THE MODEL SUBSCRIBER

"Good morning, Mr. Editor, how are the folks to-day? I have just received your issue of yesterday and I am glad to say that it is as good as ever. I have a few lines to write to you, and I will do so as soon as possible. I have a few lines to write to you, and I will do so as soon as possible. I have a few lines to write to you, and I will do so as soon as possible."

Uncle Billy Brown, the Sage of Preston County, Writes a Letter for Farmers and Other People.

I have been waiting for years for some person more interested in the welfare of the people than myself, to call the attention of our people to the subject in which we are all deeply interested. We all understand the financial embarrassments of the country, of which the people of Preston are the full share. It is not my intention to say a word in regard to the cause of the hardship under which we are laboring, but, if possible, to suggest a remedy by which our indebtedness may be liquidated in the shortest and easiest way.

Preston county has an area of nearly eight hundred square miles, well watered, with a mild and healthy climate, productive in all kinds of vegetation, and particularly so in oats and hay. The farmers used to make large profits in raising cattle for the eastern market, but since the Texas and Colorado beef has come in competition with ours, the profits are greatly lessened. But it seems to me that the loss occasioned by such competition can be more than supplied by raising sheep. The farmer of the county can, and ought to have, in the aggregate, not less than one hundred sheep, and should keep on their lands during the summer, and they ought to market one-third of that number every season. With such a stock of improved sheep on hand, the mutton and clips would soon put the people of Preston in easy and prosperous circumstances.

Could not the farmers call meetings in their respective school districts and get up earnest petitions to our Legislature to come out in this matter? It is not my intention to call the attention of our legislators to this matter, but, in many localities, there are more owners of dogs than sheep. Be this as it may, I think an earnest effort at this time would be respected by our Legislature, and some provisions would be made for the better security of both sheep and persons against vicious and worthless dogs.

By adopting the above suggestion, you might awaken a corresponding action in some of your sister counties, whose situation and wants are similar to yours. Many persons are listening to the siren voice of the demagogue, that Congress can and will bring us relief. Not so, Congress can only help us by legislating fairly and justly for all men—high, low, rich, and poor, without distinction of classes, sections, or parties—keeping good faith with other nations and with our own people. This done, come what will, the National honor will remain untarnished.

Nations, states, and municipalities are like individuals, if they lose their good name, they are poor indeed. A State or Government of any kind, that repudiates a debt, because it is strong enough to enforce its selfish desires, can never hope to command the respect of honest men, no more than can the highway robber.

The generous creditor can, and ought to aid his unfortunate debtor, and in this there will be no honor lost. My theory to get rid of our embarrassment is for the people to go to work—work with their heads and hands, work in the right direction, and they will soon take the whole country out of its indebtedness, and secure to themselves peace and plenty.

This accomplished, the Nation will take a new and vigorous start, not only in the development of her National resources, but in the accomplishment of the great purposes for which she was designed by the great and good men who brought her into existence.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

Wheeling Wholesale Market. OFFICE DAILY INTELLIGENCER, Wednesday, Jan. 2. Some activity was manifested in trade circles to-day—a welcome change from the apathy of yesterday. Flour—Demand for preparing for a new campaign, and it is hoped will develop an active and prosperous business in all departments of trade.

There is but little change in values. A. P. RICE—Business in good demand with Afrim market and rather tight supplies of prime to choice stock. We quote at $2 75 3 00 for prime to choice.
