

DRY GOODS. AN ITEM. LADIES. Should Not Fail to Peruse, STUDY! For it has designs both on the TASTES and POCKETBOOK. IF YOU CONSULT THESE Important Interests, BENEFIT YOU. Do You Need A WRAP? A SEBENBACH & BRO., 104 MAIN STREET, Can do for You.

IF YOU DO, SEE WHAT A SEBENBACH & BRO., 104 MAIN STREET, Can do for You.

ALL WE ASK OF THE LADIES! Earnest Attention! DO YOU NEED A CHEAP WRAP FOR COMMON USE? Look at Our Costs and Cloaks for $2.50, 3.00, 4.00, 4.50, 5.00, 6.00 and 6.50.

Black and Light Cloths! And every competition in price and workmanship. Many styles have been introduced by us for the first time. We are excelled by no other house. Among them 110 PALETOT In Single and Double Breasted.

IN SATIN AND OTTOMAN We are making special prices; they are $15.00, 16.50, 18.00 And upwards, as grades become finer.

YOU ARE INTERESTED IN, Dress Goods! Look at these prices and compare: Field Dress Goods, 50c; Plain Dress Goods, 50c; Fancy Dress Goods, 50c; Fancy Dress Goods, 50c; Our Field Dress Goods, 50c.

Our Cashmeres are so Popular! That we need not mention them, yet give you a few prices: 86-inch all wool shadings 90c; 48-inch all wool shadings 60c; 48-inch all wool shadings 75c, 85c and 90c. Black Cashmeres included in above list of prices.

A PAIR OF WHITE Blankets, $1.75! Not made of the WASTE-FIT Cotton Fabric, but of soft, pure White Blanket, worth no less than $2.75! AND NEVER OFFERED FOR LESS. Better grades at equally low prices.

We Have Said Nothing of Our Domestic Goods, TABLE LINENS! In both White and Colors. For $1.00 a Yard. 56-INCH ALL WOOL LADIES' CLOTH! A GENUINE BARGAIN.

At the Opera House, complimentary to Prof. Malmon.

The concert given at the Opera House last night was certainly a success from an artistic point of view, and attracted a large audience.

CONCERT LAST NIGHT. At the Opera House, complimentary to Prof. Malmon.

The concert given at the Opera House last night was certainly a success from an artistic point of view, and attracted a large audience.

CONCERT LAST NIGHT. At the Opera House, complimentary to Prof. Malmon.

The concert given at the Opera House last night was certainly a success from an artistic point of view, and attracted a large audience.

CONCERT LAST NIGHT. At the Opera House, complimentary to Prof. Malmon.

The concert given at the Opera House last night was certainly a success from an artistic point of view, and attracted a large audience.

CONCERT LAST NIGHT. At the Opera House, complimentary to Prof. Malmon.

The concert given at the Opera House last night was certainly a success from an artistic point of view, and attracted a large audience.

CONCERT LAST NIGHT. At the Opera House, complimentary to Prof. Malmon.

The concert given at the Opera House last night was certainly a success from an artistic point of view, and attracted a large audience.

CONCERT LAST NIGHT. At the Opera House, complimentary to Prof. Malmon.

The concert given at the Opera House last night was certainly a success from an artistic point of view, and attracted a large audience.

CONCERT LAST NIGHT. At the Opera House, complimentary to Prof. Malmon.

The concert given at the Opera House last night was certainly a success from an artistic point of view, and attracted a large audience.

CONCERT LAST NIGHT. At the Opera House, complimentary to Prof. Malmon.

The concert given at the Opera House last night was certainly a success from an artistic point of view, and attracted a large audience.

CONCERT LAST NIGHT. At the Opera House, complimentary to Prof. Malmon.

NEW CLOAKS, NEW CLOAKS, NEW CLOAKS. NEW RUSSIAN CIRCULARS! New Russian Circulars, New Russian Circulars.

