IRISH TO RENEW PEACE PARLEYS WITH PREMIER

He is generally credited with being the real founder of the Sinn Fein. When de Valera was in America Griffiths was "acting president of the Irish republic." Less scholarly than de Valera, he is more direct, and his personality appeals more to the masses than does that of his reserved and austere chief.

Throughout the peace negotiations between Ireland and the British government the more radical elements of the Sinn Fein party have opposed de Valera's moderate diplomacy and have looked to Griffiths to make that opposition assert itself in the decisive councils.

If the report is true that Griffiths is to replace de Valera, it will mean the first real reverse of the Sinn Fein chieftain at the hands of his party, and will undoubtedly foreshadow a more aggressive policy in the conferences—provided they are resumed.

LAUCK FIGURES RAILROAD LABOR WILL NOT STRIKE

Brotherhood Economist Confident Board Decisions Have Forestalled Any Walkout.

By HARRY L. ROGERS, International News Service.
Despite the fact that a strike vote is now being taken by the railroad brotherhoods because of wage reductions ordered by the Railroad Labor Board, W. Jett Lauck, consulting economist of the railroad unions, today paid high tribute to the work of the board and gave it credit for stabilizing railroad labor conditions.

The recent decision of the board relative to punitive overtime, Lauck said, has been displeasing to both the railroad employees and the railroad management. He expressed confidence, however, that the decisions of the board had forestalled labor troubles on the railroads, despite the fact that the brotherhoods are now taking a strike ballot.

"The unfortunate and deplorable situation from the point of view of the public," Lauck declared, "has been that the labor policy of the railroads has been dominated by a group of financiers and railway executives whose main object has been not to serve the public intelligently by bringing about real railway efficiency and economy, but to secure savings in operating costs by destroying just and reasonable standards of work and compensation."

"The depressed condition of the transportation industry with the resultant lack of employment, has been favorable to their plans, as it has weakened the economic power of the employees. The Labor Board, however, has thwarted the indefensible efforts of this group by maintaining the right of collective bargaining on a labor union basis, the eight-hour day, and similar fundamental rights. It has also prevented an unwarranted reduction in wages. It has been courageous forward-looking and constructive from the standpoint both of the public and the transportation industry."

The great need of the country after the establishment of elaborate machinery for the adjustment of labor disputes, but failed in its primary duty by failing to urge certain fundamental principles as mandatory upon the adjustment of disputes.

MINGO MINERS ARM AGAIN FOR NEW WARFARE

The yesterday which resulted in the death of five men.

The President is expected to discuss the entire situation with Cabinet members tomorrow, when Secretary of Labor Davis will return to Washington. James Lord, head of the mining department of the American Federation of Labor, today denounced the State government of West Virginia and the Federal Government for "permitting the hired murderers to continue their killings."

"If it hadn't been for these gunmen imported by the mine operators and permitted to operate by the State of West Virginia, not a shot would have been fired," he said, commenting on the fight in Logan county, W. Va., in which five men were killed.

"It's a shame those five boys were killed. The miners are not lawless. If they were lawless, do you think they'd go down in coal mines and work? They are fighting for their rights under the common law and the Constitution of the United States. They've seen corruption and subordination in the American Federation of Labor, today denounced the State government of West Virginia and the Federal Government for "permitting the hired murderers to continue their killings."

"Judging from the tactics pursued by both sides in the West Virginia coal fields, it is not surprising that a state of war exists," Senator McKellar, Democrat, of Tennessee, a member of the Senate committee which investigated the disturbances in Mingo county, W. Va., declared, when informed of the latest killings.

Blank checks torn from the back of the prison check books were said to have been used by the convicts. All the forgeries were effected within the past eight weeks and seven or eight of the forged checks were said to have been returned to the prison, paid and canceled.

HUNGARIANS IN FIERCE BATTLE WITH AUSTRIANS

Heavy Losses Suffered by Both Sides in Attack on Disputed Town.

VIENNA, via Berlin, Aug. 29.—Two members of the Austrian gendarmerie were killed, including a colonel, and seven were wounded in another clash between Austrian and Hungarian troops in west Hungary today. Serious losses have been sustained on both sides. The Hungarians are led by Osterburg and Hejjas, both famous war veterans.
The fighting began when the Austrian gendarmes started to occupy Oedenburg, which is a town much disputed between Austria and Hungary. "Terrible battles were raging at last accounts at Aegbdore and Pinfakfeld."

"Labor to organize as a political party." Where do you seem to have heard that before? Sounds familiar, does it not? But before election day the old politicians will tell you, "Never mind about LABOR, they will divide up as usual. Stick one of them on the ticket somewhere and forget it." For that situation, not the old politicians, but the easily divided workers are to blame.

RING POPE GAVE TO ERZBERGER IS RECOVERED

Berlin Cabinet Called to Discuss Crisis Caused by Assassination.

By International News Service.
BAD-GRIESBACH, Germany, Aug. 29.—A diamond ring, a gift from Pope Benedict XV to Mathias Erzberger, which was missing when the body of the slain statesman was found near here, was found today.

