We reached M, just as everybody else on the train did—and as others will, we presume, for years yet to come. We marched in procession, in a guaceful and dignidied manner, through the classic avenues of the Mound City, past the new Court House—the pride and glory of this farfamed town—and out into the suburbs.
The beauffully located camp ground soon appears in view, and after a briak walk we are resting beneath the refreshing shadows of its grand old trees.

The tented, grove so dear to the Methodistic heart of Wheeling and Moundaville, never looked more attractive or enjoyable than this year, and no doubt it will be frequented by vast multitudes of our citizens during the continuance of the camp meeting in August. Indeed, quite a large or number of families from our city and its suburbs will spend a good portion of the heated term in their cool and coay cottages beneath the broad shades of those beautiful poplars and

The late lively storms paid some attention to the grounds as they swent by in their mad race. Quite a number of large limbs were torn from some of the lofty poplars and blown down on the roofs of the cottages beneath. No very serious damage was done, however, and as the old saw puts it, "it might have been worse." damage was done, noweer, and as the old saw puts it, "it might have been worse." It had the effect of opening the eyes of the officials to the fact that many of the tallest poplars needed topping and triu-ming in order to insure the safety of the neat summer homes beneath their shad-

The official body known as the "Camp Maeting Association" assembled in the preachers' stand at 10 A. Mr., with Rev. D. H. K. Dix, of Triadelphia, presiding. A short devotional service was held and business proceeded with. While the hrethren are arranging the preliminaries it us look over the faces assembled and see if we know anybody present. The literature is good. There are ministers and laymen from all points in the Wheeling District. Among the former we notice the familiar lineaments of Rev. W. C. Wison, the new and popular Presiding Elder, Rev. D. H. K. Dix, mentioned above as President; Rev. C. Connor, of Benwood; Rev. J. P. Thatcher, of Liberty, and Revs. T. B. D. Prickett, A. J. Lyda, and Geo. C. Wilding, of this city. The laymen present are too numerous to mention in detail.

The official report of last year's camp meeting revealed the gratifying fact that it bad been a genuine success financially as well as apritually and socially. The standing debt had been reduced fully $600, placing the Association in a good healthy enablition. Everybody likes to patronize a success. The grounds and roads and seats are to be put in the very best of order before the appointed day rolls from d. Quite a lively discussion was had over the rate of license for conveyances to carry passengers to and from the grounds. Last year's scale was finally adopted, viz, $150 per horse. The price of tents was fixed at rates ranging from $100 to $10 00. The boarding house manager was limited to moderate figures in his charges for meals and sleeping accommodations. Arrangements have been consummated to have a good religious hook store on the grounds throughout the season of the come meeting where books ances to carry passengers to and from the grounds. Last year's scale was finally meals and sleeping accommodations. Arrangements have been consummated to lave a good religious hook store on the grounds throughout the season of the camp meeting, where books and periodicals may be purchased by the staid camp-meetinger of a literary turn of mind. A postofilee will be one of the attendant benedictions of the book store, where letters may be posted for all parts of the civilized world, and where all letters addressed to the camp ground will be carefully delivered. The Association adjourned to meet again on the second Tuesday in August at 9 A. M.

We learn that quite a number of distinguished workers have been invited to be present to assist in making this year's meeting a glorious success. Among the number may be named Rev. Mr. Wells, of the Cinetinnati Conference, Rev. Mr. Morris, of Baltimore, Rev. John Thompson, of Philadelphia, Chaplain McCabe, Bishop Matthew Simpson and last, but not least by any means, our own Doctor and Mrs. J. McKendree Reiley. Some of these great lights will undoubtedly make the camp ground luminous with their brilliancy and unction.

We noticed some of the industrions denizens of the noted Patrick's home clearing off the camp ground for the purpose of holding a national celebration thereon to-morrow. As we wended our way leisurely to the villa in search of some of the substantials of life to refresh the inner man, we met your finished and famous Moundsvilles correspondent with an axe upon his shoulder, sweeping with tremendous strides toward the grounds to bear a part in clearing away the fallen inther, as he is to-morrow to pronounce the immortal "Declaration." He boro himself like a vertiable yeoman.

We restend hone refreshed and invige.

A Superb Blood Depurent. Upon the action of the kidneys, bladder and howels depends the depuration of the slood. It is by promoting the activity of hese organs that Hostetter's Stomach Bitthese organs that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters ensures purity to the circulation. In its passage through the kidneys, inpurities which beget rheomatism, gout, and gravel are strained from the blood, but when those small but all important organs grow inscituce, these impurities of course remain, and inevitably produce the diseases mentioned. Hostetter's Bitters rouse the kidneys to renewed activity, by which means the blood is depurated. It likewise purities the blood when contaminated with bile by promoting a gentle but effectual action of the bowels, and has the further effect of regulating the action of the liver, thus counteracting a tendency to biliousness. Dyspepsia, malarial fevers and urinary complaints are also conquered by it. eod

FOR THE CURE OF Hepatitis or Liver Complaint, DYSPERSIA AND SICK HEADACHE.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver. AIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on presure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder-blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for a rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alterative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, beavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every rem-

The streets of the better portions of the town, where rich people live, are a silent and stony desert. The house fronts are closed, and as grim as the tombs of the Pharaolas. In the poorer parts of the city, say along the wards of our own east side, there is more life. At all times of day knots of languid men and women lounge in the shade. Slatternly and dirty children, ragged and half naked, warm on the sidewalks. The sunlight rains hotly down into a street noisome with the refuse of poor kitchens. Indescribable smella arise on every hand. Everybody is swellering in suffering silence, and the only sign of activity is the appearance of the huckster who drags his unwholesome load of gardenstuff through the better the well is the left of the proper to the huckster who drags his unwholesome load of gardenstuff through wrappers.