New Pelisses! NEW PELISSES, NEW PELISSES.

CHILDREN'S NEW HAYLOCKS, Children's New Haylocks, Children's New Haylocks.

OPEN THIS DAY. The above lines of NEW WRAPS.

BLUM & MARKS' Bazaar & Cloak House, 1106 Main Street.

DRS. SURGISON & SON, DENTISTS, No. 114 MARKET STREET, Wheeling, W. Va.

The Intelligencer. Office: Nos. 43 and 47 Fourteenth Street.

New Advertisements. Lost or Stolen—Grey Hound.

OUR Line of Men's and Boys' Overcoats and Underwear is again completed.

GROCEERS ATTENTION. We have just received by rail direct the first shipment of choice New Crop, 1883, Orleans Molasses received in Wheeling this season.

Thermometer Record. The following shows the range of the thermometer, as observed at our drug store, Opera House corner, yesterday:

WHEELING, D. C., November 21—3:30 a.m. For Tennessee and Ohio, fair weather, southerly breeze, light to moderate, with light to moderate temperature and lower to moderate.

Brief Notes on Current Events of Minor Interest.

Our marriage license was issued yesterday.

Electro lights will be put in the State House during the session of the Legislature.

Some of the Wheeling merchants have the idea of taking up a collection in this city to "do" the fences with advertisements, and some of them have gone so far as to send postal cards to people in this city asking for their consent.

Some time preparations have been made for the Christmas Street Sunday School to be held at the Opera House.

Some time preparations have been made for the Christmas Street Sunday School to be held at the Opera House.

Some time preparations have been made for the Christmas Street Sunday School to be held at the Opera House.

Some time preparations have been made for the Christmas Street Sunday School to be held at the Opera House.

Some time preparations have been made for the Christmas Street Sunday School to be held at the Opera House.

Some time preparations have been made for the Christmas Street Sunday School to be held at the Opera House.

Some time preparations have been made for the Christmas Street Sunday School to be held at the Opera House.

Some time preparations have been made for the Christmas Street Sunday School to be held at the Opera House.

Some time preparations have been made for the Christmas Street Sunday School to be held at the Opera House.

Some time preparations have been made for the Christmas Street Sunday School to be held at the Opera House.

Some time preparations have been made for the Christmas Street Sunday School to be held at the Opera House.

Some time preparations have been made for the Christmas Street Sunday School to be held at the Opera House.

PARALLEL CASE. TO THE ELM GROVE INJUNCTION. Text of the Decision in the Miller Case, at Mountsville, which Disposes of Two Important Points Involved in the Meadows Suit in this City—Title to the Street.

Last Tuesday morning the INTELLIGENCER printed the result of the suit of Charles Miller, of Mountsville, against the Ohio River Railroad, for the Marshall county Circuit Court, on an application for an injunction restraining the railroad company from constructing a track in front of the plaintiff's premises on Mechanic street, in Mountsville. As will be remembered, Judge Jacob refused the injunction prayed for, as some of the important points upon which the plaintiff relied in the similar suit of James Meadows against the Elm Grove Company are adjudicated in the decision in the Miller case, and the substance of it, with a history of the case, will be found below:

Simon B. Purdy, in 1831, being the owner of a tract of land, laid it off into lots and streets, and for the purpose of the same, in 1832 the General Assembly established the town, and appointed trustees for it. The plaintiff Miller became the owner of lot 10, on the street in front of his lot, and the defendant in this case, the Ohio River Railroad, through a chain of conveyances from Purdy, the original proprietor.

None of the deeds conveyed the lot on the street, nor is there any record of the fact that the lot is conveyed by its number. There is no dispute about the fact that Mechanic street has been dedicated to the public. Miller claims in his bill that he held the fee of title to the street in front of his lot to the center, by reason of his ownership of the abutting lot, and alleged that the railroad was about to lay its track along the center of the street, and that he was about to lay out a street in front of it which he claimed title, without his consent, and without making compensation to him.

