The Intelligencer:

WHEELING, W. VA., OCTOBER 14, 1887.

A Queer Proceeding Not long since the dispatches told of a remarkable sentence imposed on a Kangas drug clerk for selling beer. The definaer of the probibited beverage was ordered to gay a fine of $20,000 and under go an imprisonment of seventeen years in the penitentiary. The unbeard of severity of the sentence was interpreted tend that the liquor law should be triffled Now comes the intelligence that the condomned clerk has been liberated after spanding seventeen days in jall and paying a fine of $100. This statement is pretty. nearly beyond belief, but the accompanying explanation makes the story at least plausible. It is said that the clerk, at the suggestion of the Daputy Attorney General, entered a plea of guilty and was given the severe sentence to terrify others who might be disposed to break the law. If it be shown that such a dicker was been made, there will be more disgust than terror in Kansas.

The Knights of Labor have again declared themselves on the important subjeuts of strikes and boycotts. In their convention they have adopted the report of a committee containing this wholesome admonition: "Think before you strike and don't boycott when you can avoid it." The trouble has been that men have rushed into strikes that and done their thinking afterwards. Many a strike would never have taken place if the thinking had been done first. The way which settles a strike would often be found to preyent it if resorted to in the first place, au lit is always batter for both parties to a controversy to see whether they cannot so the their differences without a fight. This country has seen very few strikes that paid the strikers or, for that matter, anybody connected with them. The day will come when the strike will be regard ed as a method too rough and irrational for dealing with delicate business ques

"Don't boycott when you can avoid it," is another good motto. Faithfully adhered to, there would be no boycotts, for it is always possible to avoid a boycott. As to boycotta of the second and third and faurth removes-boycotts which are pushed through a whole community, affecting all industries and interests—the utterance might have been still more pronounced If a man or number of men choose to ab stein from dealing with a concern, that is a right which has been exercised from the beginning of trade. But this it very different from trying to coerce other men into the same thing and punishing them if they refuse to fall in with the movement. Againt this phase of the boycott American soutiment is very strong, and it is to be hoped that the country has had the last

The stand of the Knights of Labor is wisely taken and will strengthen the order in the public estimation.

Hanmering the Marriand Ring.

The letter of Mr. John K. Cowen recently published in the Baltimore Sun has get the ringeters of that city crazy. Unable to meet it squarely, they have been trying to make the people of Baltimore believe would seriously bejure the trade of that city. The Baltimore Sun itself said that Southern merchants would not deal with Baltimore if that city elected a Republican municipal government.

In a public speech Mr. Cowan takes up this point and handles it with great force. He deals with some other good points, as the following from his speech will show:

"The last expiring cry of a parly like succumb. The lady determined to try the succumb. The lady formed to the succumb. The lady control the succumb. The lady saying the bouttern trade will leave us, if we tell them Hodges was counted in and the men who have committed nearly all the crimes in the decalogue given office? Are southern people fools? The most sublimely, sainine argument is that about Southern people fools? The most sublimely, sainine argument is that about Southern trade. The man who utters it ought to have a writ de lunatice [quirendo gotten] on tagainst him. Gorman, lately in the New York Herald, gave the most diegusting exhibit of himself that a Senator of the United States ever made. You ought to see what a depth a United States Senator can fall. The attack he made on that the following from his speech will show: the Southern trade will leave us, if we tell them Hodges was counted in and the measure who have committed nearly all the crimes in the decalogue given office? Are Southern people fools? The most submitern people fools? The most submitern people fools? The most submitern trade. The man who utters it ought to have a writ de lunatice lequirendo getten outsgainthim. Gorman, lately in the New York Herald, gave the most disgusting exhibit of himself that a Senator of the United States ever nade. You cought to see what a depth a United States sever nade. You cought to see what a depth a United States senator can fall. The attack he made on that nobleat Roman of them all, Mr. Wallis, was infangues. It made my blood boil when I read the insinuations of a dirty démagogne like Arthur P. Gorman. In 1875 he said we were deleated by an overruing majority, and had been reproducing the same charges of fraud every alternate year since. For a colossal, imperial lie, commend me to that. Gorman is the only man for ten years who; aid ('e neversald it in this State, nor has he had the cheek to say in this city) that the election of 1875 was not fraudulent from beginning to end. He knows he organized a conspiracy in Barnaur's Hotel that made the police of this city participate in vicience, and that Rasin contessed the Reformers were counted out, and that Higgins confessed the build that when he get into the Superior Court office he was so hurried in taking out the ballots and patting in fresh, clean ones that they stack together, wet from the priting preen, and were found in chunks there. Gorman he to that they stack together, wet from the priting preen, and were found in chunks there. Gorman he he get into the Superior Court office he was so hurried in taking out the ballots and patting in fresh, clean ones that they stack together, wet from the priting preen, and were found in chunks there. Gorman he pet into the Superior Court office he was so hurried in taking out the ballots and patting in fresh, clean ones that they stack toge the tnan who did it, and yet in New York, where he is not known, dares to utter that slander, that importal lie. And yet I am to be told that with him in charge of this State, and Rasin as his lieutenant, I must trust to him and his cohorts for reform in our elections. When I'm asked that I feel like the old converted darky, who said to a wooden rocster up on a barn, "You needn't rocst so high, I'm done conwerted now."

