FOR COUNTY OFFICERS, THOMAS C. MOFFAT, PROSECUTING ATTORNEY. JOSEPH D. ELSON, CLERK.

CITY—THOMAS M. JONES, COUNTY—A. A. SCHULTZ. Look out for the Free Trade boodlers. They are on the war path.

Mr. Secretary Bayard's laurels are to be handed down to posterity they must get pretty soon, or they will wilt.

EXHORTATION having failed to turn back the tide, the resort now is to money to hold West Virginia in the Free Trade column.

The money of Democratic office-holders is being carried through this State to defeat Protection. Look out for the boodlers!

WEST VIRGINIA is for Protection and will vote for Protection unless the money of the Free Traders can be successfully used.

CHAIRMAN BRICE suggests that Mr. Stephen B. Elkins is the author of the Marchion letter to the British Minister, which shrewd document brought out the Burcharth letter of that high British functionary.

Mr. Elkins is a shrewd man, but what difference does it make who is the author of the Marchion letter? Lord Saville West is the author of his letter and he told no more than the people knew before. It is the telling the truth by the British Minister that hurts.

The Liquor Traffic in Two States. It affords the INTELLIGENCER pleasure to give to Mr. Dave D. Johnson the "one word more" for which he asks; and to answer those of his questions which seem to call for an answer.

(1) The object of Mr. Hart's inquiry in Maine was to discover, if possible, whether prohibition in Maine has been any better than local option in West Virginia.

(2) It was not necessary to go to Maine to discover that the local option law is not enforced in West Virginia, and, particularly, that the traffic is freely carried on in Wheeling on Sunday. Neither is it necessary to make any special record in Wheeling to find flagrant violation of the Sunday law; this fact is notorious, and the columns of the INTELLIGENCER show that it is not unknown to this newspaper, which has demanded enforcement of the law and found in public opinion but a feeble response.

(3) The per capita consumption of liquor in Maine cannot be accurately determined, for much of it is charged against Massachusetts and some against New Hampshire. The report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue for 1887 shows that in Maine 919 persons paid the retail dealers' special tax, while in West Virginia the number was 750, the population of Maine in that year being less than the population of West Virginia.

(4) The fact that there is not a distillery or brewery in Maine proves nothing more than that the malt and spirituous beverages consumed in that State are produced elsewhere. It remains to be shown that "outside of the few cities referred to" in Maine drunkenness is a less prevalent vice in Maine than in West Virginia.

(5-6) The endorsement of prohibition in Maine by both the old parties in that State, the adoption by the people of the prohibitory amendment to the constitution, the favorable testimony of prominent men, shows nothing more than what the INTELLIGENCER believes to be true, viz, that prohibition is accepted as the settled policy of the State, and, further, that it is credited with much that should be accounted for by the general national improvement in this regard, just as in other States local option is given credit which largely belongs to the people themselves. It does not follow, of course, that nothing has been, or is to be, accomplished by law. This question for thinking, moral men is whether more is to be gained on one line of legislation than on another, on the line prohibition than on the line of license. The INTELLIGENCER does not presume to say that Maine would do better to abandon her effort to prohibit and try to band her local option. The INTELLIGENCER doubts the wisdom of abandoning local option for prohibition in West Virginia; and this, largely, because there is no more reason why prohibition should be enforced in the cities of West Virginia than in the cities of Maine.

The INTELLIGENCER is aware of the point made by all Third Party men—that the prohibitory law cannot be enforced until a party built up on that issue is placed in power. A thing is not changed by changing its name. A Third Party in Maine or in West Virginia would draw its material from the old parties. The human nature of the men drawn into the Third Party would not change with their changed political affiliations. The same men would not be more courageous or more vigilant as Third Party men than they had been as Republicans or Democrats.

(8) The public sentiment that is heard in conventions, whether Democratic, Republican or Prohibitionist, is, as Mr. Johnson is aware, quite a different thing from the public sentiment which sits comfortably by its fireside and lets the law take care of itself.

(9) The West Virginia liquor law—by no means a perfect contrivance—is not enforced in Wheeling because no public sentiment in Wheeling does not require it to be enforced. The Third Party men themselves in Wheeling make no effort to enforce the liquor law whether on week days or on Sunday.

A SUMMARY OF THE ELECTION LAWS. At every election the polls shall be opened as soon as practicable after sunrise, but not before sun rise, and shall be closed at sun set.

