

"FATTY" INCRIMINATED BY SWORN STATEMENTS OF GAY REVELERS

DYING GIRL PUT BLAME ON 'FATTY'

Film Beauty Pleaded for Punishment of Comedian Just Before Death Came.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—Here are the sworn statements made to the police by the principal witnesses in the Virginia Rappe tragedy:

By DR. WILLIAM OPHUIS, Pathologist, Who Performed Post Mortem Examination on Miss Rappe. The post-mortem examination showed a ruptured bladder, the rupture being due to natural causes. There were no marks of violence on the body. There were absolutely no evidences of a criminal assault, no signs that the girl had been attacked in any way.

By DR. M. E. RUMWELL, Who Attended Miss Rappe on Her Deathbed. On Tuesday morning, September 6, I was called into the case of Miss Virginia Rappe by Mrs. Del-mont. Miss Rappe was in room 1227 of the St. Francis Hotel at the time I treated her there for two days. She was then removed to the Wakefield Sanitarium at my request, where she died on Friday at about 1:30 p. m. In the beginning I believed she was suffering from alcoholism. Later symptoms of peritonitis came on. These became worse and Drs. Rexford and W. F. Read were called in consultation. They concurred in the diagnosis and advised a continuation of the same treatment and against an operation. The diagnosis not being clear, it was deemed advisable to hold an autopsy.

Dr. Ophuis performed this and found the cause of death was an internal serotinal rupture of the bladder. The abdominal cavity contained a large quantity of urine. There was a slight bruise on her arm, I think the left one, and a slight bruise on one thigh. These were negligible. There were no other signs of injury on the body.

Miss Rappe was in good physical condition and was not suffering from any disease of the bladder. I cannot say what caused the rupture of the bladder.

By ALICE BLAKE, Cafe Entertainer, Who Was a Member of the Party in Arbutckle's Rooms. On Monday, about 2 o'clock, Lowell Sherman, an actor friend, called me and invited me to a party in Roscoe Arbutckle's apartments, rooms 1219, 1220, 1221, at the Hotel St. Francis. There were several people in the room when I entered. They were Sherman, a short stout Jewish gentleman, whose name I do not know; Mrs. Virginia Delmont, Miss Pivron, Miss Miss Rappe and Arbutckle.

When I entered, Arbutckle and Miss Rappe were occupying a settee together. All were laughing and talking. All had been drinking. Miss Rappe was drinking gin and orange juice. We all ordered something to eat and afterwards just sat around and talked. Various people whom I did not know, men and women, came in from time to time. One of them was Al Bernacker, who, I was told, was Miss Rappe's manager.

All this time we were in room No. 1220, which was used as a reception room. After we had finished eating, Miss Rappe got up and went into the bathroom, which was connected with Arbutckle's room, No. 1219.

About the same time I went into room 1221 with Miss Pivron. When I returned a few moments later neither Arbutckle nor Miss Rappe was present. I asked Sherman where Arbutckle and Miss Rappe were. He replied: "In there," pointing to the door of Room 1219.

About a half hour later Mrs. Delmont tried to get into the room, but the door was locked. She banged and banged on the door and Arbutckle came out. As he opened the door we heard Miss Rappe moaning and crying: "I am dying! I am dying!" Arbutckle came out and sat down with us and said: "Go in and get her dressed and take her back to the Palace. She makes too much noise."

In the meantime Mrs. Delmont had entered the room where Miss Rappe was. Miss Pivron and I entered and found Miss Rappe lying on the bed. She was entirely unclothed. She was moaning and crying. She seemed to be in great pain and I tried at once to help her. I first thought she was suffering from gas pains, so I gave her a cup of hot water with bicarbonate of soda, but she vomited at once.

Someone suggested a cold bath, so we filled the tub, and one of the men and I carried her and put her into it for a moment. It had no effect, so we took her out. We tried to dress her, but found her clothes torn to shreds. Her shirtwaist, underclothes and even her stockings were ripped and torn.

