WILSON'S FULFILLMENT OF POST-WAR DUTIES

Writes Memorial Day Letter to "The Stars and Stripes," Soldier Periodical.

Woodrow Wilson yesterday broke the silence he has maintained since he retired from the White House on March 4.

In a Memorial Day letter to the editor of The Stars and Stripes, which was published yesterday in that soldier periodical, he said that the American people shall not be able to enjoy the full pride of the day's recollections until we have made sure that the duties that grew out of the war have been fulfilled to the utmost.

"Are we sure," he asked, "if we are not, shall we not soon take steps to do whatever has been omitted?"

The full text of the former President's letter follows:

Memorial Day has always been one of our most solemn and thoughtful anniversaries, when we recalled great memories and dedicated ourselves again to the maintenance and purification of the nation, but this year it has an added and tremendous significance because the memories and sacrifices of the great World War are now being the most stimulating of the recollections of the day.

We celebrate the immortal achievements of the men who did manhood on the field and in the trenches, far away from home, in order that both our own people and the peoples across the seas might be delivered from the ugliness of war.

Are we sure? If we are not, shall we not soon take steps to do whatever has been omitted?"

Cordially yours, WOODROW WILSON.

U. S. IS TREASURE CHEST AS NATIONS FLOAT NEW LOANS

This Country Holds Third of Gold Supply and Is Extensive Creditor.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES. International News Service.

Holding more than a third of the total gold supply of the world and steadily receiving more, the United States has become the world's treasure chest and practically every nation impoverished by the war is already negotiating or about to begin negotiating for great loans in American financial markets.

France already is floating $160,000,000 and it is successful where other nations will follow in quick succession, according to opinions expressed today in Treasury circles here.

It was knowledge of this condition, and a desire to safeguard the dominant position America has gained, that led President Harding to summon to Washington a group of the most powerful international bankers of the country and convey to them the gentle hint that the Administration does not relish the idea of stripping American industry of easy credit in order to finance competition abroad.

President Harding was told by the international bankers that the quickest road to American prosperity lay through re-financing Europe.

It can be stated authoritatively, however, that President Harding and his advisers have not accepted this theory in its entirety, and the views of mid-western bankers will be sought before any Administration encouragement will be given to the financing of these great loans in American markets.

The Middle Western bankers to a large extent finance the agriculture of the "heart of America" and are not so concerned with international loans as are the powerful Eastern interests.

SHE BOUGHT RING BUT HE MARRIED ANOTHER

ATLANTIC CITY, May 28.—Miss Alice Robinson, Ventnor, was awarded $1,960 bond by a jury in Atlantic circuit court today in her suit for $10,000 for breach of promise instituted against Joseph Gerald Fuller, Trenton.

Miss Robinson declared on the witness stand that when she and Fuller became engaged she bought him a ring and took him to the movies, paying all bills in advance.

One day Fuller, according to her testimony, asked her how much money she had. When she admitted she had saved $500 he borrowed it.

The next day he married Miss Rose Fuller, Trenton. In their verdict the jury ordered that Miss Robinson be given $500 for her affection, $500 for the money loaned and $60 for her expenses in providing the ring and taking Fuller to the movies.

ONE DEAD, FOUR INJURED IN TEXAS HOTEL FIRE

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 28.—D. Rhoades, fifty-five, was burned to death, Dr. B. J. Plunkett, of Dunbar, Okla., sustained a fractured skull, and three others sustained serious burns in a fire which destroyed the Grammer Hotel this morning.

A woman and child also are reported missing and search is being made of the ruins. For a time the fire threatened to destroy the entire terminal hotel block.

Careless Smoker Held. POTTSVILLE, Pa., May 28.—Albert F. Davis, of Frackville, was jailed for having dropped a match into a tin of derbrush and causing a forest fire which seventy acres of land were burned over.

Find Convicted Slayer. WOODSTOCK, Ontario, May 28.—An Ontario convict, murdered and sentenced to the penitentiary, who escaped from jail here last Wednesday, was arrested at Georgetown yesterday.

DR. SILBERSTEIN, who is connected with the Eastman Research Laboratories, at Rochester, N. Y., has prepared a test which, he claims, will establish the Einstein theory of relativity beyond all doubt or will clearly disprove it. Dr. Einstein has agreed to the test, which is to take place soon, probably in Chicago.

Re-erection of the historic Flannery monument of Abraham Lincoln upon its original site in front of the District Court House is virtually assured. A bill providing for the re-erection of the monument has been favorably reported to the House of Representatives.

Historic Flannery Sculpture, Now in Basement, Will Once More Gaze on Men.

Re-erection of the historic Flannery monument of Abraham Lincoln upon its original site in front of the District Court House is virtually assured.

The Flannery statue was removed from the court house grounds in the fall of 1919 because its foundation was declared to be insecure. It was placed in the basement of the court house, where it now is.

President Harding's letter to Congress, which provoked widespread protest. Members of the Grand Army of the Republic, the Loyal Legion and other patriotic organizations urged the replacement of the statue, and declared that its removal in the first place was a desecration.

Several bills providing for the removal of the statue to other places which have played a conspicuous part in the life of Lincoln. These bills have, however, and so far as members of the House of Representatives view the proposition it is settled that the statue is to be re-erected on its original site.

President Harding's letter to Congress, which provoked widespread protest. Members of the Grand Army of the Republic, the Loyal Legion and other patriotic organizations urged the replacement of the statue, and declared that its removal in the first place was a desecration.

"I very recently received a call of a very notable delegation representing the Loyal Legion, and after consideration at the hands of Congress of the decision to remove the statue erected in memory of President Lincoln in front of the city hall in 1868.

"I cordially believe the sentiment is one that we ought to sanction and I am glad to express the hope that the same place in any possible action in providing for the restoration. If there are any serious obstacles in the way I shall be grateful if you will inform me so that I may be able to do what is possible in aiding to solve the situation."

The Plannery statue of Lincoln was erected by subscriptions raised by prominent citizens of the District of Columbia in 1868. It was removed a few days after his death, April 15, 1868. A competition was held among notable sculptors of Washington, who had achieved a number of notable successes, and the award was given to the victor, the late Augustus St. Gaudens, who was the successful competitor for the work.

HAWKEN BACKED AS D. C. LAW HEAD BY G. O. P. LEADERS

Long Fight Over District Attorneyship Thought Ended.

The long fight among District Republicans over the District attorneyship will be settled next week, it was said today. The choice has narrowed down to S. McComas Hawken, former assistant district attorney and leaders say he will be named early next week.

Shortly after the inauguration of President Harding, the District Attorney's office was much sought after and many prominent members of the District bar were applicants for the place. Finally it was understood that the District Republican committee submitted the names of three men and asked the Attorney General to make his own selection.

Howard C. Hughes, State Commissioner Richardson, and Col. Peyton Gordon were said to be the men mentioned. Then Robert I. Miller, the leader of the other wing of the Republican party in the District, was put forward as a candidate.

Colonel Gordon's principal backer was the late Associate Justice Ashley M. Gould, and it was his recommendations that complicated the situation, his advice was seriously considered. With the death of Justice Gould, however, last week, it was assumed that Colonel Gordon was eliminated and the race narrowed down to Mr. Hawken and Commissioner Richardson.
