

These are not Magic Pictures; they're doll cut-outs, the doll bodies to be cut out and mounted on cardboard and the dresses and hats used to deck these little Fairy Princesses of Childland in their royal raiment. Be sure not to let your scissors slip when you come to the flaps. They are useful in holding the dresses firmly to the body of the doll. The hats and crowns should be slit on dotted lines to let the hats fit over the hair.