Still Another View Of Actress Who Died After Party

Arbutckle's Real Life a Round of Merrymaking, With Comedian Always Central Figure.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 12.—"The party's the thing." That, according to his friends, was the keynote of the life of Roscoe (Fatty) Arbutckle, film funny man, driver of freak cars and host at scores of parties which made him almost as famous as his face and figure on the screen.

Funny on the silver sheet, he always wanted the most fun out of private life, those who knew him said today, describing his history. He wanted to "stage a party," they said, whenever there was a moment of time to spare, and he staged them in galore at clubs, hotels, inns and along the roads, and, most of all, at his palatial home in fashionable West Adams street, a stone's throw from Chester place, formerly of Charlie Chaplin and Mrs. Randolph Huntington Minor.

Once a Chorus Man. Banquets, teas, breakfasts, dinners, entertainments, motor parties, weekend parties, house parties, lawn parties and countless other parties dot the "movie" life of Fatty's recent years, and some of the parties, it was learned, were of a rather unconventional nature.

He was born in Kansas in 1887. He early began to act and toured with stock companies. He finally had a company of his own. Later on when the "movies" began to take hold he started with Keystone at $3 a day as an extra man.

"Fatty" had not been back on the East long before he had troubles. Hold-up men persisted in taking away his loose change at night. So in April, 1918, "Fatty" presented himself in Sheriff Cline's office and asked for a "wild party" a gun. He wanted the former so he could legally carry the latter and fight off the bold highwaymen. He got the star, and the next day he was carrying around a .45 revolver, the size of which commensurate with his waist line.

The gun apparently stopped the bandits, but "Fatty's" arrest for speeding now became almost a daily newspaper joke. He was arrested by Santa Monica most frequently, but Ventura claimed him on several occasions. He always bought cars that could speed, but the average "cop" passed "Fatty" up most of the time, and it was not until the night of the party at the Palace, on the eve of his departure for New York, that he was arrested.

By MRS. JEAN JAMESON, Nurse Who Attended Miss Rappe in the Sanitarium Where She Died. (Unprintable portions are indicated by asterisks.) About 3 p. m. Tuesday, September 6, I was called by Mrs. H. M. Delmont to room 1227 of the St. Francis Hotel. There I met Miss Virginia Rappe, who was in bed and who complained of having pains in her abdomen and lower chest. Mrs. Delmont was there.

Virginia said she had attended a party at Roscoe Arbutckle's rooms at the St. Francis Hotel on Monday, September 5. She said she took three drinks, and then she knew nothing. I don't remember whether she said Arbutckle asked her or pulled her into his room where the party was held.

Mrs. Delmont said that Virginia was screaming and yelling, and that she (Mrs. Delmont) went to the door and found it was locked and then she kicked on the door several times and then Arbutckle opened it. Miss Rappe was pulling at her clothes. Mrs. Delmont and the rest of the party then put Miss Rappe into a cold bath. They sent for the hotel resident doctor, who gave Miss Rappe an injection of morphine.

Mrs. Delmont then called Dr. Rumwell. He ordered her taken to Dr. Wakefield's sanitarium on Sutter street. Mrs. Delmont and myself went to the sanitarium in the ambulance with Miss Rappe. Dr. Rumwell had charge of the case there. I called Miss Cumberland, of the King Ambulance Service, for Wednesday night.

Miss Rappe told me at the hotel that Arbutckle was waiting to get her for five years; that Arbutckle was a friend of her sweetheart, Henry Lehman, of New York, and she did not want to have publicity, as she was afraid she would lose Lehman.

She said she would let the matter drop if she were to get well quickly, but that if her case was to be serious she wanted Arbutckle to pay her expenses at the hospital. She stated that she had money in the bank herself, but she did not see why she should pay her expenses when he was the cause of her injuries—placing her here on her abdomen.