Mr. Cowan knows what he is talking Mr. Cowen knows what he is talking about and he is not a Republican. It is to be hoped that the President is follow ing Mr. Cowen in his public letters and speeches, which are highly instructive.

IN NORTHERN DAKOTA. nething About a Rich Country-Splend

burrespondence of the Intelligences RUGBY, DAK., August 10,-Thinking that I might do some of my old friends a good turn, I have concluded to write you country around.

The order for organizing the county as a corporate body and the election of the collicers for the county was issued two days ago by the Government, so that within sixty days we will be in full operation as one of the counties, and not the least, of the great and grand Territory of Dakota. Our people are composed of almost all classes. We have Norwegians, Swedes, Irish, English, Scotch, and a great many from Causeds, many York State people, also from Eastern Sintea, some few from the Middle States and Western, like lows and Minnesota, and quite a number of our best neople come from the South, Virginia, Kentucky, Tannessee, &c.

Our town is young, you may truly say only started this spring, and to show you how the town stands to-day, I will say there are four hotels, one restaurant, four general stores, one hardware store, one drug store, two livery barne, two blacksmith shops, two churches, four saloons, two wheat elevators, and a goodly number of houses. All branches of industry are here represented.

The Hopp branch of the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway will undoubtedly be extended to this point next year, if not this, and connect with the Bottineau branch, se we now call it; there is also a great and strong possibility that the company will build a read from this point to Bismarck, the capitol of the Territory. The railroad people are very friendly to this town, and one reason is its necaliar location so regards the Tarle Mountains and the Cheyene river, with Devi's Lake. The town is at a point as iar east as any road coming from the upper Red River Valley or from Gentral, Southern or Southeastern Dakota or Minnesota can be run with proper economy. It is as far weat as any road coming from the ern or Southeastern Likota or Minnesota can be run with proper economy. It is so far weet as any road coming from the southweat or west, and dealring to go in an easterly direction can build with the least cost; consequently we have the prop-pect, and a good one, of being the greatest railroad centre of far Northern Dakota.

Now, as to the country round us: Our county is composed of thirty-two congressional townships, each six miles square. Eight of these townships are onrowed and have been in the market about a year, and though mostly settled ou, there are still a good many pieces of land that can be had for the caking. All the belance, viz, twenty-four townships of as time land as ever lay out doors, is unemptioned to the same of the caking and put his little shanty, 10x12, on 160 areas of God's land and mobody has a right. eres of Gor's land and nobody has a righ

There are some magnificent lands in the couthern portion of our county for alcok-raising. I was down about one week ago and drove over about one thousand acres of fine blue grase that reached to the buggy sexts. Some of these townships are to be grayward and not on the merket buggy seats. Some of these township are to be surveyed and put on the marke in a few days and there will be an awful rush for the lands.

The crop here has been harvested and the lowest estimate I have heard of the yield of wheat is twenty-three bushels to the scre. We have had no bed storms as there have been elsewhere and really no danger has been done to any crop.

I went out the other afternoon in company with a friend for a drive. We had a nice top buggy, and after driving about six miles I spied a garden, and after looking the thing over we concluded we would

A lady of this city whose little feet are always dentily abod, is also the unfortunate possessor of an obstinate and burning corn upon the smallest toe of her left foot. Ohiropodists had dug tunnels through that corn, yanked at it with nippers, smeared it with slinging olutments, and, in deapair, suggested amputation. The corn held the fort and successfully resisted the argusts of the heat two the Alla-California and, in despair, suggested amputation. The corn heid the fort and successfully reeinted the assaults of the best razor the

No such goods were ever before offered to the American public. They excel in quality and fineness of wool, in softness and delicacy of texture in the various weights, from the lightest summer quality to the heaviest for winter wear. And the peculiar mode of weaving the Stocknet of which they are all constructed, imparts an elasticity with life and freshness not to be found in goods of any other manufacture. The Natural Grey Wool is used, and being wholly undyed and of the finest quality, its softness recommends it to the most sensitive. Each garment is made double over the chest and abdomen, thus affording needed protection at all times to the vital organs and conducing to the general health.
