

Go to Church Tomorrow

The challenge of religious education in Washington this year is unusually strong and, according to Miss L. Elaine Rising, of the Y. W. C. A., there has never been a time when this challenge was so largely and heartily accepted. It would be difficult to estimate at present how many are participating in one or more of the splendid classes offered in Bible study and training for Christian service in some of its phases.

There are classes conducted by the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. at their own buildings and in other places. The American University presents a special graduate course. The Cottage Bible Institute holds several classes each week at various homes. The Rust Hall Training School and the Episcopal diocese of Washington also have valuable classes. There also is the Washington School of Bible Study and Evangelical Training, which holds classes as well as the weekly Sunday schools.

This challenge is one that no resident of Washington can overlook, as much of this instruction is given by some of the most capable and well-informed leaders along their various lines. Many of the courses give credit which will be accepted by high schools and colleges, and the instruction which will enable one to give greater and more efficient service.

The Christian Endeavor Union will make a special, organized effort during the next few weeks to interest and enroll students in the courses given by the Y. M. C. A.

At the annual installation banquet of the Sunday Evening Christian Endeavor Society of Calvary Baptist Church the installation of officers and committee chairmen was carried out in a novel manner. The duties of new affairs were evenly divided and couples were formed while the pastor read the complete marriage ceremony, substituting "it for him and her" signifying the consecration of the candidates to the respective offices.

The Sunday Evening and Tuesday Evening Christian Endeavor Societies of Calvary Baptist Church recently held a joint banquet and rally, with the intention of effecting a lively start on their winter campaign for Christian Endeavor. Dr. A. F. Anderson, assistant pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, was the guest of honor, it being his birthday anniversary.

E. V. Ingraham, head of the field lecture department of the Unity School of Christianity, Kansas City, Mo., will speak at the Church of Life and Joy tomorrow evening on "Meeting the Need of the Times." Mr. Ingraham is a forceful and instructive talker with a message that helps solve present day problems.

"The Delight of Looking for Jesus' Second Coming Out of Heaven," is the subject of the lecture given tomorrow night at Centennial Baptist Church. His morning subject is "Salvation-Sureness."

Evangelist Ben Cox of Memphis, Tenn., who has been very successful as a preacher and the singer of the gospel songs, will begin revival meetings Tuesday night, October 26.

First honors in the payment of this year's pledges to the Baptist $75,000,000 campaign belong to Mrs. Mary Collier, of Kewanee, Miss., who at the age of ninety-two, went to the field and picked up two days to make $1 with which to meet this year's share of her obligation.

Mrs. Collier has been a member of the Salem Baptist Church in Lauderdale County, four miles from the scene for seventy-two years, having united with it when she was twenty years old. She has lived to see the fifth generation of her posterity and is still interested in the regular church services. During the recent protracted meeting in her community, she attended every service except one, though to do so she had to travel a distance of five miles.

The Community Service of the Cleveland Park Congregational Church will have "Army Night" tomorrow evening. Col. John T. Axton, chief of the chaplains, will talk on "The Moral and Religious Program for the New Army."

At the Church of the Epiphany tomorrow morning the Rev. P. F. Hall will preach on "Words and Their Meanings" and at night the Rev. E. E. Browning on "Heroes Without Medals." Tuesday night the Rev. P. F. Hall will conduct the Christian healing service. The subject at the Wednesday midweek service will be "The Light of the World." The services on Sunday morning, November 14, will be in memory of the Rev. Dr. McKim, late rector of the church. Col. George Truesdell will give an address and the sermon will be preached by Bishop Gailor, of Tennessee.

The Rev. L. Tom Evans, pioneer field secretary and missionary superintendent of the Baptist Mission in Haiti, will preach both morning and evening at the Kendall Baptist Church. The Rev. Mr. Evans was an eye witness to the revolution in Haiti, made official protest. He has placed the facts before the President and State Department and what he has to say may be of interest to the Navy Board.

The special evangelistic services conducted this week by the Rev. Lynn Drake, of Philadelphia, at Petworth Baptist Church have been attended with splendid success, and will be continued throughout next week, concluding Sunday night, October 31. Decision day will be held in the Sunday School during the session of that day. Mr. Drake is a speaker of unusual ability. Special music is a feature of the services.

