For a Nomination for Congress in the First District.

LEAVES IT TO PENDLETON

Wheeling before the Senate Committee on the Pottery and Steel Schedules--Hon. W. P. Hubbard's Visit to Washington.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.—To a correspondent of the INTELLIGENCER Col. Ben Wilson replied to inquiries as follows: "Yes," said Col. Ben Wilson today, "I have resigned my position in the Department of Justice to take effect on the first of July, but the Attorney General has given me a month's leave of absence with pay, which will continue my connection with the Department until the first of August. I have two or three schemes in view which promise me a pecuniary point of view. No, I had not thought about it. My understanding is that the Democratic candidate again, and Atkinson will be nominated by the other side, and they will fight the fight over again. The Democrats want me to come back in the fall and try a case for the government."

"I will be located here a part of the time, and a part at my home at Clarksville, Va., my retirement from my present place is entirely voluntary. If it had not been I do not think the Attorney General would have given me a month's leave of absence. I will come up again later and maybe I'll tell you more about my future plans."

Pottery Schedules Reduced.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Mr. E. M. Pearson, of Wheeling, and Mr. Homer Laughlin, of East Liverpool, left for home this morning. The Senate Finance Committee has lowered its rates on pottery 5 per cent lower than the McKinley bill fixed it, and these gentlemen have been endeavoring to have the rates fixed at the higher rate. It is understood, however, that they received no encouragement.

In a Letter to Representative Payson.

A copy of which is enclosed with the Secretary's communication, the Commissioners of the General Land Office call attention to the fact that within the last six months over 60,000 more land entries have been filed than in any previous year. To dispose of these entries will require the most diligent work on the part of the whole office for many months, providing no further entries are received. To dispose of the number of entries received will be increased by the establishment of several new offices, and the arrearages will probably remain for an indefinite period, unless a protective bill is passed, and compelling the interests of settlers, and causing them much hardship, expense and inconvenience.
