THE Summer Quarter at the University
Begins July 1 and Continues 12 Weeks

Classes will be formed at the opening of the Summer Quarter at almost all stages of all subjects—elementary and advanced.

Teachers especially will find courses that will exactly meet their wants. The Summer Quarter brings together the brightest and most energetic educators. The atmosphere is charged with intellectual enthusiasm. It is an inspiration—a help that no ambitious teacher can afford to miss.

Students who cannot remain the full twelve weeks may stay one term (six weeks) or whatever portion of the quarter they desire.

The Summer Quarter is not a "summer school." It is an integral part of the University year. Summer Quarter work counts toward a degree the same as work in any other quarter. All departmentments will be in full operation.

In addition to the regular faculty, eminent specialists from other institutions will lecture.

Tuition is free to West Virginians. Expenses for the entire twelve weeks, including board, may be made less than $50.

Students attending the Summer Quarter may continue their work by correspondence, if they desire. Catalogue free; write to JEROME H. RAYMOND, President, Morgantown, W. Va.

CRAZY KING LUDWIG.
PATTI ONCE THREW HIM INTO A FRENZY OF MADNESS.

He Frightened and Enraged the Great Diva by His Strange Whims, and When She Finally Sang For Him It Drove Him Wild.

When Patti was in the first heyday of her fame, Ludwig II, the mad king of Bavaria, set his heart on having her sing for him at his private auditorium in Munich. He wrote her after letters, begging, imploring, offering extravagant sums of money, but Patti resolutely refused to go. She had heard too many stories of Ludwig's freaks, his curses and his unreasoning commands, and she was desperately afraid of him.

But at last the king offered her a sum so enormous that it seemed ridiculous to refuse it. Then the singer plucked up courage and started for Munich. When she and her maid alighted at the station, not even a carriage was there to meet them, and they had to inquire the name of the best hotel and call a cab like any ordinary travelers. That was the first shock to the diva's nerves and temper. After luncheon she started out to see the town and incidentally to examine the posters announcing the great honor conferred upon the citizens of Munich by a visit from Europe's greatest singer. Not a mention of her name could she find in the town. She rushed back to the hotel and told her maid to pack the trunk.

Just at that moment a resplendent officer was announced. He saluted her and delivered a letter from the king. The letter stated curtly that his majesty would await her at 7 o'clock precisely in the Royal palace, where his singer in ordinary. Mme. Fischer would give her further directions. Mme. Fischer would also sing with Mme. Patti the duets which his majesty wished to hear. A programme was inclosed. Patti burst into tears of rage.

"I have never been treated so brutally," she said. "I shall leave at once. Tell the king so. I will not sing—never, never!" The officer pleaded with the irate prima donna. She must not disappoint the king. His majesty had been wild with excitement ever since he knew she would come and had not slept for three nights, so great was his joy at the prospect of hearing her.

"Besties," added the officer. "You know our king, and you know how he loves you. He will not let you go. You must sing." "Crazy," snapped Patti. "Yes, that's very comforting, isn't it? I don't know why I ever came." Just then she caught sight of a postscript she had not read:—"The king commands that you appear in pure white, without any color whatever, and not by any means to wear a satin gown, but soft wool. Silk is painful to his majesty."

"His majesty will have to be pained. I have no white woolen gown except my peignoir. Go, tell the king I shall wear red velvet."

"Red!" groaned the officer. "Oh, no, no! Red sends his majesty into fits. If you appear in red, he will scream and have convulsions. Oh, do be patient, madame! I will bring Mme. Fischer to