DEMOCRATS ABANDON HOPE OF BRYAN'S AID
Commoner Has Rejected Overtures Made by Chiefs.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—William Jennings Bryan will not speak for Governor Cox, the Democratic candidate for President. Chairman White of the national committee, and Senator Pat Harrison, chairman of the speakers' bureau, after having exerted every effort, brought to bear every influence they could exert, and held out all hope, it was learned yesterday. It seems that the once "Peerless Leader" has spent most of the campaign in Florida, as far from every influence they could exert. Emisaries of the committee have searched him out there, but he has refused to come North.

Dr. Lucius C. Clark, Who Will Direct Go-to-Church Campaign

The Washington Times is beginning with this issue to print a picture each Saturday of some religious worker or pastor in Washington. The one this week is of the Rev. Lucius Clark, executive secretary of the Federation of Churches, taken in his office, 300 Bond building. Dr. Clark was pastor of Hamline Methodist Church for seven years before being selected for this work, and is well-known in Washington for his enthusiasm and executive ability.

The Washington Federation of Churches is similar to and in co-operation with other Federations in other cities in the United States. They are working in a direct way toward the efficient co-operation of all churches.

All organizations working toward welfare and spiritual uplift in Washington will find in Dr. Clark a helpful friend. The present work in which Dr. Clark is especially interested, in addition to the regular educational and evangelical program, is the canvass and survey of the city in preparation to the "Go to Church Campaign" during November.

At one time Lindinoff called himself by the title of "evergreen." He conducted a "rescue mission" in this city several years ago. "Cottage prayer meetings" were frequently held by him. After his acquittal, in 1909, he went through bankruptcy. Then he disappeared from the section and returned about six months ago, when he opened a store in South Glens Falls.

prison term, he replied: "What is ten years in Dannemora to eternity in hell?"

At one time Lindinoff called himself by the title of "evergreen." He conducted a "rescue mission" in this city several years ago. "Cottage prayer meetings" were frequently held by him. After his acquittal, in 1909, he went through bankruptcy. Then he disappeared from the section and returned about six months ago, when he opened a store in South Glens Falls.

At one time Lindinoff called himself by the title of "evergreen." He conducted a "rescue mission" in this city several years ago. "Cottage prayer meetings" were frequently held by him. After his acquittal, in 1909, he went through bankruptcy. Then he disappeared from the section and returned about six months ago, when he opened a store in South Glens Falls.

At one time Lindinoff called himself by the title of "evergreen." He conducted a "rescue mission" in this city several years ago. "Cottage prayer meetings" were frequently held by him. After his acquittal, in 1909, he went through bankruptcy. Then he disappeared from the section and returned about six months ago, when he opened a store in South Glens Falls.

At one time Lindinoff called himself by the title of "evergreen." He conducted a "rescue mission" in this city several years ago. "Cottage prayer meetings" were frequently held by him. After his acquittal, in 1909, he went through bankruptcy. Then he disappeared from the section and returned about six months ago, when he opened a store in South Glens Falls.

At one time Lindinoff called himself by the title of "evergreen." He conducted a "rescue mission" in this city several years ago. "Cottage prayer meetings" were frequently held by him. After his acquittal, in 1909, he went through bankruptcy. Then he disappeared from the section and returned about six months ago, when he opened a store in South Glens Falls.

At one time Lindinoff called himself by the title of "evergreen." He conducted a "rescue mission" in this city several years ago. "Cottage prayer meetings" were frequently held by him. After his acquittal, in 1909, he went through bankruptcy. Then he disappeared from the section and returned about six months ago, when he opened a store in South Glens Falls.

At one time Lindinoff called himself by the title of "evergreen." He conducted a "rescue mission" in this city several years ago. "Cottage prayer meetings" were frequently held by him. After his acquittal, in 1909, he went through bankruptcy. Then he disappeared from the section and returned about six months ago, when he opened a store in South Glens Falls.

At one time Lindinoff called himself by the title of "evergreen." He conducted a "rescue mission" in this city several years ago. "Cottage prayer meetings" were frequently held by him. After his acquittal, in 1909, he went through bankruptcy. Then he disappeared from the section and returned about six months ago, when he opened a store in South Glens Falls.

At one time Lindinoff called himself by the title of "evergreen." He conducted a "rescue mission" in this city several years ago. "Cottage prayer meetings" were frequently held by him. After his acquittal, in 1909, he went through bankruptcy. Then he disappeared from the section and returned about six months ago, when he opened a store in South Glens Falls.

