200,000 WILL WITNESS JULY FOURTH FETE

Expect 30,000 Visitors Will Be Drawn to Capital for Independence Day Celebration.

More than 200,000 persons will be spectators at the July Fourth Peace Celebration, according to official statements made today by members of the celebration committee.

Major Raymond W. Pullman, superintendent of police, and chairman of the public order committee, said yesterday, at a meeting of the general committee, he had made plans to have every available policeman on the job for the celebration.

At the meeting yesterday Mrs. Marie Moore Forrest, director general of the festival and member of the War Camp Community Service, described the finishing touches that are being given to the spectacles and pageantry of the day.

With hundreds of young men and women taking part, rehearsals are being held at the Capitol and at different public buildings. Foremost states that great interest was being shown by those taking part.

As the War Camp Community Service is directing the pageant, in cooperation with the citizens committee, a greater part of the work is being done in headquarters of the association at Fourteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

Spectacular Fireworks. Fireworks of the most spectacular kind are being arranged by E. C. Graham and his committee for 9:30 at night on the Monument grounds.

Col. Robert N. Harper, chairman of the citizens' welcome home committee, told of his plans for conferring medals on the District boys who fought in the war, and reported to the committee that the registration of their number is progressing rapidly.

Chairmen of the committees on decorations, programs, public grounds, invitations, and other features of the festival made favorable reports yesterday.

The ceremonies of the day will start at 10 o'clock in the morning with the medal decoration exercises on the Monument grounds.

There will be no question about the complete success of Nettie's discoveries, as the fragrance of the fresh bread, which she served added to the inviting repast.

Another favorite at the tea hour and one sees them almost as much as the fresh bread—is the sally accept.

Nettie, a comely young woman, yeoman of the Navy, still in uniform, found herself unexpectedly entertaining a company at her home including several of the thousands of uptown home owners.

She had a battle with the business man, the woman after a shopping trip, or the child home from a hard day at school, nothing is more sustaining than N. B. C. Graham Crackers.

Their nut-like flavor is more enticing, even, than the old fashioned kind.