While at the St. Francis she was calling to me asking if we were getting Arbutckle, and I told her "yes" just to please her. She said she blamed Arbutckle for her injuries and wanted him punished for it. This was just before she died, which was about 1:30 p. m., September 8.

I noticed bruises on her body, her left thigh and her upper right arm, I think, and she said they were made by Arbutckle.

By IRA C. FORTLOUIS, New York Traveling Salesman, Who Attended Arbutckle's Party. I was walking out of the Palace Hotel about 11 a. m. Monday and saw a very stylish girl. I asked somebody who she was. He said she was Miss Rappe, the moving picture actress.

I went up to the St. Francis and called up Freddy Fischback and he introduced me to Arbutckle and Lowell Sherman, an actor. We sat there and talked for a long time and in the course of the conversation I mentioned the fact that I had just seen Miss Rappe and asked the boys if they knew her. Some one of the party said he knew her and asked when I had seen her. I told them I had seen her in the lobby of the Palace Hotel.

Some one in the party phoned to Miss Rappe. Miss Rappe phoned a little later

TRAGEDY COMES AS CLIMAX OF MANY PARTIES

Arbutckle's Real Life a Round of Merrymaking, With Comedian Always Central Figure.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 12.—"The party's the thing." That, according to his friends, was the keynote of the life of Roscoe (Fatty) Arbutckle, film funny man, driver of freak cars and host at scores of parties which made him almost as famous as his face and figure on the screen.

Funny on the silver sheet, he always wanted the most fun out of private life, those who knew him said today, describing his history. He wanted to "stage a party," they said, whenever there was a moment of time to spare, and he staged them in galore at clubs, hotels, inns and along the roads, and, most of all, at his palatial home in fashionable West Adams street, a stone's throw from Chester place, formerly of Charlie Chaplin and Mrs. Randolph Huntington Minor.

Once a Chorus Man. Banquets, teas, breakfasts, dinners, entertainments, motor parties, weekend parties, house parties, lawn parties and countless other parties dot the "movie" life of Fatty's recent years, and some of the parties, it was learned, were of a rather unconventional nature.

He was born in Kansas in 1887. He early began to act and toured with stock companies. He finally had a company of his own. Later on when the "movies" began to take hold he started with Keystone at $3 a day as an extra man.

"Fatty" had not been back on the East long before he had troubles. Hold-up men persisted in taking away his loose change at night. So in April, 1918, "Fatty" presented himself in Sheriff Cline's office and asked for a "wild party" a gun. He wanted the former so he could legally carry the latter and fight off the bold highwaymen. He got the star, and the next day he was carrying around a .45 revolver, the size of which commensurate with his waist line.

The gun apparently stopped the bandits, but "Fatty's" arrest for speeding now became almost a daily newspaper joke. He was arrested by Santa Monica most frequently, but Ventura claimed him on several occasions. He always bought cars that could speed, but the average "cop" passed "Fatty" up most of the time, and it was not until the night of the party at the Palace, on the eve of his departure for New York, that he was arrested.

By MRS. JEAN JAMESON, Nurse Who Attended Miss Rappe in the Sanitarium Where She Died. (Unprintable portions are indicated by asterisks.) About 3 p. m. Tuesday, September 6, I was called by Mrs. H. M. Delmont to room 1227 of the St. Francis Hotel. There I met Miss Virginia Rappe, who was in bed and who complained of having pains in her abdomen and lower chest. Mrs. Delmont was there.

Virginia said she had attended a party at Roscoe Arbutckle's rooms at the St. Francis Hotel on Monday, September 5. She said she took three drinks, and then she knew nothing. I don't remember whether she said Arbutckle asked her or pulled her into his room where the party was held.

Mrs. Delmont said that Virginia was screaming and yelling, and that she (Mrs. Delmont) went to the door and found it was locked and then she kicked on the door several times and then Arbutckle opened it. Miss Rappe was pulling at her clothes. Mrs. Delmont and the rest of the party then put Miss Rappe into a cold bath. They sent for the hotel resident doctor, who gave Miss Rappe an injection of morphine.

