BLACKBERRY JAM.—A Bind Horse in a Mardware Store.—Yesterday afternoon a wagon containing 20 buckets of blackberries, a white boy and a short edition of the 15th smendment, all drawn by a blind horse, started from the establishment of Berj. Rosenstein, on 12th street, between Main and Water streets, On Main street, near 14th, the horse took the bit in his teeth and started to run. The boys were tossed off the seat into the wagon, to enjoy themselves among the blackberries. In the rapid transit one wheel of the wagon caught round the telegraph pole steth and started to run. The boys were tossed off the seat into the wagon, to an order to transitione wheel of the wagon caught round the telegraph pole at Mr. Albert Franzell's coreer. The pole, the wagon and the harness proved all too strong for the horse and he was swung round violently and commenced pawing viciously the large show window in Mr. Franzell's store, smashing it to pieces and breaking a number of the articles therein and scattering the balance in dire confusion, also cutting his head and legs severely in the glaza. The wagon and horse, in fearful gyration, whirled round the pole three separate times, emptying the blackberries on the street in a rather confused mass. For a white there was infinite danger to passers by, who scarcely knew which way to turn for safety. Johnson, of the Leader, was there and made a frantic effort to avoid any entangling alliance with the spinning vehicle. Finally the horse fell, and whether Johnson's presence had any thing to do with the fall is yet under consideration, but anyhow the horse fell and the pole of the properties of the spinning vehicle. Finally the horse fell, and whether Johnson's presence had any thing to do with the fall is yet under consideration, but anyhow the horse fell and the pole of the properties of t and whether Johnson's presence had any-thing to do with the fall is yet under con-sideration, but anyhow the horse fell and his wild career terminated. Uncle Jake Snyder had his fine trotting horse stand-ing in front of his store door, and fearful of what might happen promptly hurried the animal into the store and thus kept him out of a dreadful mix. Strange to him out of a dreadful mix. Strange to say, the wagon was not much injured, but the boys had a nice time treading the purple juice out of the black berries. Mr. Johnson, the lighter and lifter and leader, has not reported any injury to his locomotives and we presume has suffered nothing beyond a bad scare, which he enjoyed in common with others who do not cumber so much ground.

He is now at work in the Eighth Ward, having commenced operations there two days since, and when he gets through with that ward will be done in the city. He tells us that, during the two days he has been working in the Eighth Ward, on Tuesday he found sixteem and on Wednesday seventeen families without Bibles.

Eighth Ward, on Tuesday he founds sixteen and on Wednesday seventeen families without Bibles.

Apropos of this, Rev. W. R. Long, the District Agent, has the following to say in regard to his work in the interior:

STORM AT MOUNDSVILLE. — A very severe storm passed over Moundsville yesterday afternoon, about half past two o'clock. In this city, at the time mentioned, there was only a slight sprinkle of rain. STORM AT MOUNDSVILLE. - A very PISCATORIAL.—The Jack-Bass Fishing Club went into camp at "The Forks" yesterday, where they were joined by the "Umbrella Brigade." As both parties are composed of prominent citizens, it is but just that we infer that their actions in a piscatorial line or otherwise be equally as prominent.