At one time Lindinoff called himself by the title of "evergreen." He conducted a "rescue mission" in this city several years ago. "Cottage prayer meetings" were frequently held by him. After his acquittal, in 1909, he went through bankruptcy. Then he disappeared from the section and returned about six months ago, when he opened a store in South Glens Falls.

At one time Lindinoff called himself by the title of "evergreen." He conducted a "rescue mission" in this city several years ago. "Cottage prayer meetings" were frequently held by him. After his acquittal, in 1909, he went through bankruptcy. Then he disappeared from the section and returned about six months ago, when he opened a store in South Glens Falls.

At one time Lindinoff called himself by the title of "evergreen." He conducted a "rescue mission" in this city several years ago. "Cottage prayer meetings" were frequently held by him. After his acquittal, in 1909, he went through bankruptcy. Then he disappeared from the section and returned about six months ago, when he opened a store in South Glens Falls.

Society

by JEAN ELIOT

MISS HANNAH PATTERSON, of Pittsburgh, has finally arrived in Washington to be the guest of the Secretary of War and Mrs. Baker. Mrs. Baker went to Chambersburg, Pa., a week or ten days ago to attend a reunion at her old college and to bring Miss Patterson, who was also back for reunion, to Washington with her. But her guest escaped, having business in Baltimore, and has only just arrived. Secretary and Mrs. Baker had Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hertle with them over night, but they left this morning to return to historic Gunston Hall, their lovely home down the Potomac. The Hertles had been in town some days, staying at a hotel, when the Bakers discovered that they were here and scared them off. However, they are happy to have the Bakers in possession. Canon and Mrs. J. Townsend Russell, whose home Secretary and Mrs. Baker are now occupying, have returned from their trip abroad and are expected in Washington next week. However, they will be at a hotel—the Lafayette—where they have had an apartment since last winter, for the present at least.

Mrs. Russell is not very strong and her family are rather against her undertaking the responsibility of running a big place. So, for the moment at least, they prefer not to occupy Beauvoir and are happy to have the Bakers in possession. Canon Russell was in town yesterday, but only for a few hours.

A meeting of the board of the Drama League of Washington, of which Mrs. Albert Sidney Burleson was president, will be held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Burleson for the installation of the newly elected officers. Mrs. C. C. Calhoun will succeed Mrs. Burleson as president. The four vice presidents are Mrs. Sidney Bruce King, Mrs. Charles W. Wetmore and Mrs. James Huntington Turner. Mrs. John W. Thompson is secretary and the treasurer is Mr. Meyer, bibliographer of the Library of Congress.

The American ambassador to Great Britain and Mrs. John W. Davis, who are guests at the former Secretary of State and Mrs. Robert Lansing, will leave tomorrow for New York for a visit. From there they will go to Boston to spend a day or two with their daughter, Mrs. John W. Davis, a student at Wellesley College, before sailing on November 2 for England.

Mrs. Lansing asked a number of friends to attend yesterday to greet Mrs. Davis. Her mother, Mrs. John W. Foster, received with her, and Mrs. Charles Warren and Mrs. Charles W. Denby presided at the tea table.

Mirza Abdul All Khan, Minister of Persia, is spending the week-end in New York.

Lady Blanche Beresford, who is a guest at the British embassy, was entertained at dinner at the Shoreham last evening with A. P. Graves, honorary attaché of the embassy, and Miss Margaret Harding were in the little company asked to meet her, the other guests being members of the embassy staff.

Karel Halla, charge d'affaires of the Czechoslovak legation, has gone to New York to meet Mrs. Halla and their three children, who are arriving from Europe. They will make their home at 2347 Ashmead Place.

Major and Mrs. Parker W. West will entertain at dinner tonight at the home of the former Secretary of War, Major General and Mrs. W. W. Wotherspoon.

MISS BURROUGHS WEDS. The marriage of Miss Julia Burroughs, 2708 G Street, to William Henry Marbury, son of the late Leonard Marbury and grandson of the late Capt. S. B. Davis, took place today at 1 o'clock in All Souls' Memorial Church, the Rev. Dr. John J. Burroughs, brother of the bride.

Miss Burroughs wore a gown of oyster white satin, with a short draped skirt, a bodice made on becoming surplice lines and a long veil fell from a coronet of rose point lace and was held in across the back of the head with a half wreath of orange blossoms. She carried white roses and orchids. The maid of honor's frock was fashioned of rose pink tulle and satin and worn with a pink georgette picture hat trimmed with silver ribbon. Her bouquet was a shower of Columbia

A wedding breakfast for the bridal party and members of the immediate families was given after the ceremony at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. James Hamilton Saville, 1320 Seventeenth street. Mr. Marbury and his bride will live in Washington and will be at home after November 15.