Mrs. Delmont then called Dr. Rumwell. He ordered her taken to Dr. Wakefield's sanitarium on Sutter street. Mrs. Delmont and myself went to the sanitarium in the ambulance with Miss Rappe. Dr. Rumwell had charge of the case there. I called Miss Cumberland, of the King Ambulance Service, for Wednesday night.

Miss Rappe told me at the hotel that Arbutckle was waiting to get her for five years; that Arbutckle was a friend of her sweetheart, Henry Lehman, of New York, and she did not want to have publicity, as she was afraid she would lose Lehman.

She said she would let the matter drop if she were to get well quickly, but that if her case was to be serious she wanted Arbutckle to pay her expenses at the hospital. She stated that she had money in the bank herself, but she did not see why she should pay her expenses when he was the cause of her injuries—placing her here on her abdomen.

While at the St. Francis she was calling to me asking if we were getting Arbutckle, and I told her "yes" just to please her. She said she blamed Arbutckle for her injuries and wanted him punished for it. This was just before she died, which was about 1:30 p. m., September 8.

I noticed bruises on her body, her left thigh and her upper right arm, I think, and she said they were made by Arbutckle.

By IRA C. FORTLOUIS, New York Traveling Salesman, Who Attended Arbutckle's Party. I was walking out of the Palace Hotel about 11 a. m. Monday and saw a very stylish girl. I asked somebody who she was. He said she was Miss Rappe, the moving picture actress.

I went up to the St. Francis and called up Freddy Fischback and he introduced me to Arbutckle and Lowell Sherman, an actor. We sat there and talked for a long time and in the course of the conversation I mentioned the fact that I had just seen Miss Rappe and asked the boys if they knew her. Some one of the party said he knew her and asked when I had seen her. I told them I had seen her in the lobby of the Palace Hotel.

for three years by Adolph Zukor for $2,000,000. Whether this was to be all salary or was to include the turning over of a certain number of films to Famous Players-Lasky was never made public. This was the biggest contract indulged in by Zukor up to that time.

By Magnificent Home. While "Fatty" was getting quickly wealthy, several years ago, he purchased the magnificent West Adams street home of the Miners.

A more Bohemian atmosphere was created with "Fatty's" purchase of the house, for which he is said to have paid almost $100,000. From that time until now there have been parties and parties. The motion picture colony when bored could always find relaxation and "fun" at "Fatty's" home and wine and song was always there to await the boys and girls.

Late in 1919 "Fatty" called for France and was greeted there so enthusiastically that he was severely injured. A number of men in a crowd attempted to carry their "hero" on their shoulders, but they did not calculate his avoidability carefully enough and "Fatty" fell to the pavement.

Most sensational of all the news about "Fatty" came recently when the attorney general of Massachusetts charged that, following a banquet in "Fatty's" honor in Boston, there had been a "wild party" at a roadhouse near the Hub City, at which several prominent citizens had been present. There was quite a furor about the matter in the East, involving a prominent official of the State, but "Fatty" claimed here that, because of a carbuncle, he had been unable to attend the party after the banquet and knew nothing of what happened. His most recent escapade, however, was in the dignified Congress Hotel in Chicago this summer.

"Fatty," with James Cruze and Ed Keyes, directors, were lunching in the hotel dining room, with Joe Greenberg, a waiter, serving the trio. For the delectation of an "Fatty" took a club sandwich and flattened it on his head, making Joe double up in guffaws.

"Mr. Arbutckle," he said, "you're the funniest man I ever saw," to the tune of "Fatty" throwing a sandwich past the waiter's nose. "Wait," said "Fatty," "here's a funnier one," and according to reports, he proceeded to slam a platter of creamed chicken in the waiter's face.

