THE QUESTION OF ADDRESS.
Full Text of the Protest from an English Bishop Against the Action of the Dean of Canterbury.

The action of the Dean of Canterbury in taking part in the celebration of the Lord's Supper at the Madison-square Presbyterian Church, New York, on Sunday, the 5th inst., has caused some discussion among members of the Anglican and Protestant Episcopal Churches, and the following letters have been written to the Dean, and to Bishop Potter of this diocese, by the Right Rev. Dr. Tozer, late missionary bishop of Central Africa, as already stated in our dispatches.

To the Very Rev. Dean of Canterbury: I, Very Reverend and Dear Sir, have thought it right to address a letter to you, as the Bishop of New York, (a copy of which I now have the honor to inclose) respecting the part you are reported to have taken, last Sunday, in the communion service at Dr. Adams' Presbyterian Church. I beg you to believe that I have endeavored to avoid all expressions that could cause unnecessary annoyance, and I am anxious that the intimation of what I have done, under a painful sense of duty, should first come to you from myself.

You will give me credit, I am sure, for having undertaken so ungenerous a task very reluctantly, and you will permit me to add, that nothing short of the high office which I so unworthily fill could have induced me to pass a reflection on any course which you might have thought well to pursue. The entering into communication with the Bishop of Canterbury, respecting the conduct of one so eminent and justly esteemed as yourself, is a matter of such gravity, that I propose submitting what I have done to the judgment of his Grace, the Archbishop of Canterbury.

With every expression of respect, believe me to be, Very Reverend and Dear Sir, your faithful and very obedient servant, WILLIAM GEORGE TOZER, Late Missionary Bishop of Zanibar, 119 East 23d St., New York, Oct. 8, 1873.

My Lord Bishop: I have just read with deep concern this morning's papers, that an eminent person, now staying in New York, on the occasion of a meeting of the Evangelical Alliance, has so far forgotten what, in his humble judgment, is due to you, as the Bishop of this diocese, and what is due to himself as a dignitary of the Anglican Church, as to offend the ministers of various denominations in a communion service which differed materially from that of the English and American Prayer-books.

Your Lordship is aware that the Dean of Canterbury is many years my senior, that he is conspicuous for talents and learning of no ordinary kind, that he is the Cathedral of England which places him in the forefront of our English clergy. Under ordinary circumstances, these considerations would have made it impossible for so insignificant a person as myself to criticize the conduct of one so learned and so venerable. I feel that the Dean of Canterbury's co-operation in the service to which I refer is not merely startling from its very novelty, but that it is fraught with possible consequences which, if realized, Dr. Payne Smith would be the first to deplore. [And this feeling of mine is also that, I repeat, the Dean of Canterbury's part in the so-called Evangelical section of the Church in New York.]

I am glad to assure you that, amid various causes of anxiety in the Church of England, we have never had occasion as yet to lament a breach of ecclesiastical order so grave as this which the Dean of Canterbury has committed in your diocese.

Dr. Smith's motives for participating in the communion services on Sunday afternoon, in the Presbyterian Church of Madison Square, were doubtless innocent of any personal discourtesy to yourself, and I can understand the strong yearning which so good and amiable a man feels for minimizing the differences that exist between himself and the many christian communities who are, also estranged from the doctrine and fellowship of his own church. But I cannot help observing that it would have been a more courteous, and I may add, a far more significant line of action, had the Dean inaugurated this irregular venture for the promotion of christian unity in his own cathedral city, where at least, its influence would have been great, and where it could not have escaped the notice of those under whose authority even cathedral dignitaries are placed.

It is by no means improbable that restless and unstable persons in England will seize upon this affair of what I must presume to call open hostility to the discipline of the Church as an excuse and apology for attending, from time to time, the attractive services of the Church of Rome. But the result of this experiment here in America may be even more disastrous, for so far as Dr. Smith's influence extends, it will suggest the idea that the promise held out by the Episcopal Church in this land, of becoming a haven of rest to men who are tossed and so by the multiplicity of contending creeds and systems, is nothing else than a mistake and a delusion.

That the Church over which you preside may be blessed and strengthened in that work which she so marvelously setting herself to accomplish, and with every feeling of reverence, as well for yourself as for the high and responsible office which you adorn, believe me to be, &c., &c., my Lord Bishop, &c., &c.

Your faithful and affectionate brother, WILLIAM GEORGE TOZER, Late Missionary Bishop of Zanibar, New York, Oct. 6, 1873.

Consecration of the Diocese of Wheeling to the Sacred Heart.
The Baltimore American says that Archbishop Bayley has just been giving to the clergy of his archdiocese instructions in reference to the consecration of the Archdiocese of Jesus on Sunday, the 19th instant. The Archdiocese of Baltimore, as our readers know, included the diocese of Wheeling. The Archbishop has prepared the following form of consecration, which is to be read on the occasion of the formal consecration:

"Solemn Consecration of the Archdiocese of Baltimore to the Sacred Heart of Jesus, on the Feast of the Most Holy Trinity, Sunday, 19th October, 1873."
"O most amiable and adorable Heart of Jesus! O Heart infinitely compassionate and merciful! our refuge in all dangers, our hope in all trials, our comfort and consolation in all sorrows! behold us humbly prostrate before Thee, to implore Thy mercy, to claim Thy protection, and to offer ourselves entirely to Thee. Thou seest the dangers that surround us, the powers of darkness we are assailing, Thy holy church and against us. Thy unworthy but devoted servants. They have laid waste Thy churches, they have overturned Thy altars, they have persecuted those that love and honor Thy Sacred Name. And now they glory in the fact that they have triumphed over Thee and Thy church, and have destroyed Thy worship from the face of the earth. But Thou art Almighty, and who shall resist Thee? Thou wilt arise in Thy power, and Thy enemies shall perish from before Thy face. Thou wilt command the winds and the waves, and there shall be a great calm."

