Twenty-four years ago this office was unknown. Today it is the recognized leading dental office in Washington for dentistry that lasts and cleanliness by Dr. Wyeth and staff of expert, careful, skilled dentists.

I am doing in dentistry what sterling is to silver.

I am doing in dentistry what Ford is doing in the automobile business. I am not turning out dental Mercers, Packards and Pierce-Arrows. I am not upholstering, gilt stripes around the chassis and silver hubs on the wheels, but a brand of dentistry, sound, reliable, reasonable in price and of the variety that "gets there." All work done without the slightest resemblance of pain.

That has been my record for the past 24 years, everything that will add to the comfort of our patients is provided. Every instrument must be thoroughly sterilized before using.

HOLD WOMAN FOR SELLING GREEK SHIP

TULSA, Okla., March 19.—Mrs. Callie Pennell, said to be wanted in New York on a charge of violating an act prohibiting the sale of a ship under United States registry, to a citizen of a foreign country, is being held here by United States Commissioner J. M. Wilkins.

RUPPERT GETTING READY TO MANUFACTURE BEER

NEW YORK, March 19.—Preparations for resuming manufacture of 2.75 per cent beer were in full swing today at the Ruppert Brewery here. Col. Jacob Ruppert declared he would begin turning out this product within the week. Other breweries will start operations shortly afterward.

GOVT. MUST OWN SHIPS, SAYS SOLON

"If the Government must own and operate these ships in order to enable the country to have a great merchant marine, then the Government must do it."

This was the assertion today of Senator Fletcher of Florida, for years chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, with respect to the nation's shipping board. Senator Fletcher is keenly interested in the forthcoming announcement of the Shipping Board as to what ought to be done regarding the merchant marine. Chairman Hurley has promised an announcement March 31. Senator Fletcher said he did not know what the Shipping Board would advocate, but he was convinced that the country would not stand for the plan which some of the shipping interests propose, to have the Government sell its ships to them at less than cost.

"They want the Government to write off the additional cost of construction due to the fact that the ships were built in the war period, and sell them to the private party who would be glad to see them at a profit," he said. "I am opposed to that. I do not believe the country would stand for it. If we lose this opportunity to have and maintain a great merchant marine we will never get it back again."

"I am opposed to subsidies and against the repeal of the act," he said. "To write off the war cost of these ships in favor of private purchasers would be one of the greatest subsidies we could grant."

While Senator Fletcher said he would be glad to see private enterprise own and operate the shipping if it could be done on satisfactory conditions he made it plain he did not believe it likely private enterprise could meet the conditions.

He declared that not only was the Government making money in running ships now, but that he was convinced it could go on for years operating ships at a profit. He pointed out that the United States could make ships now as cheaply as England and that it could turn them out rapidly.

"Moreover, English seamen are demanding the same pay as American seamen," said the Senator.

"We have the greatest shipyard in the world at the Island. I am in favor of keeping it and keeping it in operation."

He suggested that freight terminals be established there and that it be used as a point for the shipment of freight.

As to cost of construction in America, he declared it was coming down and would continue to be lowered. He characterized as "all bosh" the idea of it being necessary to repeal the seamen's act and grant subsidies in order to put this country on an even plane with other countries.

"The time is past when this country cannot compete with other nations in shipbuilding and in operation of ships," he said.

FRIERSON RESERVES DECISION ON BEER

Grosner, of Grafton street, Chevy Chase, have left for Philadelphia to attend the wedding tomorrow of Gerald D. Grosner and Miss Ada Strouse, at the Adelphi Hotel.

Assistant Attorney General Frierson, prohibition enforcer, after a long conference with Attorney General Palmer today, said nothing definite had been decided upon as to the Government's course in preventing brewers resuming the brewing of 2% per cent alcohol beer.

Frierson had before him an invitation to become a party to proceedings brought by minority stockholders of the Everard Brewing Company, against the company officials for an injunction to prevent the company complying with war-time prohibition after July 1 and to also prevent discontinuance of 2% per cent beer after May 1.

Frierson said there had been no response to the invitation as yet. Officials pointed out that the brewers' attacks are directed at the war-time prohibition regulations not at the prohibition amendment, which does not go into effect for nearly a year.

PERSHING PROMISES PAY TO YANK WAR PRISONERS

E. F.

The receipts are for money sent the men while they were prisoners, but withheld by the German authorities; for funds taken from them when they were captured, and for money they may have earned at legitimate employment while prisoners, as provided by international law.
