Judge William F. Norris; July 6, Rev. Dr. George M. Diefenderfer; July 13, Rev. Dr. Froyley Rohrer; July 20, Prof. Ralph K. Nickok, religious work director of the Y. M. C. A., war work for the Washington district; July 27, Congressman W. D. Unshur. C. M. Grest will be song leader, with George W. Naverell as assistant and Miss Mae Burns at the organ.

BRITAIN BARS HOSIERY.

Temporary restrictions on the importation into Great Britain of silk hosiery and cotton hosiery containing 25 per cent or more silk by weight have been announced by the British embassy. The licensing authorities in London, however, will authorize importations up to 50 per cent of the quantities imported in 1918.

FIGHTS TO DEATH TO PROTECT BRIDE

ROCHESTER, June 20.—Shot down at his own doorway by a man who called there in the guise of a friend, Harry Smith, a mountain farmer, living at Hornby, Steuben county, gave his last ounce of strength, after receiving a mortal wound, to the protection of Carrie Wolverton, nineteen years old, his bride of a few months, as the murderer burst loose the fastenings of the screen door that alone separated him from his victim and entered the house with seeming intent of criminally attacking Mrs. Smith.

Strength Proves Futile.
The victim's strength proved futile for the task, and he collapsed against the bedroom door as he had closed the bar the murderer's passage; but his slip-of-a-girl wife struggled with the man until he was glad to escape, and then, clad only in her night clothing, she ran an eighth of a mile to the nearest farm house to give the alarm.

Judy Kelly, also a mountain farmer, living near Hornby, is under arrest for the murder of Smith. Kelly denies the crime, and his story is substantiated by his wife. He was arrested on information given by the young widow, who swore that, while she could not see Kelly's face during the struggle in the dark, she recognized his voice.

Mrs. Smith was asleep in a first-floor bedroom, off the living room, with her husband, when the two were awakened by a knock on the screen door that alone barred entrance to the house. The frame door had been left open because of the heat of the night. Smith inquired: "What is wanted?" without arising from bed.

Receives Gunshot Charge.
"Is Leslie there?" replied the voice, apparently referring to Smith's brother, Leslie, who often remained over night at the house. "No," said Smith, getting out of bed and moving toward the doorway.

As Smith reached the door and stooped out into the night to see who his visitor was, without a word being uttered, he received a gunshot charge, fired at close range, in the upper part of the chest.

PRUSSIANISM IN U. S. ARMY SCORED

DENVER, June 20.—"Prussianism in the American army must go. Legislation will be introduced in Congress within a few weeks to make the military policy of the country conform with America's democratic principles," said Gov. Henry J. Allen of Kansas, speaking at a luncheon given by the board of trustees of the University of Denver.

"The man at West Point is shut away from civilian life at an early age. It is no wonder he becomes a snob," said Governor Allen. "Citizen officers are the best for the army. West Point should be made a finishing school for officers. The earlier training should be obtained at some university. If we are to have a democratic army in the future, free from all traces of snobbery, we must look to the civilian institutions for our officers."

"WHO'S LOONEY NOW?" WANTS TO RUN ESTATE

NEW YORK, June 20.—John Armstrong Chaloner, legally insane in New York State while sane in Virginia, obtained a State supreme court order here yesterday directing Thomas T. Sherman, who was appointed some years ago to manage his property in this State, to show cause why Chaloner should not now be declared sane in New York and be given charge of his own property. The order is returnable July 8. Meanwhile, Chaloner is exempt from arrest here as an incompetent until June 28 under a Federal court order issued recently when he came here to prosecute a libel suit.

"No one should wantonly choose Discomfort"

SOME men rave at the closed window, and then solemnly choose clothes that shut out the air.

Some men cast off woolen underwear with the first glint of Spring, only to retain their woolen outer shells through the dog days of July.

Some men fret and fume at the climbing mercury, when it's their choice of attire that makes the day a sticky abomination.

Wise men choose suits of PALM BEACH—designed for comfort; worn for style.

Wise men are also careful to inquire for the Genuine—and only when they see the trademarked PALM BEACH label (shown above)—are they completely satisfied.