A wedding breakfast for the bridal party and members of the immediate families was given after the ceremony at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. James Hamilton Saville, 1320 Seventeenth street. Mr. Marbury and his bride will live in Washington and will be at home after November 15.

A wedding breakfast for the bridal party and members of the immediate families was given after the ceremony at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. James Hamilton Saville, 1320 Seventeenth street. Mr. Marbury and his bride will live in Washington and will be at home after November 15.

A wedding breakfast for the bridal party and members of the immediate families was given after the ceremony at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. James Hamilton Saville, 1320 Seventeenth street. Mr. Marbury and his bride will live in Washington and will be at home after November 15.

A wedding breakfast for the bridal party and members of the immediate families was given after the ceremony at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. James Hamilton Saville, 1320 Seventeenth street. Mr. Marbury and his bride will live in Washington and will be at home after November 15.

A wedding breakfast for the bridal party and members of the immediate families was given after the ceremony at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. James Hamilton Saville, 1320 Seventeenth street. Mr. Marbury and his bride will live in Washington and will be at home after November 15.

A wedding breakfast for the bridal party and members of the immediate families was given after the ceremony at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. James Hamilton Saville, 1320 Seventeenth street. Mr. Marbury and his bride will live in Washington and will be at home after November 15.

MISS HANNAH PATTERSON.

MRS. JOHN B. LARNER.

Wife of a prominent local banker, who is taking an active part in the entertainment of the delegates to the convention of the American Bankers Association, now drawing to a close. Today the delegates are visiting Baltimore and Annapolis, with many diplomats also in the party.

At 1208 Fifteenth street. The bride's traveling costume is a smart suit of navy blue duvet-de-laine, with which she wears a small hat of blue duvetyn stitched in silver.

Ladislav Novomeszky, of Newark, N. J., who is in Washington attending the conference of the Lutheran Church, is the guest of Col. V. S. Burbanck, military attaché of the Czechoslovak legation.

Miss Dorothy Lee Mills, daughter of Mrs. Stephen Crosby Mills and Lieutenant Herbert E. Gibson, U. S. A., will be married this afternoon in the Church of the Covenant. The ceremony will be performed at 5 o'clock by the Rev. Dr. U. G. B. Pierce, of the Unitarian Church, and will be followed by an informal reception at the home of Miss Nancy Chase, Miss Marian Townley, and Mrs. Robert E. Coontz, chairman of invitations for patronesses. There will be a bevy of debutantes, which with the men's floor committee will be announced later.

TO ATTEND FOOTBALL GAME. Miss Katherine Marriott, the debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Crittenden Marriott, has gone to Princeton to be the guest for the week-end of Miss Houston Scott, daughter of Gen. and Mrs. Scott, and to attend the Princeton-Navy game. Miss Marriott will be presented to the crowd on December 22 at a tea at the Washington Club.

Mrs. William Manning Irwin and daughter, Miss Annie Irwin, are in New York at the Astor for the week, having come down from their summer home at Osterville, Cape Cod, Mass., which they closed last week. They are visiting Harrison B. Irwin, son of Commander and Mrs. Irwin, in Washington at their home at 2136 Leroy place, where they will be for the winter.

U. D. C. TO GIVE DANCE. Interest is being displayed in the dance which the Robert E. Lee Chapter, No. 644, United Daughters of the Confederacy, will give at the New part, who went to New York to see her, gave a dinner for her at the Ritz-Carlton. This is the first visit of the countess to her native land since 1911.

Mr. and Mrs. Archibald McCrea have taken a house in Philadelphia for the winter, and Mrs. McCrea's daughters, the Misses Dunlop, will spend the winter there with them. Mrs. McCrea and the Misses Dunlop had an apartment in Washington for the greater part of last winter.

Mrs. Arthur Haldane Doig, wife of Major Doig, will arrive in Washington next Tuesday and will be with Mrs. Charles H. Campbell at 1617 Twenty-first street for a month. Major and Mrs. Doig have recently been in San Francisco on a holiday, and when Mrs. Doig started East the major returned to his post at Camp Lewis, Washington. Major and Mrs. Doig have been making their home at Camp Lewis since their marriage a year ago. Mrs. Doig was formerly Miss Adelaide Heath.

