SENATE.

WASHINGTON, March 3. Upon the assembling of the Senate to-day, the call for morning business was dispensed with, and by unanimous consent the consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill was resumed.

The amendment of the Committee on Appropriations to the bill, making the principal and interest on the 3-65 bonds issued under the act of June 30, 1874, for the government of the District of Columbia payable in gold, was struck out.

The Committee reported an amendment repealing so much of the sundry civil appropriation bill for the year ending June 30, 1875, as requires the payment of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company of the cost of surveying and conveying the lands granted to the company, but the Senate refused to concur in the amendment.

The Committee reported in favor of striking out the clause appropriating $50,000 for the purchase of Gatling guns for the army and navy, but the Senate refused to strike it out. Yeas 10, nays 21.

The amendment of the Committee to strike out the appropriation of $5,000 for the purchase of land for a military cemetery, in Elmira, New York, and striking out the appropriation to pay contestants for seats in the House of Representatives, and appropriating $50,000 for the payment of bounties to sailors and marines under the existing laws, was rejected. Yeas 10, nays 21.

The Committee reported an amendment striking out the clause appropriating $50,000 for continuing the publication of the official records of the war of the rebellion, both of the Union and Confederate armies, and striking out the amendment to the act of June 22, 1874, for the purchase of land for a military cemetery, in Elmira, New York, and striking out the appropriation to pay contestants for seats in the House of Representatives, and appropriating $50,000 for the payment of bounties to sailors and marines under the existing laws, was rejected. Yeas 10, nays 21.

employees whose compensation was reduced under the eight hour law. Mr. Garfield made a point of order on the amendment but the point was overruled. The amendment was rejected.

Mr. Roberts—I desire to know whether under that arrangement the Colorado and New Mexico bills could not be passed by a majority vote.

Mr. Cossens—If the gentleman from New York does not want the Colorado and New Mexico bills passed four-fifths of his political friends do, and he wants to stand in the way of a majority of the House.

Mr. Randall demanded the yeas and nays on Mr. Butler's motion, the main subject of which was to pass the Colorado and New Mexico bills. The motion was rejected. Yeas 145, nays 83; not the necessary two-thirds.

Mr. Roberts moved that the rules be suspended and that the House do now proceed to the consideration of the bill on the Speaker's table in the order following: The Civil Rights bill to the Judiciary Committee and leaving all the points of order in force, and that no bill be passed except by unanimous consent or a two-thirds vote, and that if asked for a four minutes debate will be allowed on any bill. On motion was agreed without decision.

The House proceeded to that business, the Speaker proceeded to entertain requests for unanimous consent, and accordingly a large number of such requests were made, but were generally met with objections.

Mr. Cossens interposed and insisted on the regular order.

The House proceeded to the business on the Speaker's table and disposed of a number of bills.

The next two bills on the calendar were those for the admission of Colorado and New Mexico as States. The vote on the first was 164 yeas to 70 nays, so that the bill was passed by the necessary two-thirds vote, and now goes to the President for his approval.