"Animated with this confidence in Thy power and Thy love, O Divine Heart! we present our supplications on this day of our solemn consecration, to Thee. Deign to receive our offering, unworthy as it is, and grant our prayer for the Church and for this Diocese, which now solemnly dedicates itself to Thy honor. O merciful Heart! ever open to admit us into Thy sacred and secure asylum, we, Thy servants, desiring to give Thee a proof of our devotion and to receive from Thee the assistance and protection which we need in these calamitous times, we, the Church, for the Holy See, and for ourselves, do, on this day, publicly and solemnly consecrate ourselves entirely to Thee; our thoughts, our words, our actions, our thoughts, words, actions, and sufferings. We pledge ourselves to Thee as Thy devoted servants forever. We consecrate to Thee our persons, our houses, our missions, our congregations, and all those for whose spiritual or temporal good we labor in Thy service: that Thy spirit may reign over them, Thy grace sanctify them, and make them at all times pleasing in Thy sight. O sweet and adorable Heart of Jesus, accept this consecration which we offer, inflame it with Thy divine love, that it may descend before Thee in an odor of sweetness, and that, united with Thy infinite merits, it may bring down upon us, upon Thy holy Church, upon our holy father, our most afflicted Pontiff Pius IX, and upon all the members of our congregations, missions, schools, colleges, and religious houses, the heavenly showers of Thy blessings, the rich treasures which Thou hast promised to those who would honor Thee. Thy prayers, Thy servants, the shield of Thy protection, guard us against the malice of the wicked, who hate Thy Church because it is Thine, and persecute us because we love Thy holy name, and defend Thy honor. Let us find in Thee our refuge, our consolation, our hope. Be Thou our support in life, our confidence in death, our eternal enjoyment in heaven. Amen."

Troops of Ailments Vanquished.
On account of the promissiveness with which it checks the fever generated by biliousness, cholera, dysentery, and other ailments, the medicinal family medicine on the borders of our continent, known as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, is now being sold in large quantities in this city. It is not only a remedy for the ailments of the stomach, but also for the ailments of the liver, and the bowels—such as heartburn, headache, flatulence, indigestion, and other ailments. It is a general failure of all the powers of the system, and it is at once corrected—as they always may, by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Facts for the People.
As the virtues of medicine can only be ascertained by careful observation, it is to be regretted that many of the drugs still prescribed by some physicians about relate a place in our Materia Medica. As an instance of this, that vile drug, Balsam Capivi, furnishes an example. It is a medicine of the most disgusting nature, and it is found where the disease originated. Under this impression, Balsam Capivi came into use, but never has a successful drug done more injury, for it not only changes the nature of the disease to a more dreadful state than the original, but it also brings on dyspepsia in its worst form. To avoid this drug and its effects the SAMARITAN PILLS, purely vegetable remedy, is within the reach of all. Only ten pills to be taken, and will cure every time in from two to four days. Price, 25c. Sold by all druggists.

"OUT DAMNED SPOT!"—The energetic exclamation of Macbeth is mentally ejaculated by every housewife when confronted by the manifold variety of stains and spots that disfigure articles of household ornament and use. But the "Spots" are not so easy to remove by ordinary means. A little Sapolio brought into timely use causes them all to disappear as if by magic, and brings peace and satisfaction to the housewife's mind. As cheap as common soap and a hundred times more effective.

Troops of Ailments Vanquished.
On account of the promissiveness with which it checks the fever generated by biliousness, cholera, dysentery, and other ailments, the medicinal family medicine on the borders of our continent, known as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, is now being sold in large quantities in this city. It is not only a remedy for the ailments of the stomach, but also for the ailments of the liver, and the bowels—such as heartburn, headache, flatulence, indigestion, and other ailments. It is a general failure of all the powers of the system, and it is at once corrected—as they always may, by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Facts for the People.
As the virtues of medicine can only be ascertained by careful observation, it is to be regretted that many of the drugs still prescribed by some physicians about relate a place in our Materia Medica. As an instance of this, that vile drug, Balsam Capivi, furnishes an example. It is a medicine of the most disgusting nature, and it is found where the disease originated. Under this impression, Balsam Capivi came into use, but never has a successful drug done more injury, for it not only changes the nature of the disease to a more dreadful state than the original, but it also brings on dyspepsia in its worst form. To avoid this drug and its effects the SAMARITAN PILLS, purely vegetable remedy, is within the reach of all. Only ten pills to be taken, and will cure every time in from two to four days. Price, 25c. Sold by all druggists.

"OUT DAMNED SPOT!"—The energetic exclamation of Macbeth is mentally ejaculated by every housewife when confronted by the manifold variety of stains and spots that disfigure articles of household ornament and use. But the "Spots" are not so easy to remove by ordinary means. A little Sapolio brought into timely use causes them all to disappear as if by magic, and brings peace and satisfaction to the housewife's mind. As cheap as common soap and a hundred times more effective.