The Junior League of Washington is arranging a series of "small and early" dances to be given at Raucher's on Friday evenings through the season. The dates selected being December 10 and 23, January 14, February 4 and 18, March 4 and April 1. Miss Louise Delano is chairman of the committee on membership, which includes Mrs. A. S. Downing, Miss Carolyn Nash, Miss Helen McLanahan, Mrs. William Flather, Miss Cora Barry and Miss Delphine Heyl.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dennett have sold their house at 1739 Q street and have taken an apartment at the Cairo. Their daughter, Miss Dorothy Dennett, who joined the army, will be with them through the winter.

Countess Gzyzka, formerly Miss Eleanor Patterson, who has been passing the summer in Wyoming, will be at the Vanderbilt Hotel, New York, through next month.

Mr. and Mrs. George Peabody Eustace have closed their villa in Newport and are coming to Washington today.

Mrs. Charles McVay is general chairman of the committee for the Navy Relief Ball, which will be given this year on Thanksgiving night, at the Willard Hotel. Mrs. John Lejeune has charge of the sale of the boxes, and Mrs. W. D. Leashy, the sale of the tickets. Mrs. Tanner is chairman of the supper and printing committees and Mrs. Robert E. Coontz is chairman of invitations for patronesses. There will be a bevy of debutantes, which with the men's floor committee will be announced later.

The engagement of Miss Betty Andrews, of Chattanooga, Tenn., to Joseph Behrens Waters, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jason Waters, of Philadelphia and Little Silver, N. J., is of interest to Washington. Miss Andrews is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garnett Andrews, and is well known in Washington, where she has visited several times. She was an attendant in the wedding of Miss Joan Ellis, formerly of Washington, and David F. Webster, which took place last September in New York. Miss Andrews is a cousin of Mrs. Leonard Wood, wife of Major General Wood, U. S. A.

Willard next Friday night. This dance is the first of the chapter's annual series and the proceeds are to go to the Hero Endowment Fund of the General Organization, U. D. C., which is being raised to continue the education of returned soldiers.

Mrs. Forrest F. Vrooman, chairman of the dance, has arranged an elaborate program with exceptionally fine music.

Mrs. Walter E. Hutton with her officers and entertainment committee will assist in making the dance a success.

Mrs. William Hamilton Bayl, president of the local Y. W. C. A., entertained at luncheon today at the main headquarters, 1333 F street, in honor of a number of the wives of Lutheran ministers and laymen who are here attending the convention of the United Lutheran Church of America.

The Friday night dances at Christ Church Parish House, G between Sixth and Seventh streets southeast, will be held from 8 to 10 o'clock, beginning Friday, October 29.

Miss Mildred Crandall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Crandall, entertained a large company at the Crandall home, 3321 Sixteenth street, last Friday evening, in celebration of her sixteenth birthday anniversary. Miss Crandall was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Crandall and her young sisters, the Misses Olga and Dorothy Crandall. Dancing was followed at midnight by an elaborate buffet supper.

Col. Wright Rumbough, U. S. A., who had an apartment at the Fairbrough, has left Washington for Camp Knox, Ky., where he is now stationed.

Mrs. L. L. Nicholson, Jr., who has been visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Crist, in New York, will return on Tuesday.

Mrs. E. T. Stottbury, of Philadelphia, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Cromwell Brooks.

REYNOLDS TO LEAVE. Mr. and Mrs. Amley W. Reynolds and their son, Daniel A. Reynolds, will leave Tuesday evening for their old home in Cleveland, Ohio.

Mrs. Ellen Spencer Mussey and Miss Eves Wright were hostesses for an entertainment in honor of Our Flag Chapter, D. A. R., at the Women's City Club, Tuesday evening. The honor guests were Mrs. Frank B. Ellinger, Mrs. William N. Reynolds, of North Carolina; Mrs. Anthony W. Cook, of Pennsylvania; and Mrs. William H. Talbot, of Maryland.

Mrs. Henry B. Polkenhorn, regent of the chapter, announced to the guests that this was the annual social commemoration of Yorktown Day.

The engagement of Miss Betty Andrews, of Chattanooga, Tenn., to Joseph Behrens Waters, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jason Waters, of Philadelphia and Little Silver, N. J., is of interest to Washington. Miss Andrews is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garnett Andrews, and is well known in Washington, where she has visited several times. She was an attendant in the wedding of Miss Joan Ellis, formerly of Washington, and David F. Webster, which took place last September in New York. Miss Andrews is a cousin of Mrs. Leonard Wood, wife of Major General Wood, U. S. A.