Joe fled, dripping creamed chicken as he ran. But in a few minutes he returned with two officers and "Fatty" had a free ride to the Clark street station, where he was compelled to put up a $50 deposit for his appearance in court. As he never appeared for trial Judge Haas forfeited the bail.

EX-SENATOR WETMORE DIES AT BOSTON HOTEL

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—George Peabody Wetmore, former Republican United States Senator from Rhode Island and for two terms governor of that State, died of heart disease at a hotel here yesterday. Mr. Wetmore, who was seventy-five years old, arrived here Saturday for a third term at Newport, R. I., for a consultation with his physician, and his death was unexpected. The body will be sent to Newport tonight.

He was governor from 1885 to 1887. He was defeated for a third term in 1885 he was elected to the Senate, where he served continuously until 1918.

D. of A. Convenes Tonight

Members of the State Council, Daughters of America, will open their convention tonight at 316 Pennsylvania avenue southeast. A large contingent from Baltimore is expected.

MINGO INQUIRY BODY TO MEET ON WEDNESDAY

Senator Kenyon Expected to Confer With Harding on Plans for Trip to Mines.

By International News Service. A meeting Wednesday of the Senate committee appointed to investigate the mine war in the West Virginia coal fields was called today by Senator Kenyon, Republican, of Iowa, the committee chairman.

Kenyon, on his way back from his summer home at Sabasco, Me., wired a notification of the meeting to the other committee members—Senators Shortridge, Republican, of California; Sterling, Republican, of South Dakota; McKellar, Democrat, of Tennessee; and Walsh, Democrat, of Massachusetts, who are already here.

Kenyon is expected to arrive here today or tomorrow. It is believed that he may confer with President Harding regarding the West Virginia situation before the committee meeting is held.

All of the committee members except Sterling are in favor of proceeding to the scene of the recent civil war in West Virginia without further delay.

The sun is only due South in the heavens at noon on four days in the year.

FOREIGN TRADE IS IMPROVING, FIGURES SHOW

Imports Increase $24,000,000 and Exports $55,000,000 Over July Reports.

Better business in American foreign trade was reflected today when the Department of Commerce announced that import and export figures for August showed substantial gains over preceding months.

Imports for August were valued at $194,000,000, an increase of $24,000,000 over July. Exports were valued at $375,000,000, an increase of $55,000,000 over July. The favorable trade balance of the United States for the month of August was $181,000,000.

The export figures were the highest of any month since March. While the figures were indicative of increasing trade, the figures announced for the first eight months of this year were gloomy, as compared with the first eight months of 1920. They told the story of this year's industrial and trade stagnation.

Imports for the first eight months of 1921 totaled $1,593,000,000, as compared with $3,994,000,000 a year ago.

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of carcass beef in Washington, D. C., for week ending Saturday, September 10, 1921, on shipments sold out, ranged from 12 cents to 17 cents per pound and averaged 15.55 cents per pound.—Adv.

Yes
it's toasted, of course. To seal in the flavor—

LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTE

MISS VIRGINIA RAPPE.

so that one could hardly recognize what garments they were. We could not dress her because her clothes were torn so.

After that a clerk was summoned, which he had engaged, and the house physician, I believe, was called.

There was plenty of liquor there, but I was told that Miss Rappe had only had two drinks. I had only one drink myself. From the time I entered the suite and all during the party, Arbutckle was clothed in pajamas, a bathrobe and bedroom slippers.

By MRS. JEAN JAMESON, Nurse Who Attended Miss Rappe in the Sanitarium Where She Died. (Unprintable portions are indicated by asterisks.)

About 3 p. m. Tuesday, September 6, I was called by Mrs. H. M. Delmont to room 1227 of the St. Francis Hotel. There I met Miss Virginia Rappe, who was in bed and who complained of having pains in her abdomen and lower chest. Mrs. Delmont was there.

