

ELOPING PASTOR TO FACE TRIAL IN N. J.

Dr. Densel Is Indicted for Mann Act Violation After Church Romance.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Assistant Federal Attorney Pierce confirmed today a report that the Federal Grand Jury in Trenton, N. J., has indicted the Rev. Cornelius Densel for violation of the Mann White Slave act. Dr. Densel, who is forty-nine, and has eight children and three grandchildren, created a sensation last November 12, when he resigned his pastorate of the Netherlands Reformed Church in Passaic and disappeared with Miss Trina Hannenberg, twenty-six, a member of the congregation.

The couple returned December 8 and made statements in which they admitted having lived together in Buffalo and other places. The clergyman said that God had guided him back from his error. The girl said he had promised, before they disappeared, to obtain a divorce and marry her and that she compelled their return when he refused to do so. Dr. Densel was arrested on a charge of violating the Mann act a few days later and was released in $5,000 bail by Federal Commissioner Delaney in Paterson. He also had to put up $5,000 bail to insure his appearance in civil actions, one by Miss Hannenberg for $25,000 and one by her parents for $10,000.

Both the pastor and the girl were read out of the church by the Consistory. Their applications for reinstatement are pending the outcome of the trial.

The Rev. Dr. Densel will face the April term of the Federal Court at Newark.

LOCATES LOST BROTHER IN ASYLUM FOR INSANE

CLINTON, Illinois, March 11.—Edward O'Brien, who disappeared from his home here in 1894, finally has been located in the State Hospital for the Insane at Kankakee. He failed to recognize two brothers, John, of this city, and Thomas of Champaign, when the two recently greeted him for the first time in twenty-seven years.

CITY CLUB TO BUILD NEW HOME SOON

Ways and Means Committee Is Named to Consider Plans for G Street Project.

Early erection of a new home for the City Club on the site on the south side of G street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets northwest, seems assured as the result of the appointment of a ways and means committee by J. A. Whitfield, president of the club, on authorization of the board of governors.

The committee is composed of 126 prominent business and professional men with Mr. Whitfield as chairman and Thomas Bones and Eugene G. Adams as vice chairmen.

A dinner meeting of the committee will be held at 8:30 next Tuesday evening at the club to consider alternate plans for the development of the G street building project. The board of governors will meet Monday night and will submit a report, with possibly a formal recommendation, to the ways and means committee meeting on Tuesday.

No definite program has yet been approved. One of suggestions is the erection of a four-story structure, with stores on the first floor, extensive club facilities on the second and third floors, and an immense gymnasium and auditorium on the fourth floor. This plan has the advantage that it could be easily financed and would be thoroughly sound as far as future revenues are concerned.

The committee follows:
J. A. Whitfield, chairman; Thomas Bones, vice chairman; Eugene G. Adams, vice chairman; Milton E. Ailes, R. P. Andrews, S. T. Ansell, W. Barrett, C. J. Bell, J. A. Berberich, Emil Berliner, Dr. J. R. Strength and Weakness Of the Harding Cabinet

President Harding's backbone, his refusal to be dictated to by any clique or faction within his party, is demonstrated to the satisfaction of many journalistic observers by his first official act, the selection of his Cabinet. Noting that three outstanding figures, Mr. Hughes as Secretary of State, Mr. Hoover as Secretary of Commerce, and Mr. Wallace as Secretary of Agriculture, were chosen in the face of formidable opposition, the independent New York Weekly Review thinks that "the time has come when one may regard the charge that Mr. Harding was a mere puppet in the hands of the 'senatorial clique' as definitely disproved." The New York Evening Mail (Ind.) thinks that it is "a Cabinet that spells America about as accurately as any other group of men likely to be gathered around a President's council-table." On the other hand, the Omaha World-Herald (Ind.) says that the Harding Cabinet announcements "dilute, to the Volsteadian measure of one-half of one per cent., the lively hopes that were aroused when we were assured that a Republican Administration would rally the best minds of the country to the public service." The Philadelphia North American (Progressive) says that "It would be an extravagance to call the new Cabinet great, but no less absurd to assume that it is not capable of good service."

THE LITERARY DIGEST this week, March 12th, in its leading article presents all angles of public opinion upon the strength and weakness of the Harding Cabinet, and gives a brief biography of each member of it, with his photograph.
