MR. BLAINE'S FRIEND

TALKS ABOUT HIS POSITION.

Charles Emory Smith thinks he will be Nominated and Elected—Doubtful States.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 6.—The Evening Call publishes to-day an interview with Charles Emory Smith, editor of the Press, on the probability of Mr. Blaine being the choice of the Republicans for their next Presidential candidate.

"What is the attitude of Mr. Blaine's friends concerning his candidacy?" was the first question asked.

"Do you think the conditions are favorable to Mr. Blaine's candidacy?"

"I am willing to leave that question to the Republicans of the States where the battle is to be fought. It takes 201 Electoral votes to elect. The Republicans are now 163. They must win thirty-three more to succeed."

"More than three-fourths of their delegates will be in the States where the battle is to be fought."

"Will not the opposition of papers like the New York Times, Harper's Weekly and the Evening Post make his strength doubtful in New York State and tend to defeat his nomination?"

"I do not believe that these papers will do much harm. Mr. Blaine lost New York by less than 1,100. In 1855 the Republicans nominated Mr. Davenport for Governor in order to secure the support of these papers."

"Do you think New York State can be won by the Republicans?"

"I do, with the right kind of a fight. If the Republicans will make a battle of it, they will win New York City, and begin it now I do not believe there can be any doubt of the result."

"There are those who have apprehensions concerning Mr. Blaine's policy, if he were elected. Is there any ground for these?"

"Not at all. On the contrary, his foreign policy should be a source of strength with all business elements, for it is conceived in their interests. Mr. Blaine made a contract with the Panama Canal by European powers, and in asserting the paramount rights of this country."

"Then you think Mr. Blaine will be nominated?"

"I think he will be if he concludes to yield to the prevailing policy of the party. It will not be by his own act or by the activity of any band of supporters, but by the general judgment of the Republicans that, surveying the whole field, it is the strongest thing they can do."

WASHINGTON NOTES.

Postoffice in West Virginia—An Old Trick Worked on a Preston County Man.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 6.—A new postoffice was established to-day at Lehigh, Hampshire county, and Jonathan H. Brill, appointed postmaster.

A. P. Beine, of Union, arrived to-day. Spencer E. Whitehan, of Terra Alta, was swindled out of twenty dollars last night at the Baltimore & Ohio depot by a con man.

The business public the whole country will prove a great economizer of time and money. It will take the place of the correspondence clerk and the private secretary.

"It caused me no little regret later to discover that this breach of the dignity of the Senate had been caused by Mr. Chamberlain of England."

Mr. Thobee followed Mr. Sypher, and spoke briefly. He said he came out of the shop to appear before the committee that it might see and know him, and that he might have an opportunity of making a personal statement of the facts in the case.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 6.—There was a full meeting of the House committee on Elections to-day to agree upon a line of procedure in the Thobee-Carlisle contest election case.

SERIOUS SITUATION

IN THE READING COAL REGION.

The Effects of the Great Strike Felt by Everybody—Strikers Pressing For Trade Resolutions to Frigate the Road into Complying With Their Demands.

READING, Pa., Jan. 6.—It is evident from the decreasing shipments down the railroad that the output of colliers in the Schuylkill region is growing less. During last night and up to noon to-day but 600 cars had passed down the road.

Mr. Thobee and his attorney charged that it was notorious in the vicinity that friends of Mr. Carlisle had induced the attorney originally employed by Thobee to neglect the proper means of gathering evidence in support of his charges.

SEVERE CRITICISMS.

New York Editors Seriously Object to Speaker Carlisle's Work.

New York, Jan. 6.—In regard to the committee of the House the Times to-day says:

"Considering how long he has been about it, the work of the Speaker cannot be said to be very well done, and its outcome is not altogether encouraging."

The conservative and leading element of the Knights is opposed to complicating the present situation and endanger possible negotiations by connecting the railroads' strike with that of the miners.

THE BEACH OF PROMISE CASE

Of Campbell vs. Arbuckle—Some More Interesting Letters Read in Court—Arbuckle's Fondness for Abreastening Terms of Tenderness—Evidence in.

New York, Jan. 6.—The great breach of promise suit of Miss Clara Campbell against Charles Arbuckle, the well known coffee merchant, again crowded Part 4 of the Supreme Court this morning.

The fair plaintiff was on hand with her father and mother, and again took the stand.

The defendant was late. Miss Campbell's testimony was unimportant, as she could only remember that the engaged counsel in April, 1884, and didn't know why some of her letters had been omitted in court.

Judge Beach denied the motion, holding that breach of contract could be made in oral as well as in written words. The jury must settle the question. Mr. Parsons began the opening speech for the defense. He rehearsed the case thoroughly, holding that Arbuckle was always affectionate and true till the suit was brought.

Parsons drew a lot of letters copied in a book, and read them. Arbuckle's health during her visit to Washington.

The first dated New York, January 21, 1883, was full of affectionate terms, and urged her to take care of herself, referring to his own health. It concluded with "H's" and "A's" and "K's" and "M's" and "N's" and "O's" and "P's" and "Q's" and "R's" and "S's" and "T's" and "U's" and "V's" and "W's" and "X's" and "Y's" and "Z's" and "A's" and
