A COLD WAVE COMING—A scientist figures up that the next cold wave is due at the end of the present year and very frigid weather may be looked for. RETURNED HOME.—Mr. Lewis Hess of Fulton, who has been traveling with his brother, the magician, returned home a few days since.

First Over the River.—The dwelling house lately occupied by John Fleischner and wife, on the hill just back of Kirkwood, and immediately opposite this city, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday morning. The precise origin of the fire is unknown, but suspicion points strong-ly to incendiarism, from the following circumstances: Some time ago Mrs. Fleischner entered suit against her husband, in the Belmont County Courts, for divorce and allimony, and was successful, being granted a divorce and judgment for $3,000 alimony. Soon after this the property, consisting of a frame dwelling house and fifty-five acres of land, was appraised at $3,000, to be sold under the judgment, and was put up at public sale, but there being no bidders it was withdrawn and a re-appraisement ordered. The second appraisement placed the valuation of the property at $5,000.

On Tuesday the property was sold at commissioner's sale, for $3,550, the divorced wife being the purchaser. It is alleged that Fleischner, who was the sole occupant of the house at the time of the fire, declared when he heard that his ARRUAL DRESS BAIL OF "T. J.T." So-CHETY.—Last evening about one hundred persons, representing the site of the Jew-sha society of Wheeling, assembled in Meuhausen's Assembly Hall, to partici-pate in the feativities incident to the Inird annual dress ball of the "T. J.T." Society. The spacious rooms of Mr. Kenhausen were gally illuminated and beautifully decorated in anticipation of the event. Kramer's superb orchestra was on hand, to dispense the masic, and the members of the Society, who acted as a committee of the whole to receive their friends, exercised a general supervision, and nothing was left undone that could make the event one of memorable pleasmake the event one of memorable pleas-would never accuse him of the crime.

The house was worth about $3,000, and was uninsyred. Mrs. Felseshner called upon an insurance agent in Bridgeport on Tuesday and applied for a policy, and the papers were made out, but she changed her mind and withdrew the application. Later.—Since writing the above additional particulars of the fire have been received. It seems that Mr. Fred. Huseman, of this city, who had gone over the river to see Mr. Fleischner upon business, first discovered the flames. While Fred. was approaching the house, and about a Orr's HALL TEMPERANCE MEETING.—
Meeting No. 2, at Ott's Hall, was opened last night by singing "Let the Lower Lights be Burning," and Mr. Grubb reading the 12th Chapter of Romans, Prayer was then offered by G. W. Esggs. Mr. Grubb stated that he and the Rev. Jos. Gatchell, of Allegheny, Pa., had agreed to exchange places. He then proceeded to interest the andience, occupying the stand about a half an hour, during which time the Rev. Joseph Gatchell enrst discovered the flames. While Fred. as approaching the house, and about a the rooi was burning. In a field not far away Mr. Fleischner and two men were at work sorting potatoes, apparently entime the Rev. Joseph Gatchell en-tered the hall. Mr. Grubb bid the audience good-bye and reired. G. W. Baggs was the next speaker introduced, and entertained the audience in a short it work sorting potatoes, apparently en-lirely unconscious of the fact that the tirely unconacious of the fact that the building was on fire. Mr. Huseman rode hastily forward and called Fleischner's attention to the fire, when the latter remarked that it seemed as if all histrouble was coming at once.

The four men then went to work carrying out furniture and household articles, and succeeded in saving everything in the house. The doors and windows were also saved. No attempt was made to subdue the flanes, for the reason that there was no water on the premises. The room in which the fire originated, in the second story, was found locked. How it originated is a mystery. Bags was the next speak. Bags was the next speak and entertained the audience in a short but good speech. President Hiram Young then introduced Rev. Gatchell. He is a splendid talker; a pin could have been dropped and have been heard at any time during his remarks. This closed the meeting. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Gatchell. Meeting No. 3 will beheld to-night. There were seven signers to the pledge. Rev. Gatchell will talk again to-night.

Mr. Huseman also informs us that Mr. Huseman also informs us that Fleischner, after securing a divorce from his wife, married a girl who had been living at service in the family. He had been living with his second wife in the house since they were married, and she was alone in the building when the fire was first discovered. Mrs. Pleischner appeared entirely ignorant of the origin of the fire, and when asked by Mr. Huseman if there was any water on the premises, replied that there asked by Mr. Huseman if there was any water on the premises, replied that there wasn't, but they "might have had a cistern, and the house could have been saved, if so much mouey hadn't been spent for fice furniture." As the furniture had been purchased by the first Mrs. Fleischner it would seem that Mrs. Fleischner No. 2 intended by this remark to convey the idea that her predessor had been rather extravagant.