A voter must have resided in the State one year next preceding the time he offers to vote. He must be a resident for sixty days of the county in which he offers to vote. He must vote in the municipal district in which he resides. He must be twenty-one years of age and of sound mind, not a pauper, not under conviction of treason, felony or bribery at an election.

No person in the military, marine or naval service of the United States shall be deemed a resident of this State by reason of being stationed therein; nor shall any person in the employ of any incorporated company of this State, or deemed a resident of any county, or of any district therein, by reason of being employed in said county or district.

No foreigner can vote unless naturalized according to the laws of the United States. Under the statutes passed February 25, 1887, important amendments were added to our election laws:

If any person vote, knowingly, an illegal vote, or vote more than once at the same election, or knowingly vote, or attempt to vote, more than once for the same office, or on the same question; or procure, or assist in procuring a bad vote, to be cast at said election, knowing the same to be bad; or a good vote to be rejected, or knowing the same to be good, or with intent to deceive any voter, or furnish him a ballot, and inform him, or in any way deceive him as to the names of candidates printed or written thereon; or alter said ballot of such ballot, or changing the name of any candidate, without the wish or knowledge or consent of said voter, so as to defeat the intention and purpose of said voter, and thereby make him vote for persons he never intended, shall be punished as hereinafter provided.

All changes to be made of names on tickets issued by the parties whose candidates are to be voted for, and whose names must be printed in black ink, and set in Roman type, such change of names must be made in red ink and printed.

It shall be unlawful to print or circulate, or cause the same to be done, any tickets not authorized by the parties whose tickets have printed on them the names of the regularly nominated candidates for the offices for which they have been nominated, and leaving of any of the names of the candidates on said tickets, without leaving a space of at least one-tenth of an inch, and running across said tickets to insert such names on said tickets if desired by the voter.

No person shall, on election day, within sixty feet of the voting place, request another person to exhibit or disclose the contents of his ballot which such person intends to vote.

Any person having inspected and furnished a voter with a ticket, and accompanies such voter within sixty feet of said voting place, while said voter is on his way to the polls for the purpose of voting, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and be punished as provided in this statute.

Any person who shall call a voter back after he has approached within sixty feet of any voting place for the purpose of voting, and shall inspect or change said ballot, or shall offer or give such a voter another or different ballot, shall be guilty of misdemeanor and punished as provided in this statute.

No ticket or ballot shall, on the day of election, be given or delivered to, or received by any person within sixty feet of the voting place, except to the Commissioners of Election at the ballot box.

Youth's Companion. The next issue of the Youth's Companion will contain the article, written expressly for that periodical by Mr. Gladstone, on "The Future of the English-Speaking Races." The extraordinary versatility of the great statesman receives a most pertinent illustration, in that although it deals with the subject in a philosophical spirit, it is so simple and clear in style that even young readers can understand and enjoy it.

SHILOH'S VITALIZER is what you need for Constipation, Loss of Appetite, Dizziness, and all symptoms of Dyspepsia. Price 10 and 75 cents per bottle.

Croup, Whooping Cough and Bronchitis immediately relieved by Shiloh's Cure.

This Rev. George H. Thayer, of Bourne, Ind., says: "Both myself and wife own our lives to Shiloh's Consumption Cure. Sold by W. E. Williams and C. Menkeniller."

SLEEPLESSNESS is generally caused by a derangement of the stomach and bowels. To enjoy refreshing sleep it is necessary that the larger organs of the body should properly perform their functions. Adults as well as children sometimes eat too much supper or something that does not agree with them, producing INDIGESTION. A Dose of Simmons' Liver Regulator will give prompt relief and insure refreshing sleep.

My wife having suffered a long time with indigestion, nervousness, and having tried everything recommended without benefiting her, was finally advised to try Simmons' Liver Regulator, and it has acted like a charm. After taking one bottle she recovered her health, and bought a half-dozen. My wife is now in the enjoyment of excellent health. We keep the Regulator in the house as a family medicine, and recommend it to all our friends. W. C. HESSING, Wheeling, W. Va.

Examine to see that you get the genuine. Distinguished from all imitations by our red & black Trade Mark on front of wrapper, and on the seal and signature of W. E. Williams & C. No. 219 W. Va. Ave.

