrifices to help beat Germany. As a result, Germany, beaten, has thirty-four women elected as lawmakers, with only one elected into the United States Congress and only one, an Irish woman, in Great Britain, and she is in jail.

You cannot blame Mrs. Mary A. Nolan, aged eighty, for being puzzled to learn that the world has been fighting for freedom—FOR GERMAN WOMEN. They can all vote in Germany.

The President says to the peace conference: "I may say, without straining the point, that we are not the representatives of governments, but representatives of the people."

It will not suffice to satisfy governmental circles anywhere to satisfy the opinion of mankind. If that is not so, many men have been imprisoned, shot, hanged, drawn and quartered, broken on the wheel, and burned alive for nothing. The strange thing is that it should be necessary for the President of a Republic to say it.

One fact he will bring back clear in his mind and tell the financial powers in this country—who will not listen. The rulers in Europe, the Bolsheviks in Russia, the Spartans in Germany, the labor party in England, the socialists dominating in France and Italy, have discovered that human beings intend to run the world hereafter for human beings, ALL OF THEM, not for a special minority.

The fashionable tailors gathered at Atlantic City tell you that this is the perfect man: "Height, 5 feet 8 inches; weight, 148 1/2 pounds; chest, 38 inches; waist, 33 inches; hips, 39 1/2 inches; thigh 21 1/2 inches, and calf, 14 1/2 inches."

If so, Abraham Lincoln and Leonardo Da Vinci and Francis the First, who encouraged Leonardo, were much oversize. Napoleon, Pope, Aesop, and Epictetus were undersize. Now that the tailors have told us the right size for the human body, can they tell us the proper dimensions for the inside of the head? Your most important measurement is from the opening of your ear up over the top of your head, down to the opening of the ear on the other side. It means a good deal more to success than your size around the hips.

When Mr. Wilson returns from Europe he will be interested to learn that children thirteen and fourteen years old have been teaching school in Washington because adult teachers have been lacking and full grown teachers have left the schools and taken jobs running elevators in office buildings to earn a decent salary which the public schools of the Nation's Capital would not pay.

WEATHER: Fair tonight and probably tomorrow. Moderate temperatures. Minimum at 8 A. M., 47 degrees. Normal temperature for January 27 for last thirty years 53 degrees.

England Could Have Averted War, Says Shaw

In preceding articles in The Times Mr. Shaw traced the pre-war course of Great Britain in making agreements with other nations aimed to break the strength of Germany should she attempt to increase her power on land or sea.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—And so the secrecy of the British alliance went on, with all its evil consequences. It was so evident that Sir Edward Grey was unequal to the situation that in desperation I, as a private individual, suggested a line of action when Prince Lichnowsky was appointed German ambassador in London.

Small Nations to Name Delegates to Committee On World League Today

PARIS, Jan. 27.—The supreme war council was understood today to be considering disposition of German colonies, and other territorial questions.

PARIS, Jan. 27.—The league of nations today was the chief subject under consideration by the peace delegates. The principal development was to be selection by the smaller nations of their delegates on each of the special committees created Saturday. The League of Nations Commission was generally accepted as the most important of these.

RETIREMENT OF CLERKS AT AGE OF 68 IS UP TO HOUSE

Declaring that every civilized country in the world other than the United States, and apart from Venezuela and Turkey, has adopted some form of pension and retirement system for Government employees, the House Committee on Interstate Commerce, through Judge Sims, chairman, favorably reported today the Keating-McKellar pension and retirement measure.