It was picked up in the grass near the spot where Erzberger was shot to death.

By FRANK E. MASON, International News Service.

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—The flames of political strife unloosed by the murder of Dr. Mathias Erzberger leaped high today when the full news of yesterday's demonstrations here and in other towns was told and when Chancellor Wirth summoned his cabinet to an extraordinary session to discuss the internal crisis.

Two workmen were killed and a third was mortally wounded yesterday afternoon in a clash between "reds" and monarchists at Potsdam.

That old Kaiser-town bristled with uniforms of men and officers of the old army, including some famous generals who had defied the government's order forbidding a demonstration in celebration of the anniversary of the battle of Tannenberg.

Radicals Answer Call.
At the same time Potsdam swarmed with radicals who had heeded the summons of the Rote Fahne to make a counter demonstration.

Police fired into a throng of workmen when the latter resisted an attempt to throw their red flags into the canal.

The inter-party strife and bitterness continued to grow hourly in intensity and the menace of a cabinet crisis still loomed large today. Moderate elements of all parties were bending their energies to prevent it, realizing nothing could be more disastrous to Germany at this moment, when the war-riddled industries are just beginning to regain their bearing and when the League of Nations council is about to make a final decision on upper Silesia.

Meanwhile, the investigation into Erzberger's assassination continues. The town of Offenburg, Baden, where the Centrist leader and former finance minister was slain while walking on a high road in the Black Forest, was thick with police. The best brains of the German secret police have been dispatched into city to investigate the murder. Thus far the elaborate inquiry has been fruitless. The two students who were arrested Saturday on suspicion were released.

Two Assassins, Inquest Shows.
The coroner's jury returned a verdict of "political murder." It was found at the inquest that the shots that killed the Centrist leader were fired from two different revolvers.

The Centrist club which the police were investigating today was that an unidentified person telephoned to the newspaper Badische Presse at noon of the day of the murder—last Friday—asking if there was any information about Erzberger, whose assassination had not yet been discovered at that time.

The newspaper war over the sensational political murder raged on with fury. Gloomly predictions were made on all sides. "Vorwärts," the government's own mouthpiece, said:

"Only brutal ruthlessness can now save Germany from a bloody civil war."

The Catholic organ, Germania, again demanded the suppression of all nationalistic holidays, which the militarists are using for purposes of agitation, the paper charges.

Avantgarde Zeitung counters this with:

"The nationalistic youths know how to protect their rights with a strong will."

Funeral Plans Changed.
Erzberger's home town, Biberach, having offered to erect a monument and donate a "grave of honor" to its most famous son, the funeral arrangements were changed by the widow today. The murder victim will be buried in Biberach on Wednesday, instead of in Berlin.

A funeral ceremony for the dead politician yesterday was addressed by ex-Chancellor Febrnbach and Minister of Posts Giesbert.

GOVERNOR REFUSES TO STAY DEATH SENTENCE

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 29.—Governor Davis announced he would not reprieve Frank Motto, under sentence to be electrocuted at midnight in the Ohio penitentiary for his part in the slaying of W. C. Sly and George K. Fanner in a payroll robbery in Cleveland last December.

The governor said Motto's alleged confession to Attorney General Price in which he implicated a member of the Cleveland police department as being the instigator of the robbery, was not sufficient cause for granting executive clemency.

THEATERS FACE WAGE WRANGLE WITH EMPLOYES

Stage Hands and Motion Picture Operators Are Opposed to Salary Cut.

Local motion picture houses and theaters will not be closed in event of a threatened strike of motion picture operators and stage employes, according to latest indications today. The present contract between the managers and employes will run out at midnight Wednesday and, at present, there is a deadlock between the two factions over wages for the new season. The managers are demanding a 10 per cent wage cut for operators and stage superintendents and the union men insisting upon continuation of the present scale.

Prepare For Strike.
In preparation for a strike on the part of the operators and a sympathy strike by the musicians, the local managers are advertising for all available motion picture operators and for twenty pianists and ten organists.

The union men, however, are making light of this effort to oust them. They declare that there are no experienced theater musicians and motion picture operators in the city who are not already affiliated with the union.

At a meeting between the managers and the operators and stage hands Friday at Keith's Theater, the union men refused the managers' offer to agree to any cut in wages. The first proposal made by the managers, for a 20 per cent cut all around, was turned down flatly. The union men also refused to consider a 10 per cent cut for the operators and stage superintendents, the lower salaried hands continuing at the former rate.

This was the situation at the close of the meeting and up to a late hour today there was no indication of concessions by either faction.

No Meeting Scheduled.
Though theater musicians and the employes are understood to have agreed to continue the present rates for the coming season, the operators and stage men are confident that a strike on their part would lead to an immediate walk out of the musicians. This view is apparently shared in full by the managers.

No further meetings are scheduled between the employers and the union men before the expiration of the present agreements Wednesday night.