The court held that as the railroad company had been authorized by law to lay its track along the street, such laying of the same could not be an obstruction and a public nuisance, but that the case would be decided on the question of the right to the center of the street.

The two important questions were: First—Whether the Ohio River Railroad, as a public utility, has the right to lay its track along the street, and second—Whether the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is an obstruction and a public nuisance.

The court held that the railroad company has the right to lay its track along the street, and that the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is not an obstruction and a public nuisance.

The court held that the railroad company has the right to lay its track along the street, and that the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is not an obstruction and a public nuisance.

The court held that the railroad company has the right to lay its track along the street, and that the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is not an obstruction and a public nuisance.

The court held that the railroad company has the right to lay its track along the street, and that the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is not an obstruction and a public nuisance.

The court held that the railroad company has the right to lay its track along the street, and that the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is not an obstruction and a public nuisance.

The court held that the railroad company has the right to lay its track along the street, and that the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is not an obstruction and a public nuisance.

The court held that the railroad company has the right to lay its track along the street, and that the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is not an obstruction and a public nuisance.

The court held that the railroad company has the right to lay its track along the street, and that the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is not an obstruction and a public nuisance.

The court held that the railroad company has the right to lay its track along the street, and that the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is not an obstruction and a public nuisance.

The court held that the railroad company has the right to lay its track along the street, and that the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is not an obstruction and a public nuisance.

The court held that the railroad company has the right to lay its track along the street, and that the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is not an obstruction and a public nuisance.

The court held that the railroad company has the right to lay its track along the street, and that the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is not an obstruction and a public nuisance.

The court held that the railroad company has the right to lay its track along the street, and that the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is not an obstruction and a public nuisance.

The court held that the railroad company has the right to lay its track along the street, and that the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is not an obstruction and a public nuisance.

The court held that the railroad company has the right to lay its track along the street, and that the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is not an obstruction and a public nuisance.

The court held that the railroad company has the right to lay its track along the street, and that the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is not an obstruction and a public nuisance.

The court held that the railroad company has the right to lay its track along the street, and that the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is not an obstruction and a public nuisance.

The court held that the railroad company has the right to lay its track along the street, and that the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is not an obstruction and a public nuisance.

The court held that the railroad company has the right to lay its track along the street, and that the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is not an obstruction and a public nuisance.

The court held that the railroad company has the right to lay its track along the street, and that the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is not an obstruction and a public nuisance.

The court held that the railroad company has the right to lay its track along the street, and that the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is not an obstruction and a public nuisance.

The court held that the railroad company has the right to lay its track along the street, and that the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is not an obstruction and a public nuisance.

The court held that the railroad company has the right to lay its track along the street, and that the laying of a railroad track along it, although done under legislative authority, is not an obstruction and a public nuisance.

FASHION AFTER ALL. Is Lovely Woman's Friend—What It Has Done for Her in the Way of Outfit Attire.

A great deal is said of fashion's follies, but it is a notable fact that fashion does some sensible things and is entitled to more credit than the gossamer. In the one matter of personal attire there has been a complete revolution. An intelligent man was talking the other day with Mr. Blum, of Blum & Marks, and he said: "You have the right idea about it. Who would have thought ten years ago—I will give five years ago—that any Wheeling house would have had ready-made garments as we have here?"

"Something, Mr. Blum, is due to the good of the world and the comfort of the individual, and to the improvement of the people."

"Assuredly, and if it were not so no Wheeling house would think of carrying a large and fine stock of ready-made garments."

"You have the right idea about it. Who would have thought ten years ago—I will give five years ago—that any Wheeling house would have had ready-made garments as we have here?"

"Something, Mr. Blum, is due to the good of the world and the comfort of the individual, and to the improvement of the people."

"Assuredly, and if it were not so no Wheeling house would think of carrying a large and fine stock of ready-made garments."