SPECIAL NOTICES. FITZ'S—All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. This is the first day of use. Marvellous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to 911 cents. Send to Dr. Kline, 535 Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

THIRD PARTY POINTS. Mr. Dave D. Johnson Makes Some Criticisms and Asks Some Questions. To the Editor of the Intelligence.

Sir:—I have read with interest the letters of Charles Burdette Hart, concerning prohibition in Maine. Heretofore they have been kind enough to admit to your columns communications pro and con upon this question now before the people of West Virginia. Won't you, therefore, allow me just one word more?

(1) Nobody has claimed that the Maine law is thoroughly, or even fairly enforced in Portland and a few other places. Neither is our own partially prohibitory law enforced in the city of Wheeling.

(2) If Mr. Hart would start out some Sunday afternoon in Wheeling, it is barely possible he would find as many places where he could buy liquors as he found in Portland on a week day.

But let every reader of the INTELLIGENCER, place over against these violations of a righteous law, a few facts:

(3) The consumption of liquors per capita in Maine is less than in any other State, except perhaps, South Carolina.

(4) There is not a distillery or brewery operating in Maine.

Outside of the few cities referred to, drunkenness is almost unknown, and the people waste nothing for liquors.

(5) For twenty years past the Republicans of Maine have never failed in their State conventions to endorse the prohibitory law. Even the Democrats have frequently endorsed it. After many years experience with prohibition under statutory law, the people in 1884 put it into their State Constitution by an overwhelming majority.

(6) The leading Republicans of the State have repeatedly given their unqualified public endorsement. James G. Blaine only a few days ago in one of his speeches in Maine gave like testimony in a recent letter in the New York Tribune. These facts ought to be sufficient to outweigh the evident purpose of Mr. Hart's letters.

(7) I need not suggest how forcibly these letters emphasize the necessity for a Prohibition party. A very responsible gentleman in Maine makes the following public declaration and challenges an investigation as to the fact. If found untrue he will pay a forfeit of two hundred dollars: "Nine-tenths of the host of ram-sellers of Portland, Bangor and other Maine cities, vote the Republican ticket and contribute immense amounts of money to the Republican campaign fund. As a reward, they are allowed to openly and boldly carry on their work of ruining our young men, breaking up our homes, and consuming the very life of the Nation."

Portland, Bangor and Cincinnati are all under Republican rule. Other cities might be mentioned under Democratic control. Why is the law not enforced?

(8) If public sentiment is sufficient to secure enforcement in conventions, why not in city councils and police courts?

(9) Why is the West Virginia liquor law not enforced in Wheeling? Can Mr. Hart write up these conundrums? DAYE D. JOHNSON. Parkersburg, W. Va., Oct. 31.

WARNER'S LOG CABIN REMEDIES.—"Sarsaparilla," "Cough and Consumption Remedy," "Worm Expeller," "Hair Tonic," "Liver Pills," "Pile Remedy," "Pain Expeller," "Rose Cream," for Catarrh. They are, like Warner's "Tippecanoe," the simple, effective remedies of the old Log Cabin days.

DRINK Malto, it is pleasant. Oh! What a Flopper. Edw. L. Rose & Co. have flopped off the long rope charged for Sewing Machines, and adopted an entire new system of selling. No canvassers employed. The agent's commission given to the customer. Round advertisement on the outside. "How you can save from $15 to $25."

Could Hear a Tick Crawl. Mr. C. E. Hall writes from Shelby, Ala., February 2, 1887: "I could not hear a tick crawl in my ears. I had used two bottles, and now I can hear a tick crawl in the leaves."

"Gave Up to Die." KNOXVILLE, TENN., July 2, 1887. I have had catarrh of the head for six years. I went to a noted doctor and he treated me for it, but could not cure me. He said, "I have only fifty cents left, and I will give it to you if you will try my medicine." I had a distressing cough; my eyes were swollen and I am confident could not have lived without a change. I sent for your medicine, and it cured me. I am now well and happy. My wife and I are both well. I am now well and happy. My wife and I are both well.

A Preacher Cured of Dyspepsia. MICOVILLAGE, Fla., Leon Co., July 10, 1886. I have been a sufferer from Indigestion and dyspepsia for a long time, and have tried many remedies, but until I had your medicine, I could not get any relief, but since using it I have found more relief and comfort than I had ever before. I am now well and happy. My wife and I are both well. I am now well and happy. My wife and I are both well.
