REPUBLICAN NATIONAL TICKET. FOR PRESIDENT, JAMES G. BLAINE, of Maine.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION. It is ordered that a Convention of the State be held at Parkersburg on Wednesday, July 30, 1884.

There have been times in the history of the Republican party when it seemed that the people of that party had abdicated in favor of the politicians...

National conventions were able to defeat the politicians and their machine only by a stampede to somebody who had not been prominently in the field.

It is a noteworthy and memorable fact that the convention which nominated Garfield also placed the party on the highest plane of popular rule within the party.

It has been remarked that there was less ability in the convention of 1854 than in the conventions of other years.

What the convention lacked in brilliancy of oratory it made up in effective, representative work.

Professor Hughes explains the phenomena of magnetism by a simplification of the particles of iron.

Japan has a fishing population of 1,600,000. At their last National Fisheries Exhibition the Japanese showed 2,407 articles connected with fishing.

Mr. W. H. French, while praising the light obtained from electricity in a lecture delivered in London the other evening, strongly condemned electric lighting companies.

Nordenfledt thinks that it is necessary for England to make experiments to ascertain what her guns can do against foreign armor of solid steel and chilled iron.

A Woman on a Live Stock Reporter. Miss Middle Morgan, for a number of years a live stock reporter for the New York Times, has had rather an unusual life for a woman.

While in Calcutta, Dr. Koch, of the German Cholera Commission, found the cholera bacillus in the water of a tank from which many of the natives who had been afflicted with the Asiatic scourge had drawn their supplies of water for drinking and cooking purposes.

A committee of the Royal Medical and Chirurgical Society of London appointed to examine the micro-organisms forwarded by Dr. Straus, of the French Cholera Commission, reports an inability to discover any specific germs in them.

It is gratifying to learn that the electric railway at Portmah, Ireland, has proved both a scientific and financial success.

THE NOMINATION OF BLAINE. What a Democratic Newspaper Says About It - A Popular Choice.

The National Republican Convention yesterday elected Hon. James G. Blaine, of Maine, as the candidate of the party for the Presidency of the United States.

His nomination was therefore a popular one to the masses of the people, and was a victory for the party.

James G. Blaine was not born with a silver spoon in his mouth. As a boy he was compelled to battle with poverty, and in the hard-to-hand struggle with life had to push aside the arrogance which wealth invariably begets and wears.
