

HARVARD CLUBS TO "SEE WASHINGTON"

Delegates to Conference April 30-May 1 Will Be Given Chance to Tour City.

The program of the conference of the Associated Harvard Clubs, to be held in Washington, April 30 and May 1, has been informally extended to accommodate members who desire to remain here another day. It was announced today by the general committee.

The formal meeting is to close with a banquet at the Willard Hotel, Saturday night, May 1. Sunday, informal arrangements have been made by the Washington Harvard Club, which is acting as host, for golf, tennis, sightseeing and a boat trip down the Potomac, probably to Indian Head, the Naval Proving Ground. Many of the members will be at the American League Park in the afternoon when the Nationals play Philadelphia. The Virginia Harvard Club has suggested a trip to the University of Virginia and Monticello. The program for the two days' conference follows:

YOUR HAIR IS FALLING OUT

"Q-Ban" Hair Tonic Stops Dandruff, Falling Hair, Growth Loss of New Hair. New Discovery.

You may have dandruff so badly that it drops white flakes all over your clothes and your hair may be falling out by handfuls, yet "Q-Ban" (pronounced Ku-Ban) Hair Tonic quickly rids the scalp of every particle of dandruff and at once checks your falling hair. Then every hair on your scalp shows new life, vigor, brightness, thickness and more color. The roots very rapidly absorb "Q-Ban" Hair Tonic. Bald spots will fill in with new hair. Your hair and scalp need this stimulating "Q-Ban" Hair Tonic, so hasten to your nearest drug store or toilet counter and get a bottle. It don't cost much, so a trial any way is worth while. People's Drug Stores, Washington, D. C. By mail, 50 cents.

Roosevelt to Referee Race.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, will referee the boat race. This race will determine whether or not the Union Boat Club sends its crew to the English Henley, where in 1914, its crew reached the final heat and was only defeated by the Harvard second crew, two of whose members are now rowing on the Union club.

The next meeting of the Harvard Club of Washington will be held Friday, April 18, at the Cosmos Club. The various committees in charge of the arrangements for the conference will report on the progress of their plans after that meeting.

SYRIAN KING APPEALS TO PRESIDENT WILSON

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 9.—Declaring the establishment of an independent kingdom the only way in which the Arabs can obtain the rights promised them by the allies for aid in the war, King Feisal has appealed to President Wilson for the recognition of Syria as an independent kingdom. A Damascus dispatch announcing the sending of this appeal asserts that Feisal assured President Wilson his government will protect the rights of all foreigners.

Feisal calls particular attention to the Arabs' participation in the war on the allied side, and demands the rights promised them, particularly by Great Britain. He declares Syria cannot exist if divided into four sections, as arranged by the allies.

MECHANICS TAXI TO WORK.

CHICAGO, April 9.—Mechanics in this city are making such high wages that they disdain riding to and from work in street cars and have become habitual users of taxicabs. Drivers of taxis reap a daily harvest, particularly in the vicinity of the new Drake Hotel, in process of construction on Lake Shore Drive, and at the Hotel Ambassador, another mammoth hostelry being built.

AMATEURS SHINE IN "THE MIKADO"

Famous Opera Revived With All Its Charm by People's National Opera Company.

Charming pictures of color and detail, scenes of soft hued wisteria and symbols of fair Japan, were revealed last night when the People's National Opera Company, under Rollin Bond, gave the first of three performances of Gilbert and Sullivan's delightful opera, "The Mikado," at Central High School. This organization of amateurs portrayed admirably the very spirit of the opera. They brought forth spontaneous laughter in this inimitable comedy and won the wholehearted approval of the audience. The matter of comedy is difficult. The lines, although they need more force at times to "get them across," made one welcome this renewal of the delicious humor of the book, the subtle wit or broad satire that brings the lasting quality into the lulling music with which the score abounds.

Opera Keeps Its Charm.

Whether to old friends or new, the gems of "The Mikado" have lost none of their charm. Many there were who were hearing this opera for the first time. Its delicate beauty—for the stage was at all times a picture—and its absence of the bizarre or risqué upon which our youth is fed, brought refreshing comment from the hearers. The various committees from offense, legitimate comedy, free from offense, but full of fun, was as welcome as its perennial "flowers that bloom in the spring."

The cast introduced an excellent Nanki-Poo in Mr. H. Stevens, whose lyric tenor gave the "Wandering Minstrel" in solo and concerted work a prominent place in the production. John T. Elliott as the Lord High Executioner was irresistibly funny, although he needs to be better heard, while the Pooch-Bah of Brooke Amis was laughably, and vocally, very good.