"You have the right idea about it. Who would have thought ten years ago—I will give five years ago—that any Wheeling house would have had ready-made garments as we have here?"

"Something, Mr. Blum, is due to the good of the world and the comfort of the individual, and to the improvement of the people."

"Assuredly, and if it were not so no Wheeling house would think of carrying a large and fine stock of ready-made garments."

"You have the right idea about it. Who would have thought ten years ago—I will give five years ago—that any Wheeling house would have had ready-made garments as we have here?"

"Something, Mr. Blum, is due to the good of the world and the comfort of the individual, and to the improvement of the people."

"Assuredly, and if it were not so no Wheeling house would think of carrying a large and fine stock of ready-made garments."

"You have the right idea about it. Who would have thought ten years ago—I will give five years ago—that any Wheeling house would have had ready-made garments as we have here?"

"Something, Mr. Blum, is due to the good of the world and the comfort of the individual, and to the improvement of the people."

"Assuredly, and if it were not so no Wheeling house would think of carrying a large and fine stock of ready-made garments."

"You have the right idea about it. Who would have thought ten years ago—I will give five years ago—that any Wheeling house would have had ready-made garments as we have here?"

"Something, Mr. Blum, is due to the good of the world and the comfort of the individual, and to the improvement of the people."

"Assuredly, and if it were not so no Wheeling house would think of carrying a large and fine stock of ready-made garments."

"You have the right idea about it. Who would have thought ten years ago—I will give five years ago—that any Wheeling house would have had ready-made garments as we have here?"

"Something, Mr. Blum, is due to the good of the world and the comfort of the individual, and to the improvement of the people."

"Assuredly, and if it were not so no Wheeling house would think of carrying a large and fine stock of ready-made garments."

"You have the right idea about it. Who would have thought ten years ago—I will give five years ago—that any Wheeling house would have had ready-made garments as we have here?"

"Something, Mr. Blum, is due to the good of the world and the comfort of the individual, and to the improvement of the people."

"Assuredly, and if it were not so no Wheeling house would think of carrying a large and fine stock of ready-made garments."

"You have the right idea about it. Who would have thought ten years ago—I will give five years ago—that any Wheeling house would have had ready-made garments as we have here?"

"Something, Mr. Blum, is due to the good of the world and the comfort of the individual, and to the improvement of the people."

"Assuredly, and if it were not so no Wheeling house would think of carrying a large and fine stock of ready-made garments."

"You have the right idea about it. Who would have thought ten years ago—I will give five years ago—that any Wheeling house would have had ready-made garments as we have here?"

STABBING AFFRAYS. AND OTHER MATTERS IN THE STATE.

At a very late hour, but full, and the wheels ran over one another, making it so that it is thought it will have to be amputated.

Measles, Kirbridge, and Richardson, of Martinsburg, were in town yesterday trying to get the best facts with regard to the story originating in the name of Mr. Kirbridge and others, killing a man some years ago for his money and burying the body in a well. The story, as it is remembered, was immediately denied, and now those who were most hurt by it are trying to fix its origin upon Dr. Martin, who had come here from that neighborhood just before.

The Point Pleasant Register says that a tin mine has been discovered near Glenwood, Mason county.

The "great and only young ladies' base ball club" is announced to play at Xenia, Ohio, on Saturday next.

Scarlet fever, according to the Parkersburg State Journal, is again broken out in that city and in some localities is very bad.

The McWolfe Progress complains that there is neither a church nor a school building in the town of Xenia, Ohio.

J. T. Hodgson, of Portland, Ohio, has during the week purchased and shipped to Pittsburgh 1,500 bushels of fancy potatoes. The retail price is 40 cents per bushel.

Last Tuesday night the newly erected residence of Mayor Corman, of Xenia, was destroyed by fire. It was insured, but not for its full value. The cause was a lamp in the parlor.