The wedding will take place next spring at the home of the bride's parents, in Chattanooga.

Both families have close associations with New York. The bride was educated abroad, finishing at a seminary in Brussels, and made her debut in society three years ago. She was a belle of the younger set at Palm Beach the following autumn, and has been a frequent visitor in New York.

"A Woman's Crowning Glory is Her Hair" and a Good Deal of the Glory is frequently due to the nimble fingers of a clever maid. The clever maid, like her friends, has found her desirable vacancy by reading the Want-ads in The Times—the 3c newspaper read by the progressive employers and efficient workers. Of course the Washington woman needing a maid advertises in The Times, realizing that it brings the best type of replies.

Better Homes—Better Maids—The Times is the Bond Between

CONFESSES CRIME AT CHURCH ALTAR

Merchant, on Bended Knees, Tells of Robbery of Which Jury Acquitted Him.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Oct. 23.—A strange case of religious fervor and "conviction of sin" has developed in the South Glens Falls Methodist Church, where, at the close of prayer meeting, M. B. Lindinoff, a merchant of that village, arose from his pew, strode to the altar and, flinging himself on his knees before it, confessed that he was guilty of a crime for which he was acquitted by a jury in Washington county and acquitted.

Lindinoff accompanied his startling demonstration with a downpour of tears and lamentation for one hour, while the congregation gathered round him and wrung its hands in sympathy. It was 11 o'clock that night before the prayer meeting broke up. The pastor of the church, the Rev. C. P. Fogle, declares that never in his experience as a minister has he witnessed so sincere an expression of penitence and religious emotion.

In 1909 Lindinoff conducted a second-hand store in Fort Edward, Washington county. A freight car was robbed one night in the railroad yards in that village. A quantity of women's fur-lined coats was among the loot. The police later found the coats in Lindinoff's store. He was indicted for receiving stolen goods.

The jury before which he was tried found him not guilty. The judge who presided at the trial in the district attorney who prosecuted Lindinoff and both dead. The lawyer, Erskine C. Rogers, of Hudson Falls, who defended him, is now the county judge. When it was suggested to Lindinoff that his confession might lead to a prison term, he replied: "What is ten years in Dannemora to eternity in hell?"

At one time Lindinoff called himself by the title of "evergreen." He conducted a "rescue mission" in this city several years ago. "Cottage prayer meetings" were frequently held by him. After his acquittal, in 1909, he went through bankruptcy. Then he disappeared from the section and returned about six months ago, when he opened a store in South Glens Falls.

At one time Lindinoff called himself by the title of "evergreen." He conducted a "rescue mission" in this city several years ago. "Cottage prayer meetings" were frequently held by him. After his acquittal, in 1909, he went through bankruptcy. Then he disappeared from the section and returned about six months ago, when he opened a store in South Glens Falls.

At one time Lindinoff called himself by the title of "evergreen." He conducted a "rescue mission" in this city several years ago. "Cottage prayer meetings" were frequently held by him. After his acquittal, in 1909, he went through bankruptcy. Then he disappeared from the section and returned about six months ago, when he opened a store in South Glens Falls.

At one time Lindinoff called himself by the title of "evergreen." He conducted a "rescue mission" in this city several years ago. "Cottage prayer meetings" were frequently held by him. After his acquittal, in 1909, he went through bankruptcy. Then he disappeared from the section and returned about six months ago, when he opened a store in South Glens Falls.

At one time Lindinoff called himself by the title of "evergreen." He conducted a "rescue mission" in this city several years ago. "Cottage prayer meetings" were frequently held by him. After his acquittal, in 1909, he went through bankruptcy. Then he disappeared from the section and returned about six months ago, when he opened a store in South Glens Falls.

At one time Lindinoff called himself by the title of "evergreen." He conducted a "rescue mission" in this city several years ago. "Cottage prayer meetings" were frequently held by him. After his acquittal, in 1909, he went through bankruptcy. Then he disappeared from the section and returned about six months ago, when he opened a store in South Glens Falls.

At one time Lindinoff called himself by the title of "evergreen." He conducted a "rescue mission" in this city several years ago. "Cottage prayer meetings" were frequently held by him. After his acquittal, in 1909, he went through bankruptcy. Then he disappeared from the section and returned about six months ago, when he opened a store in South Glens Falls.