Virginia said she had attended a party at Roscoe Arbutckle's rooms at the St. Francis Hotel on Monday, September 5. She said she took three drinks, and then she knew nothing.

I don't remember whether she said Arbutckle asked her or pulled her into his room where the party was held.

Mrs. Delmont said that Virginia was screaming and yelling, and that she (Mrs. Delmont) went to the door and found it was locked and then she kicked on the door several times and then Arbutckle opened it.

Miss Rappe was pulling at her clothes. Mrs. Delmont and the rest of the party then put Miss Rappe into a cold bath. They sent for the hotel resident doctor, who gave Miss Rappe an injection of morphine.

Mrs. Delmont then called Dr. Rumwell. He ordered her taken to Dr. Wakefield's sanitarium on Sutter street. Mrs. Delmont and myself went to the sanitarium in the ambulance with Miss Rappe. Dr. Rumwell had charge of the case there. I called Miss Cumberland, of the King Ambulance Service, for Wednesday night.

Miss Rappe told me at the hotel that Arbutckle was waiting to get her for five years; that Arbutckle was a friend of her sweetheart, Henry Lehman, of New York, and she did not want to have publicity, as she was afraid she would lose Lehman.

She said she would let the matter drop if she were to get well quickly, but that if her case was to be serious she wanted Arbutckle to pay her expenses at the hospital. She stated that she had money in the bank herself, but she did not see why she should pay her expenses when he was the cause of her injuries—placing her here on her abdomen.

While at the St. Francis she was calling to me asking if we were getting Arbutckle, and I told her "yes" just to please her. She said she blamed Arbutckle for her injuries and wanted him punished for it. This was just before she died, which was about 1:30 p. m., September 8.

I noticed bruises on her body, her left thigh and her upper right arm, I think, and she said they were made by Arbutckle.

and asked for the room number. She thought they were stopping at the Palace Hotel. Miss Rappe came up to the room some time in the afternoon. I think this was about 12:30 p. m. This was Monday, September 5, 1921.

I was introduced to her and Sherman was also introduced. There were four of us in the room at the time. Fischback, Arbutckle, Sherman and myself. Mrs. Delmont came in the room. Miss Rappe introduced her to everybody. We had lunch and drinks were served. I had Scotch highballs. Miss Rappe had nothing to drink at the time, I remember. Mrs. Delmont had a drink at the same time. The women ate none of the lunch.

I know of no injury that occurred to Miss Rappe while I was in the room and the first I heard of her injuries was the following day.

I could not say that Miss Rappe and Arbutckle were in the room at the time I was present.

They all had drinks, and some one telephoned downstairs to send up a phonograph. The phonograph came up in Sherman's room, and Sherman came into the bathroom and poured drinks on the door and told me to hurry up and get out of the room, as reporters were coming up to interview Arbutckle.

I wanted to go into the other room. They told me to go through the hallway, and in going through the hallway I asked where Fred Fischback was. He came to the door and I told him I was going down to the club and I would meet him down there. I didn't understand the object in rushing me out that way. I judge the time I left the room was between 3:30 and 4 p. m.

While I was in the room Arbutckle and Miss Rappe were sitting near each other and kidding one another. Miss Rappe was drinking gin and orange juice. The party was drinking considerable liquor. There was considerable noise, but I heard no screaming.

During the time I was in the room Arbutckle was dressing. He was wearing pajamas, and when the girls came in he put on a dressing robe.

Prettier Teeth Next Week

If you will now start this delightful test

This is to offer you a way to whiter teeth, cleaner, safer teeth. Such glistening teeth as millions now enjoy.

Any dealer named below will give you the means. Get it and watch the effects. See your teeth grow prettier—note how clean they feel.

Dentists everywhere advise this method. Millions of homes have adopted it. Try it this week, for your own sake. Learn what it means to you.

To remove the film Your teeth are coated with a dingy film. It is viscous—you can feel it with your tongue. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. It clouds the teeth and causes most tooth troubles.

