The Circuit Court in Part 1 of the Circuit Court, before Judge Pauli, the habeas corpus proceedings in the case of Hiram Burkett against Margaret Burkett, for the custody of an infant child, was terminated after having been in course of hearing for several days. These probabilities are that more glass men will exhibit their samples in this city during the coming month. There were last January, at the Monongahela House, at Pittsburgh, which has been the headquarters of the glass house representatives for years past, will not be open to them this season, by reason of the recent fire.

AN OLD RESIDENT GONE. Joseph T. Norton Passed Away After Years of Suffering. Many old business and personal friends will read with regret the news this morning of the death yesterday of Mr. Joseph T. Norton. Mr. Norton had lived in this community since boyhood, although he was an Englishman by birth.

He was originally a clerk in a wholesale dry goods store of Boylston & O'Brien, and afterwards became associated with W. B. Simpson and the late John E. Wilson in the same business. He disposed of his interest in the Central in 1875, and went into business at Baltimore, but only remained there a short time and returned here again to become a bookkeeper at one time and another in several business concerns.

Some two or three years ago he was attacked with a cancerous affection of the tongue. Last spring his condition became such that it was necessary for him to undergo a painful operation at the West Hill Hospital in Pittsburgh, at which time the entire tongue had to be taken out. Two months later he was found necessary to remove the chin bone. Mr. Norton bore his suffering with fortitude, and his death was a relief to his family.

Death of George B. Swift. Mr. George B. Swift died at an early hour Saturday morning, at the residence of his wife, Mrs. J. M. Swift, on North Main street, from heart failure, after an illness of about two weeks. The deceased was formerly salesman for the Central glass company, of this city, and had been in the employ of that company for several years.

Death of a Former Wheelingite. Mr. M. W. Eshels, a native of this city, died at Pittsburgh yesterday. The deceased was a son of the late Henry Eshels, and a brother of Mrs. J. D. Stanton. He left here many years ago, having previously studied law and attained to the rank of a judge in the State of Ohio. He was a man of high character and was highly respected in his community.

Holmes Still in Ohio. Chief of Police DeLorge returned yesterday from Pomeroy, Ohio, where he went on Friday with a resolution to Ed Holmes, the young man who made away with one of John Dumas' ponies recently. The Chief did not, however, bring him back, because the Ohio people would not allow him to be taken. By some form of Ohio law a prisoner, before he can be taken from the State, even on a requisition, must be taken before the court, and given a show-up which he should be taken. The Chief had but little knowledge of the case, and was not expecting such a turn of affairs. He succeeded, however, in having the man held under $500 more in bail, and will take Mr. Dumas to Pomeroy with him to identify and testify against the prisoner.

The Y. M. C. A. New Year's Reception. Preparations have been made for a happy time at the Y. M. C. A. on New Year's eve, when the Association will hold its open house. No pains have been spared to make the day as delightful as in previous years. A committee from the Woman's Union Benevolent Society will provide and serve refreshments in the hall, and the ladies will be in readiness to receive calls at 8 o'clock, and arrangements for special entertainment throughout the evening will have been made.

To-Night's Charity Concert. The Old Folks' Concert to be given at the Opera House to-night, under the auspices of the Cathedral Ladies Aid Society, for the benefit of the poor of the city, is going to be a very largely attended affair, and those who are not provided with seats will do well to go early if they desire standing room. There are a few good seats left, but they will probably be reserved at Baumer's at an early hour.

The Glass Smiths' Conference. The scale committee of the Associated Glass Workers' Union and the American Flint Glass Workers' were in conference at Pittsburgh Friday and Saturday of last week, over the proposed changes in the scale for 1891, which is slated to be in effect for 1891. While there has been much discussion over the changes there has been little or nothing definitely settled. Some of the changes proposed have a wide range of radicalism, but both sides express confidence that the conference will result in an amicable agreement by mutual concessions.

Notes About the River. The Louis A. Surley left the wharf yesterday morning for Cincinnati. The Galois passed up en route to Pittsburgh yesterday. There will be no Cincinnati packet today. The river was falling at this point last evening with a depth of 12 feet 10 inches in the channel.

At Hogan's Tabernacle. Three splendid meetings were held in Hogan's Tabernacle, on Saturday afternoon the Sunday School occupied the house, and the meeting, to use Mr. Hogan's words, was "very fine." THE WAYMAN KIDNAPING CASE. An Interesting Continuation Saturday—The Mother Again Has the Child. Saturday there was an interesting continuation of the account published in Saturday's issue of the kidnaping of the Wayman kidnaping sensation, and the conclusion has not yet been reached.

Saturday morning Samuel Sawyer, of Moundsville, father of Mrs. James Wayman, the mother of the four-year-old boy who was taken from her Friday afternoon and brought to this city by his father, came to Wheeling, and going before Justice Davis, swore out a warrant for Albert Wayman, a brother of James Wayman, charging him with kidnaping the child in question. Albert Wayman was soon afterwards arrested by a patrolman released on giving a $500 bond for his appearance before the Justice at 2 o'clock this afternoon for a preliminary hearing.

Mr. Sawyer also called on Hon. G. L. Cramer and made preparations to apply for a writ of habeas corpus to determine the proper possession of the child. He might have saved himself a great deal of trouble, however, for his daughter, Mrs. Wayman, followed him to this city on a way train and regained possession of her child in question. Albert Wayman was soon afterwards arrested by a patrolman released on giving a $500 bond for his appearance before the Justice at 2 o'clock this afternoon for a preliminary hearing.

Mr. Albert Wayman pleads incompetency to any willful complicity in the matter of the kidnaping of the child. He claims that when he went to call on Mrs. Wayman at Moundsville, Friday afternoon, on reaching this city went to the corner of Jacob and Twenty-seventh streets where Wayman's sister lives, and where the child was left and found the child playing on the sidewalk snatched it up and hurrying away boarded an electric car for Benwood. This occurred about noon and two hours later she and the child were at her father's home in Moundsville.

Yesterday's Weather. This section of the country was visited yesterday by another spell of peculiar and unseasonable weather. In the morning and the early part of the afternoon the air was as balmy as that of spring, while a strong but soft wind blew from the south. About noon threatening clouds began to gather across the heavens and there was a feeling of rain in the air. About two hours later the wind shifted a little to the west and the indications of rain began to brighten. At 5 o'clock the clouds were so thick that it became quite dark and the wind blew furiously. At 5:30 a furious rain and wind storm broke out, and lasted till 8 o'clock. The streets were flooded and several chimney pots were blown from roofs. It was a storm in which no umbrella could survive and those who were unfortunate enough to be caught out in it were struck to the skin. After the storm, the sunlit of the day gave way to a small cold wave that was gratefully appreciated.
