who import him must be prepared to give up keeping fowls. Nearly every theatre, according to statistics, is doomed to destruction by fire.

New York papers are demanding filters of a cheap and efficient nature. "Fifty cents," says the New York Times, "ought to be enough for a filter to supply any single person with drinkable water."

The English branch of the order of St. John of Jerusalem has determined to establish a dispensary at Jerusalem for diseases of the eye on a site which at the request of the Prince of Wales has been assigned to it for that purpose by the Sultan.

The new disease, aphasia, from which Emerson suffered during the last days of his life, and with which Alcott, the Concorder, is reported as laboring, is the inability to remember the names of familiar objects or persons.

Col. Lew Weitzel left the following incident in President Lincoln's career, which he believes has never been made public before: "After the fall of Richmond and the flight of the confederate government, my brother Godfrey was placed in charge of the city. His headquarters were in the Capitol, and President Davis' cabinet-room was kept just as it was when last occupied by the confederate government."

Nothing is said about the men of such a settlement, but we may imagine that by this time they have begun to take some interest in the proceedings. They are not willing for the women to do it all, and they find ways to show that they have not entirely abdicated in favor of petticoat government.

Charles Laurent, one of Gambetta's closest friends, relates that the great Republic leader was sadly dissatisfied and disappointed when he was called upon to form a ministry. "I wanted," he said, "to make a Cabinet out of the four presidents—for with Freycinet, Ferry and Brisson we could have made a ministry representing all the real powers of Parliament."

Did it ever occur to the advocates of free trade that no nation has ever established a system of manufactures without a protective policy? If not, will you condescend to give a little attention to this historical fact and give it the weight which it is entitled to?

Our own dear, dingy Wheeling has passed the village stage—perhaps a City Improvement Association would make up to the level of our pride and make the city more presentable.

"Bill" Nye, of the Laramie Boomerang, has gone to Greeley, Colorado, for the benefit of his health, which is still in a precarious condition.

Ismail, the ex-Khedive, is going to live in England. He has purchased Caen Towers, Highbury, a luxurious mansion with twelve acres of ground, for $450,000.

Senator Veazie, of Missouri, a red-faced, wise and witty old boy, who hates frauds as much as any man I ever saw, and loves a drink, was approached by a suffrage-hungry female. "Great heavens!" said Veazie, "do you mean that?" "Yes," she answered. "Now, just think of it. Think of a man going home and kissing a Justice of the Peace, or telling a friend that he is in love with a Constable. It is dreadful!"

Dr. S. B. BERTMAN says: "As a rule physicians do not, by their professional services, build up the female constitution, while they should cure the diseases to which it is always liable in our variable climate and under our imperfect civilization. Special remedies are often required to restore organic harmony and strengthen the enfeebled power of womanhood, and for most of these we are indebted to persons outside of the medical profession. Among the very best of these remedies I assign a prominent place to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

More than 4,000 floral crowns were held around Gambetta's coffin in the Palais Bourbon, and a writer in Figaro estimates their value at $100,000. Paris and its environs produced them all, natural as well as artificial. It is reckoned that the daily sale of natural flowers in Paris reaches about $20,000.

Lori Norbury was celebrated equally for his wit and for his severity as a criminal judge. At one time as a Supreme Commissioner, appointed to try the culprits in one of the Irish rebellions, he had in the course of his sitting convicted a great many. "You are going on swimmingly here my lord," said counsel for the prisoners. "Yes," answered his lordship, "seven knots an hour."

They have a Pug Dog club in London. England spends annually $200,382 to maintain the pug family.

It is proposed to domesticate the Indian mongoose in Australia and New Zealand, in order to abate the plague of rabbits in those countries. The mongoose is a mortal foe to the rabbit, but it is even more destructive to poultry, and the farmers