The ordinary tooth paste does not effectively combat it, so the tooth brush has left much of it intact. As a result, teeth lose their luster. And, despite all brushing, tooth troubles have been constantly increasing.

The film is what discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Germ-breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Many other serious troubles are also traced to them.

Science combats it Dental science has long sought ways to combat that film. The ways have now been found. Able authorities have amply proved them. Leading dentists everywhere advise their daily use.

The methods are embodied in a new-day tooth paste—Pepsodent. It combats the film wherever it may linger. In this way it brings surprising results which one quickly sees. Over 5,000 new people daily are trying out this modern method.

Fights acids too Pepsodent brings three other effects which authorities now desire. It multiplies the salivary flow—Nature's great tooth-protecting agent. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise form acid.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is Nature's neutralizer for the acids which cause decay. Pepsin is also included.

Endorsed by authorities, advised by leading dentists everywhere, and supplied by all druggists in the large tubes.

Make a Free Ten-Day Test Simply present the coupon to Pepsodent PAT. OFF. REG. U.S.

The New-Day Dentifrice

1006 F St. N. W. N. E. Cor. 14th and F Sts. N. W. 909 F St. N. W. 13th and F Sts. N. W. 418 7th St. N. W. 425 G St. N. W. 1973 Penna. Ave. N. W. 1715 Penna. Ave. N. W.

7th and K Sts. N. W. 7th and E Sts. N. W. 14th and M Sts. N. W. 7th and M Sts. N. W. 8th and H Sts. N. E. 102 15th St. N. W. 1107 G St. N. W. 14th and Park Rd. N. W. 11st and M Sts. N. W. 18th and Columbia Rd. N. W. 653 Penna. Ave. S. E.

Peoples DRUG STORES

Free
This week only

Your dealer will give you a 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent if you present the coupon at any store named below.

Do this for your own sake—for your family's sake. Watch how your teeth improve. The delightful effects will very soon convince you what is best.

Every application of Pepsodent brings five distinct results. And modern authorities consider all of them essential.

Now a world method In many countries Pepsodent is fast displacing old tooth cleaning methods. Dental authorities the world over endorse it. Careful people must adopt it sooner or later, for old methods are not right. With them, tooth troubles and discolorations have become almost universal. A change must come, and now is the time to start it.

Quick changes come

The user of Pepsodent quickly feels conspicuous changes. One cannot doubt the benefits it brings.

Perhaps men who smoke see the most conspicuous effects. Their films are tobacco-stained.

Women see them in prettier teeth, for most film-coats are dingy.

But Pepsodent is most important to the children. Their teeth seem most subject to these film and starch attacks. Dentists advise that children use Pepsodent from the time the first tooth appears.

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Watch the other good effects, and read the reasons in the book we send.

This ten-day test will be a revelation. It may bring to your home a new era in teeth cleaning. And the benefits to you and yours may be life-long in extent. Cut out the coupon now. Present it today so you can start at once.

10-DAY TUBE FREE

Present this coupon, with your name and address filled in, to any store named. It is good for a 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent.

Your Name.....

Address.....

Out-of-town residents should mail this coupon to The Pepsodent Company, 1104 So. Wabash Avenue, Chicago, and the tube will be sent by mail.

Only one tube to a family.

Mr. Ford Owner!
When You Break a Spring of This Weight

Tell Your Service Man to "Go to Eberly's" For the Vulcan Spring Shown Below

This is the Extra Heavy Duty Spring Especially Needed on Sedans and Trucks

We Carry the Genuine VULCAN SPRINGS For 72 Different Autos and Auto Trucks

Axles and Drive Shafts For 55 of the leading automobiles and auto trucks are here, ready for instant delivery. Out-of-town phone orders given prompt attention.

Eberly's A. Eberly's Sons Co. Est'd 1849
718 Seventh St. N.W.
Wholesale Auto Accessories