ARMENIA MANDATE OPPOSED BY BRYAN

Commoner Takes Direct Issue With President Wilson on Accepting Supervision.

Comment among members of the Senate on President Wilson's message urging the United States to accept the mandate over Armenia follows: SENATOR POINDEXTER: "The United States will not do it. The people are against it. Congress will not commit the people to such colossal undertaking without first submitting it to the citizens."

SENATOR UNDERWOOD: "I have not read the President's message. I am willing to leave the question to the members of the Foreign Relations Committee, who have a better understanding of our foreign affairs."

SENATOR BORAH (Isham): "Before America considers a mandate for Armenia, France and England should restore the territories and resources of Armenia, without which to assume a mandate would be like taking a pool house. It is inconceivable to strip Armenia, as has been done, and then turn it over to be cared for by another power. Armenia will always be a founding under present conditions."

SENATE BALKS AT ARMENIA MANDATE Scant Prospect of Agreement to Wilson's Proposal—Predict Bitter Debate.

By J. BART CAMPBELL, International News Service. There is scant prospect of the Senate agreeing to President Wilson's recommendation that the United States assume a mandate for Armenia.