Estelle Murray was a sweet-voiced and dainty Yum-Yum. Florence Winter revealed a very effective voice and real spirit and charm as Pitti-Sing, and Genevieve Bond completed an attractive group for the three Little Maids. Elaine Sebring, Ford as Katisha made this role the double-hued one of tragic comedy and drollery. Charles Moore as the Mikado was excellent, and his unnamed "retainer" gave a character sketch of distinction. Frederic Miller completed a well-balanced cast.

Spirited Zest in Performance.

The opera went off without a hitch, in good time, and with spirited zest, bringing credit to directors and personnel.

The members of the chorus sang well, looked well, and always were in the picture. They were letter perfect and a very enjoyable group at all times. To the entire effect the charm of scene and costume added much. The orchestra, less balanced, as a whole, still gave the little opera its setting, and to know "The Mikado," as given at Central High, will acquaint the many with the imperishable charm that has made it live happily through the years.

RUSSIA DRAFTING PEOPLE FOR LABOR

Bolsheviki Institute Twelve-Hour Working Day and Conscription Population.

Conscription by draft of all labor in Russia has been ordered by the Soviet government at Moscow, according to wireless messages coming to the State Department today and originating at Moscow. The draft order was issued on February 27.

The entire population of Russia is to be registered as a part of universal labor conscription, and the people who are capable of work, are to be divided among the various trades, the report said.

Registered as Necessary.

The announcement intimates that the Bolshevik government regards this measure as a necessity in continuing its existence. It is regarded as a virtually a war measure and to assist "in the struggle against the death which threatens the whole population."

The establishment of a universal ten and twelve-hour working day is a feature of the labor conscription, and an order putting it into effect appears to have been issued in Moscow on February 19, according to the messages received by the State Department.

A chief committee for carrying out the program of conscription has been organized for the purpose of conducting the registration and drafting of workers. This committee, in its announcement of the program of conscription in the message to the State Department, says:

All Must Register.

"The chief committee for labor conscriptions has addressed an appeal to the whole population of Soviet Russia in which the necessity for the introduction of universal labor conscription is announced. Citizens who are capable of work must be registered and divided among the various trades.

As in the struggle against the enemy it is necessary to make a complete register of all the strength in the country, so in the struggle against the death which threatens the population, it is necessary to reduce all to order and to register all strength to form a mighty labor army to struggle against ruin."

TROTSKY SAYS INDUSTRY NEEDS TO BE MOBILIZED

Masses of Unskilled Labor Require Military Discipline to Produce Most Fully.

MOSCOW, April 9.—Militarization is the only means to utilize fully Russia's man power, said Leon Trotsky, Bolshevik minister of war, addressing the ninth convention of the Communist party last night. The address was chiefly directed to defining the relations of the mobilization of industry to the industrial rehabilitation of Russia.

"Mobilization is more necessary now than it was formerly," he declared, "because we have to deal with the peasant population and masses of unskilled labor which cannot be utilized to the fullest extent by any other means than military discipline. Trades unions are capable of organizing great masses of qualified workers, but 30 per cent of the people can be reached by this means."

Trotsky declared the working army, built on the principle of compulsory work, is no less productive than was the old system of competition and came out in favor of personal rather than collective administration. He asserted that political administration of railroads was unsatisfactory, but was necessary because railroad workers are more conservative than men engaged in other branches of labor. In support of centralization of power in the hands of a strong government.

G. O. P. DELEGATES IN TENN. ARE UNINSTRUCTED

JACKSON, Tenn., April 9.—Uninstructed delegates to attend the Chicago convention were elected by the Eighth congressional district Republican convention here yesterday following a lengthy struggle for instruction. However, a faction supporting Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood and Governor Lowden, of Illinois.

Judge W. F. Appleby, of Lexington, and D. M. Nobles, of Paris, were chosen as the district's delegates. Chancellor J. W. Ross, of Jackson, was endorsed for governor, while Lon R. Scott, of Savannah, refused to accept the nomination for Congress because it was not unanimous.

Banish Catarrh

Breathe Hyomei for Two Minutes and Stuffed Up Head Will Go.

If you want to get safe relief from catarrh, cold in the head or from an irritating cough in the shortest time breathe Hyomei out your head in two minutes and allow you to breathe freely, awake or asleep, or money refunded.

Hyomei should end a cold in one day, and relieve you of disgusting sniffles, sneezing, spitting and offensive breath in a week.

Hyomei is made chiefly from Eucalyptus, a soothing, healing germ-killing antiseptic, that comes from the eucalyptus forests of inland Australia where catarrh, asthma and other bronchial troubles are common.

Hyomei is pleasant and easy to breathe. Just pour a few drops into the Hard Rubber Inhaler, use as directed and relief is almost certain.

A Complete Hyomei Outfit, including Inhaler and bottle of Hyomei, costs but little at drug stores everywhere and at People's Drug Stores.