BUYERS LOSE MILLIONS ON GREEN GRAPE CROP

Convinced by Experience That Unripe Product Won't Keep.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—Green grapes are not the same as ripe grapes. The obvious truth of the statement is now corroborated by Eastern grape buyers, who this season suffered a loss of $1,000,000 because they could not be convinced that the green grape in no way resembles the ripe grape. The incident is an interesting chapter in the grape history of California vineyards.

The Treasury Department ruled that non-intoxicating cider and fruit juices may be made at home or at a custom mill, but must be used exclusively in the home.

The Eastern grape buyers, deducting that the people, especially foreigners, in New York and other Eastern cities would crush their own grapes according to the law and then allow them to ferment not according to law, came to California looking for grapes. The grapes were on the vine and green. But that mattered little. Fancy figures and clamoring on the part of the buyers gave them the grape crop.

But the green grape has no sugar in it. Therefore it will not keep—even if refrigerated. The green grapes were shipped East, and when they reached New York they were a total loss.

Now that the grapes are ripe, Eastern buyers are slow in making contracts. But E. M. Sheehan, president of the California Grape Growers' Association, believes that sooner or later the will-change, and grapes will be in great demand, but not green.

MISS BURROUGHS WEDS. The marriage of Miss Julia Burroughs, 2708 G Street, to William Henry Marbury, son of the late Leonard Marbury and grandson of the late Capt. S. B. Davis, took place today at 1 o'clock in All Souls' Memorial Church, the Rev. Dr. John J. Burroughs, brother of the bride.

Miss Burroughs wore a gown of oyster white satin, with a short draped skirt, a bodice made on becoming surplice lines and a long veil fell from a coronet of rose point lace and was held in across the back of the head with a half wreath of orange blossoms. She carried white roses and orchids. The maid of honor's frock was fashioned of rose pink tulle and satin and worn with a pink georgette picture hat trimmed with silver ribbon. Her bouquet was a shower of Columbia

A wedding breakfast for the bridal party and members of the immediate families was given after the ceremony at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. James Hamilton Saville, 1320 Seventeenth street. Mr. Marbury and his bride will live in Washington and will be at home after November 15.

A wedding breakfast for the bridal party and members of the immediate families was given after the ceremony at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. James Hamilton Saville, 1320 Seventeenth street. Mr. Marbury and his bride will live in Washington and will be at home after November 15.

A wedding breakfast for the bridal party and members of the immediate families was given after the ceremony at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. James Hamilton Saville, 1320 Seventeenth street. Mr. Marbury and his bride will live in Washington and will be at home after November 15.

A wedding breakfast for the bridal party and members of the immediate families was given after the ceremony at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. James Hamilton Saville, 1320 Seventeenth street. Mr. Marbury and his bride will live in Washington and will be at home after November 15.

A wedding breakfast for the bridal party and members of the immediate families was given after the ceremony at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. James Hamilton Saville, 1320 Seventeenth street. Mr. Marbury and his bride will live in Washington and will be at home after November 15.

CHURCH DIRECTORY and ANNOUNCEMENTS

BAPTIST.
FIFTH—E St., near 7th St., S. W. REV. JOHN E. BRIGGS, D. D., Minister. 11 a. m.—"Climbing Upward." 7:30 p. m.—"Delight of Looking for Jesus' Second Coming Out of Heaven." Tuesday—Bible, business and social. Wednesday—Hallway party. Friday—Prayer and singing. People called by Dr. George W. McDaniel, Richmond, Va.

CHRISTIAN.
Sixth and H Sts. S. E. REV. FREDERICK M. CAYE, Minister. 11 a. m.—"Who is the Real I?" 7:30 p. m.—"Dr. Gilbert O. Nations will speak. You will be a stranger in this church only once."

CONGREGATIONAL.
FIRST—Tenth and G Sts. N. W. JASON NOBLE PIERCE, Minister. WILMER P. JOHNSTON, Ministers. 11 a. m.—"Christ and His People." 8 p. m.—"Temptation and Deliverance."

EPISCOPAL.
CHURCH OF THE EPIPHANY—1217 G St. N. W. REV. PERCY FOSTER HALL, Minister. REV. ROBERT M. BROWNING, 11 a. m.—Holy communion. 11 a. m.—Morning service and sermon. 8 p. m.—"The Resurrection of Jesus Christ."