THE BOAT RACE—The much-talked-of boat race between John Hagner, of North Wheeling, and Mahlon Kennedy, of Benwood, came off Saturday evening. People had somehow got the idea into their heads that 2 o'clock was the hour the boats were to start, and by that time, the shore was lined with persons of all ages, sexes, colors, and conditions. This was not only the case on this side of the river, and near the starting point, (the south end of the island) but was the fact, we are told, on the Ohio shore and almost throughout the entire distance to be rowed, (two miles.) Hagner made his headquarters at a boat moored at the foot of the island; Kennedy had his craft and himself on a barge lying in the river just below the ferry landing on this side. Numbers of skiff, did a brisk business in conveying persons from this shore to the boat on which Hagner and his friends were located.

ACCIDENT NEAR FULTON—A large heavy wagon loaded with stone, which was being drawn by four horses, met with an accident near Fulton, Saturday morning. While crossing a small bridge over Marshall's coal bank, the structure gave way, precipitating team, wagon, and driver, into a ravine, fully twenty-five feet below. All the horses were hurt more or less, one of them, so seriously that he will probably not recover. The wagon was literally crushed to splinters. Inexplicable as it may seem, the driver, who went down with the wreck, escaped without a scratch. The wagon and horses belonged to a man named Schwartz. We did not hear the driver's name.

BEHIND TIME—The passenger train on the Baltimore & Ohio road due here yesterday morning at 2 o'clock did not arrive until nearly 10; and the one due at noon came in about 6 in the evening. The detention was caused by an accident on the seventeen mile grade, Saturday evening.

As two trains were coming up the grade, five cars loaded with railroad iron became detached from the one in advance, and, although two brakemen were on them, they ran back and collided with the train following. The destruction of the locomotive and a portion of the train it was drawing was pretty complete, while the colliding cars were well high annihilated. The engineer, Thos. Hackett (we believe that is his name) had both legs broken. We did not hear of any other person being injured. The brakemen mentioned jumped off when they saw a collision was inevitable, and fortunately escaped being hurt. Passengers, mails, baggage and express matter had to be transferred at that point yesterday. Accidents on this division of this road have been very frequent of late. The loss of property has been immense. We have heard it estimated within the last month at $250,000.

TILL THEY CAPTURED—Saturday evening, a little boy seven or eight years old slipped into Charley Beiler's ice cream saloon while Charley was talking on the pavement to a gentleman, and in a minute or two was seen to rush out and take up Market Street at the top of his speed. It occurred to Mr. B. that everything was not right, and going inside, discovered that his money drawer had been opened and his cash contents abstracted. He at once gave chase, and next Union Street caught the juvenile thief. Compelling the young rascal to disclose Mr. B. turned him over to Judge Johnson for further proceedings. The money having been recovered, and the extreme youth of the offender being taken into consideration, it was thought best, under the circumstances, to let him off this time. His next offence will receive the full punishment the law inflicts, and he was given to understand the fact.

J. H. STALLMAN & Co.—We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of this firm, which appears in another column. Messrs. S. & Co. have for years stood in the very front rank of the merchant-tailoring business in this city, and they now offer their friends and the public one of the largest and finest stocks of such goods as are usually found in establishments engaged in their particular trade, from which to select. They propose to sustain the reputation of the house for quality, fitting, and reasonable prices. Employing only the best workmen, the utmost confidence may be placed in every article manufactured by this house. We trust no one who is contemplating the purchase of an outfit for winter will close a bargain unless he has looked through the stock of Messrs. S. & Co., and put himself on their figures. Give them a call if you will.