The fire in the residence of Mayor Corman, of Xenia, was destroyed by fire. It was insured, but not for its full value. The cause was a lamp in the parlor.

The fire in the residence of Mayor Corman, of Xenia, was destroyed by fire. It was insured, but not for its full value. The cause was a lamp in the parlor.

The fire in the residence of Mayor Corman, of Xenia, was destroyed by fire. It was insured, but not for its full value. The cause was a lamp in the parlor.

The fire in the residence of Mayor Corman, of Xenia, was destroyed by fire. It was insured, but not for its full value. The cause was a lamp in the parlor.

The fire in the residence of Mayor Corman, of Xenia, was destroyed by fire. It was insured, but not for its full value. The cause was a lamp in the parlor.

The fire in the residence of Mayor Corman, of Xenia, was destroyed by fire. It was insured, but not for its full value. The cause was a lamp in the parlor.

The fire in the residence of Mayor Corman, of Xenia, was destroyed by fire. It was insured, but not for its full value. The cause was a lamp in the parlor.

The fire in the residence of Mayor Corman, of Xenia, was destroyed by fire. It was insured, but not for its full value. The cause was a lamp in the parlor.

The fire in the residence of Mayor Corman, of Xenia, was destroyed by fire. It was insured, but not for its full value. The cause was a lamp in the parlor.

The fire in the residence of Mayor Corman, of Xenia, was destroyed by fire. It was insured, but not for its full value. The cause was a lamp in the parlor.

The fire in the residence of Mayor Corman, of Xenia, was destroyed by fire. It was insured, but not for its full value. The cause was a lamp in the parlor.

The fire in the residence of Mayor Corman, of Xenia, was destroyed by fire. It was insured, but not for its full value. The cause was a lamp in the parlor.

The fire in the residence of Mayor Corman, of Xenia, was destroyed by fire. It was insured, but not for its full value. The cause was a lamp in the parlor.

The fire in the residence of Mayor Corman, of Xenia, was destroyed by fire. It was insured, but not for its full value. The cause was a lamp in the parlor.

The fire in the residence of Mayor Corman, of Xenia, was destroyed by fire. It was insured, but not for its full value. The cause was a lamp in the parlor.

The fire in the residence of Mayor Corman, of Xenia, was destroyed by fire. It was insured, but not for its full value. The cause was a lamp in the parlor.

The fire in the residence of Mayor Corman, of Xenia, was destroyed by fire. It was insured, but not for its full value. The cause was a lamp in the parlor.

The fire in the residence of Mayor Corman, of Xenia, was destroyed by fire. It was insured, but not for its full value. The cause was a lamp in the parlor.

The fire in the residence of Mayor Corman, of Xenia, was destroyed by fire. It was insured, but not for its full value. The cause was a lamp in the parlor.

The fire in the residence of Mayor Corman, of Xenia, was destroyed by fire. It was insured, but not for its full value. The cause was a lamp in the parlor.

WANTED—WANTED. WANTED—WANTED. WANTED—WANTED.

REPUBLICAN. Never fails to cure any skin disease. It is the best remedy for all skin diseases.

REPUBLICAN. Never fails to cure any skin disease. It is the best remedy for all skin diseases.

REPUBLICAN. Never fails to cure any skin disease. It is the best remedy for all skin diseases.

REPUBLICAN. Never fails to cure any skin disease. It is the best remedy for all skin diseases.

REPUBLICAN. Never fails to cure any skin disease. It is the best remedy for all skin diseases.

REPUBLICAN. Never fails to cure any skin disease. It is the best remedy for all skin diseases.

REPUBLICAN. Never fails to cure any skin disease. It is the best remedy for all skin diseases.

REPUBLICAN. Never fails to cure any skin disease. It is the best remedy for all skin diseases.

REPUBLICAN. Never fails to cure any skin disease. It is the best remedy for all skin diseases.

REPUBLICAN. Never fails to cure any skin disease. It is the best remedy for all skin diseases.