

The Intelligencer.

No Selection of a Capital as Yet Probable.

The news this morning, or rather at the hour at which we write, is not indicative of the result of Tuesday's election on the Capital question. There is a very fair prospect, as we figure on the returns received, that no selection has been made, and that another vote will have to be taken in October, 1878.

To this add 10 per cent of the vote in the First and Second Districts at least 50 per cent of the vote has been polled. The vote of the two districts last year was 66,750, and 50 per cent of it is 33,375.

The fall vote of the Third District is 33,000. We allow that 75 per cent of it has been polled, which would be 24,750.

To this add 10 per cent of the vote in the 1st and 2d districts, say 6,500, and still Charleston lacks over 2,000 of a majority in the State. The returns from Mason county indicate that not more than 50 per cent of the vote of that county was cast.

As showing what is thought of the probabilities of the returns at Charleston, we append the following despatch from Mr. John Bassell, of that place, who is in a position, by a free use of the wires yesterday, to form an intelligent opinion.

CLARKSBURG, August 8--9:30 P. M. The majority for Clarksburg in Doddridge county is 1,550, in Lewis 1,000, Barbour not heard from, Upshur 400.

Unless the natural order of things is very much reversed all through the Third District--as, for instance, in Kanawha county, where they return over 6,000 votes--our allowance of 75 per cent of the vote of last year will prove ample.

It is notorious that outside of two or three counties in the Third District nobody manifests any special concern in the Capital question. At Charleston, where there is a corner lot ring who expect to make money out of the Capital, a great clamor has been raised, and committees of the most multitudinous character have been appointed, whose special business it has been to see that nobody in Kanawha county was asked any impertinent or embarrassing questions at the polls on Tuesday.

Western Union Telegraph. They do get up the most absurd stories in Wall and Broad streets, and the Graphic seems to be their favorite organ. The idea that Jay Gould and Vanderbilt are joined in a stock alliance on Western Union and New York Central need not be believed for a moment, except by those who are contending for the championship of idiocy.

THE WAR IN EUROPE. The New York papers furnish some fuller details than those received by telegraph in regard to the battle of Plevna, whereas the Russians experienced a miscarriage in the plan of their campaign.

As to the cause of the defeat, it is clear that the Russians underestimated three important points--the value to the Turks of time, the numbers which could be brought against them, and the fighting energy of inferior troops on their own soil, armed with American weapons.

Drumming up a Strike. PETERSBURG, August 8.--At Mahoney City this morning, a number of men and boys entered the telegraph office to get up a meeting and start a strike at the mines. Being on the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad property they were requested to leave, and not doing so were expelled.

THE CAPITAL VOTE.

Additional Returns.

MOUNDSVILLE, August 8, 1877. The election passed off very quietly at this place yesterday. There seemed to be scarcely any interest at all manifested. A very light vote was polled. The vote at the two voting precincts was as follows: For Superintendent of Schools--W. M. Wirt, 176; F. H. Pipes, 168.

TAYLOR COUNTY. We are indebted to Capt. Dillon, of the steamer Photon, for returns from Tyler County: Clarksburg, 194; Charleston, 35; Martinsburg, 2.

MONONGALIA COUNTY. MORGANTOWN, August 8. The county of Monongalia gives about 600 majority for Clarksburg.

HOBOCK COUNTY. LAGRANGE, O., August 8. Full returns of the vote of Brooke county give Clarksburg, 655; Martinsburg, 40; Charleston, 31; For Railroad Subscription, 416; against, 326.

MORGAN COUNTY. HANCOCK STATION, August 8. Alpine precinct gives Martinsburg, 15, Clarksburg, 7.

Meeting of the Conservative State Convention. RICHMOND, Va., August 8.--The Virginia Conservative Convention met at noon in the Theatre here, and owing to an indiscriminate issue of admission tickets or otherwise, that part of the building set apart for the delegates, was overcrowded by outsiders that when an effort was made to call the Convention to order, with a view of preserving organization, it proved a failure.

A Deliberate Assassination. SAN FRANCISCO, August 8.--The Currier held an inquest this evening on the body of Daily. Hanks declined to testify. All the evidence of the eye witnesses went to show that the act was a deliberate assassination, and the jury found the defendant guilty of murder.

Marine Intelligence. NEW YORK, August 8.--Arrived--Steamship Canada from Havre, Abyssinia from Liverpool; and Hamburg from Hamburg. The steamship Denmark has been ordered to be seized on her arrival from Liverpool, the charge being the smuggling of over $200,000 worth of goods, principally silk, by her officers and crew.

What They Want. MEMPHIS, August 8.--The Chamber of Commerce last evening appointed a committee to memorialize the Secretary of War to place four or more iron boats of light draft, to work in the Arkansas river, to remove snags which have wrecked so many boats during the past season.

Fire Record. AYLOR, O., August 8.--A fire this morning in the business portion of the town destroyed several buildings, including the Commercial Hotel, A. Murry's store, Hambridge's bakery and confectionery store, Gundry Bros' drug store, White's general furnishing store, Wright's bakery and Farthing's drug store.

A Splendid Review. WASHINGTON, August 8.--There was a fine review of the sailors and marines at the Navy Yard this afternoon, which was attended by the President and Cabinet and many persons of prominence in military and naval circles. The President was greeted with a salute by the Swatara
